LOCAL RECORD

FRUIT.—An Ashland man tells the Democrat that at that city there is a much larger demand for fruit than kinds than the supply, and an unlimited amount could be sold. He wonders why people here and from other places do not raise fruit. He says that in the fruit country they will, in grapes, peaches and apples they can take a fruit, and in some cases will plant a tree for a fruit. He says that in the fruit country they will, in grapes, peaches and apples they can take a fruit, and in some cases will plant a tree for a fruit.

HEAVY RAIN.—Col. T. C. Smith, of Salem, well-known in Albany, is now doing Europe. In writing home from Ireland he says: "What I have seen of the Emerald Isle I do not wonder at Irishmen having a tender spot under their vests for the dear old island. Everything is very beautiful and quaint, though showing great age; but in most cases everything is built so solidly that the ravages of centuries make little impression. I have ridden on a jaunting car and heard the 'Bells of Shandon,' that sound so grand on the pleasant waters of the River Liffey."

ANOTHER COAL MINE.—J. W. Bishop, residing ten miles east of Lebanon on Hamilton creek, brought to this office some fine coal croppings. Experienced coal miners have examined the ground and the outcroppings, and pronounce it the most promising of anything they have seen in this part of the state. One gentleman told Mr. Bishop that he thought a rich vein of coal could be struck at a depth of fifty feet. What we need, and must have, if Oregon ever takes rank as a mineral state, is men to develop our resources. Mr. Bishop offers to give a one-half interest to any man who will develop the mines.—Express.

A GIRL EDITOR.—Miss Andrea Hofer, a girl of twenty, is editor of the McGregor, Ia. News. She carries on the paper herself, doing all the editorial and nearly half of the mechanical work. She has worked in the office since she was ten years old, and has graduated out of every department. Her helpers, a boy and girl, both younger than herself, set the correspondence and clippings. The editorials, notes, reviews, etc., Miss Hofer sets in type as she thinks them out, her time being too precious to write them.—The Household. Miss Hofer is now a resident of Salem and does some of the writing for the Journal, one of the five best papers that comes to our office.

NOW THAT Portland is to have a recent her citizens should make immediate effort to secure the services of the Albany enumerators.—Wasco Sun.

By all means. They would do a good honest job of it, and would charge regular rates. Right here it may be said that there was not a fairer enumeration in Oregon than in Albany.

Too High.—During the last ten years the amount paid out by insurance companies in Albany was, on an estimate, less than $15,000. More than that is paid yearly on premiums. With our facilities for fighting fire and our splendid department, the rate should be less than it is.

FAST DRIVING.—Last Warning.—Hereafter any person or persons caught driving within the city limits faster than prescribed by ordinance of the city, will be arrested and punished according to the provisions of such ordinance.

JOHN HOFFMAN, City Marshal.

QUITE ASTONISHING.—Probably the largest and finest line of fruits, vegetables, etc., ever brought to Albany, may be seen at J. F. Powell & Co., just in from California. For peaches, apricots, pine apples, berries, etc. Call on them.

HOLMES BUSINESS COLLEGE, of Portland, Or., will open Sept. 1st. J. A. Wesco, the leading penman of the coast, has become a partner in this school and will make it the leading business college. Send for a catalogue.

LEBANON. J. N. Banta, of Little River, Kansas, has been here only a month, and is so well pleased with the country that he started back to Kansas last Saturday for his family. A month's sojourn in this state will convince the average man of the superiority of this over other states.

Our young friend J. R. Wagon, who has spent two years in the law office of J. K. Weatherford, manipulated a suit at law in Lebanon last Saturday with all the skill of an old practitioner. We predict for "Rags" a successful career.

Verney Smith, Miss Scott's deputy, was arrested a prisoner about town this week. Was a short of stature, but like Zerkow of old, he managed to get what is necessary about him.

Rad Hays, Ed. Keeler and Charles Gentry and their large family are now in Lebanon. J. D. Langer of Eugene, was the guest of the Lebanon family. The family is large, and the Lebanon family is large.

A GOOD COMPANY.—Miss Essie Tittle, whose company appears at the Opera House next Monday is a hard-working and painstaking actress, ambitious and zealous in her profession. Nothing she attempts is badly done. She speaks the lines with an evident comprehension of their sense and invests the character with her sense and pathos that carries with her the sympathies of the audience. Minnie Tittle and the remainder of the company are all that could be desired in their respective parts.

FUNERAL POSTPONED.—On account of a failure to connect with the S. P. train at Portland, the funeral of Mrs. C. P. Burkhardt will take place tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. C. G. Burkhardt.

BARTLETT PEARS.—I am agent for the Salem cannery and prepared to buy all the Bartlett pears brought to me in a condition to ship. Parties having pears to sell will do well to see me.

OVER THE BAR AT LAST.—One hundred and fifty men were employed shoveling coal at the bar so as to get the steamer Willamette Valley to get the fine fruits and vegetables for Muller & Garrett.

MEALS.—Two good meals for sale. Call on G. W. Simpson, Albany, Or.

OUR POPULATION.—Business is often an indication of the population of a city. Judging from the number who rush into Conn & Henderson's for groceries, Albany is the largest city in the valley. This firm keeps a first-class stock of groceries and fresh produce, a fact generally appreciated by a large trade. For berries, fruits, vegetables, canned goods, to be sure, grocery ware, etc., call on them and get bargains.

LADIES SUMMER DRESSES.—The latest styles, just received from California, by express.

There is money made attending to business, just so it is your own.

An Albany man says there are two sides to every question, the wrong side and his side.

It never rains but it pours. Things go by spurts in this world. Men, boys and women have their days. Some have had a bad cut in Albany and swimming is ending off, but summer resorting is in full blast.

A Walla Walla mother, traveling with her infant child, a tale the following letter to her husband, a tale the following letter to her husband, a tale the following letter to her husband.

This is a Eugene Register story: "It is strange what ideas some people have. A few days ago a fellow from the country stepped up to J. F. Robinson and said he had noticed that there was a powerful light, glowing in the night, but he couldn't see how they got the oil in. Robinson kindly told him that by means of the pulley on the wire above they could let it down, put in the oil and run it up again. He was satisfied and went on, believing that oil made the light."

Walla Walla has a Poo-Bah who beats the record. The Statesman says: "It is not generally known that John H. Bentley, of the Stine House, has been admitted as a practicing attorney. He holds two regular certificates which admitted him to practice in all the courts of Dakota and Iowa. He has also been a physician, an editor, a real estate agent and owner of several banks. Appearances are sometimes deceiving."

Charlie Nye is the subject of an unfortunate circumstance. While camping on Mill creek Tuesday evening his family were startled by a sudden rustling of the bushes in near vicinity of the camp and a large black brute, supposed to be a bear, could be indistinctly seen through the intervening shrubbery. Charlie rushed to the rescue with his trusty rifle, and taking careful aim, sent a bullet into the heart of the monster. Upon examination of the carcass it proved to be a peaceful cow which belonged to a neighboring farmer who now claims damages.—Walla Walla Statesman.

AN EXAMPLE.—A man was fined in Boonsville last Saturday for driving through the principal streets at a speed faster than six miles an hour, and the owner of the team feels much elated over this last, best record of his donkey span. The mules have been in training for some time, having occupied a pasture along side of the narrow gauge; here is where they caught the spirit of the winds.—Express.
