

DAILY DEMOCRAT.

WATERLOO.

Soda water is plentiful, cool and sparkling once more, after so long being covered over. No doubt the people have been waiting patiently, but now it is open to the public.

Mr C B Montague, wife and son Robert are spending a few days of recreation at this place and enjoying the soda water.

Two camps have been landed on the camp ground this week.

We noticed Mr Gross working on the spring on Wednesday last. We learned afterwards he was cementing the crevices around the rocks to keep fresh water out, which improved the spring very much.

Waterloo was thronged with people from various parts of the neighboring cities on Sunday, who gathered here to hear the excellent music of the Brownsville band and drink soda. We do give praise to this new band, and it deserves it too.

We have counted 57 loads of lumber that have crossed this bridge within the last week of April and the first week of June.

The next holiday to celebrate is the Fourth of July. Everybody should remember Waterloo will celebrate in grand style and to the best of our ability. We hope to have a good time and we extend a cordial invitation to all. I understand arrangements have been made for the best of music.

Hope these few items will be of interest to your readers, as it has been some time since items have appeared in our excellent county paper, the DEMOCRAT.
