

DAILY DEMOCRAT.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

To what extent is the state fair run in the interest of the whole people? To what extent in the interest of Portland fast horsemen? asks a Salem paper; and the Man About Town asks to what extent purely in the interest of Salem hotel keepers, saloons and restaurants? The state fair is about as much for the whole people as pineapples.

Get a man into a place that is too large for him and he is bound to rattle, says an exchange, evidently referring to the editor of the Oregonian. Few men, though, anywhere, rattle more successfully than Harvey, who has built up a great paper different from every other paper in the world, including the Pekin Gazette; but as a newspaper unsurpassed.

There is lots of blow and bluster in this world, a fact suggested by numerous base ball games between men who have not touched a ball for years.

The Man About Town observes that a larger number of nice residences are being built in Albany this year than ever before, a fact that affords much satisfaction to observe.

In an interview with the Rochester Union (Dem.) Bob Ingersoll says: "I believe in protecting what are called the infant industries, but after these infants get to be six feet high and wear No 12 boots it is about time to stop rocking the cradle, especially when the 'infant' tells you that if you stop rocking he will get out of the cradle and kick your head off."

Not many books begin their existence in print with an edition of 50,000 copies. This is one distinction of a volume which is coming out in England—the autobiography of James Berry, the public executioner. One chapter is entitled "Men and Women I Have Executed."

Enervates the system, reduces the vitality, and weakens the energies. In this condition, the body readily falls a victim to disease. Fortify the system against these debilitating influences, by taking Dr. Hiller's Hydrastine Restorative. It enables the nutritive system to absorb sufficient nourishment to keep the body vigorous and healthy, and in a fit condition to resist disease.
