

LOCAL RECORD

CRICK COUNTY MURDER.—Last Friday afternoon John Flock shot and killed George K Chamberlain on the last place, about five miles from Mitchell, Douglas creek, Chamberlain and Flock have places adjoining and their houses about 200 yards apart. To get into Chamberlain's house he had to pass through a gate near Flock's house. On evening of the shooting Chamberlain was walking toward his house from the gate. It is claimed, shot Flock's dog, when it fired three shots at him, all of which had effect in Chamberlain's head and causing almost instant death. Flock immediately went to Mitchell and surrendered to the justice of the peace.—Re-

AN OLD TIMER.—A well known real estate company of this place, says the Oregon Journal, bought a tract of land a few miles from the city one day this week. The purchase was concluded the owner of the land company presented a gentleman who had sold the land in greenbacks in payment for the property, when to his surprise the man said, "that are them?" The treasurer informed him that they were greenbacks. "Any?" said Mr.—, "I don't want 'em." He always been used to gold and did not want anything about them things, but I see two brothers-in-law up here and it says they are all right 'til take 'em." He was informed by his friends that the bills were good so he finally concluded to take them.

A NEW BUSINESS HOUSE.—Mr. T. L. Wallace, now of the real estate firm of Wallace & Cusick, and William Cowan, ex-Mayor Cowan, have formed a partnership and will soon open a clothing, finishing goods and boot and shoe house, they have rented the store in the Strahan block, now occupied by the Sunnyside room, which will be entirely remodeled and arranged in metropolitan style for the sale of goods which they will be going on. The firm name will be T. L. Wallace & Co. Both are rustling, popular young men.

AFTER A CONVICT.—John or Hal Miller, squin Miller's son, was in the city Saturday evening on his way from the State penitentiary to parts unknown. He was discovered and recognized by Policeman McClain, who attempted to catch him; he ran like a deer, McClain fired his gun, but failed to bring down the jail bird, who made his escape and went toward Lebanon, in which direction he was seen Sunday. The chase in Albany was quite an exciting one.

NEARLY A COLLISION.—A few days ago there came near being a collision at the Lebanon Junction. A freight train passing just as the Lebanon train pulled out squeezed up against the latter causing considerable friction. It seems to be the general opinion that this Lebanon Junction switch should be removed and the Lebanon branch track built direct to the depot in this city. In the long run this could be an advantage to the railroad company as well as the public.

A BETTER TUNE.—It is reported, that I Blair and his associates are behind the "Albany and Astoria" railroad, the survey of which is just being finished, the assurance of Mr. Barr, the engineer in charge of the survey, that the work of grading will be commenced this year, may be verified shortly by actual operations. Mr Blair and his associates are large bondholders and stockholders of the Oregon Pacific.—Statesman.

TO-NIGHT.—At the opera house last night a company of unusual excellence—the Corday Wass Dramatic company—gave a good-sized audience by their presentation of the great spectacular drama, "The Sea of Ice, or the Wild Flower of Mexico." This is a splendid company in every respect.—Statesman.

DON'T RUN AROUND.—Every steamer, however foggy the bar, brings to Albany an immense quantity of fruits and produce. The best and largest variety always goes to Jas F Powell & Co's. Their stands are always full of just such things as the public wants. Save running around by calling at their store first.

FAST DRIVING.—Last warning.—Hereafter any person or persons caught driving within the city limits faster than prescribed by ordinance of the city, will be arrested and punished according to the provisions of such ordinance.

ENDED WITH A SHOT.

A Sunday Spree Terminates With Blood.

Yesterday forenoon Pete Montgomery, an old resident of Albany, and William Underwood, a man claiming to hail from California a week or so ago, came into the city from the back yard, in the eastern suburbs, where they had been working, the former for sometime and, according to the reports given the DEMOCRAT, indulged in the cup that intoxicates, rather freely, to such an extent as to loosen their tongues, and they called each other pet names quite profanely. Returning to the back yard they indulged in a rough and tumble fight, completely tearing the tent down.

The incidents that followed are rather mixed, and as in most such cases, can only be given as reported. Several men were present but are somewhat at sea in their version of the shooting that followed. One story is that after the tent light Pete went into another tent and Underwood sat down on a bench with two or three men. Suddenly Pete stuck his head out of the tent opening and said to Underwood, "You're a son-of-a-b—," or something like that to that effect. Underwood jumped up and ran into the tent and immediately afterwards a shot was heard. Go inside they found Pete lying on the bed. With a 38 calibre revolver Underwood had shot him in the left shoulder while in a reclining position, the ball going downward obliquely, remaining imbedded somewhere near the shoulder. Previous to that Underwood is said to have tried to make Pete take back what he called him, shooting off his revolver carelessly in the air. The wound is probably not fatal, though the result is uncertain.

Pete's version of the affair is that he was in the tent when Underwood came in cursing and swearing, resulting in the tent being torn down by Underwood. Pete then went to another tent, when Underwood followed him in calling him all manner of names, and without any provocation shot him.

Underwood immediately skipped out and left for the country. Marshal Hoffman was notified and a warrant was issued out of J R Wyatt's justice court. He was followed into the country but could not be found, though he had been seen by A E Bloom and others.

Underwood was about 28 years of age, light complexion, 5 feet 7 inches tall and thickset. He was a stranger here and his antecedents are unknown.

AN ABUSED WIFE.—Some years ago Edwin D Morris and Mary A English were married in Marion county and shortly after removed to Seattle. Upon the heels of their honeymoon came stormy weather on the ocean of their wedded bliss, and several months ago the roads forked. She went her way and he went his. On Friday evening's stage there arrived at Mehama Mrs Mary A Morris, who was looking for her husband. She found him, so she claims, living at his mother's place near there with a young girl named Lena Guise, a daughter of Peter Guise, of Olalla, Kitsap county, Wash. Mrs Morris was wroth at the state of things, and swore out a complaint against Edwin D Morris, her husband, charging him with the crime of adultery, and Lena Guise, the girl, for polygamy.—Statesman.

SCIO.—The Bank of Scio will be open for business on or about the first of September. Then you can get your checks cashed at home.

Scio is to have a fine city hall, and with its electric lights, it will be the most enterprising town in Oregon of its size.

Work on the Oregonian Railroad is progressing in a satisfactory manner. The roadbed from Silverton to the South Santiam, with the exception of the small bridges and culverts is now ready to be changed to a standard gauge road.—Press.

WILL STAND TRIAL.—Four of the men arrested Saturday for fast driving have settled their fines, $5 and costs; but the other, Mr Cresce, driver of the St Charles bus will stand trial, which will come off to-morrow at 9 o'clock. The defense will be that the team was not driving six miles an hour, nor racing; all of the other teams easily passing this one.

EVERYBODY SAYS SO.—If the wild waves could talk they would say, "Go to Jas F Powell & Co's for groceries and produce, for their stock is large, their prices low and quality the best." This is the universal verdict of their customers.

OUR POPULATION.—Business is often an indication of the population of a city. Judging from the number who rush into Conn & Hendricson's for groceries Albany is the largest city in the valley. This firm keeps a first-class stock of groceries and fresh produce, a fact generally appreciated by a large trade. For berries, fruits, vegetables, canned goods, tobacco, crockery ware, etc., call on them and get bargains.

The La Grande Gazette published this item, which is of especial interests to surgeons: "Some two months ago John Mumme had his hand sawed off below the wrist, which hung only by a shred of flesh. The attending physicians desired to cut it off, but Mumme insisted that it be replaced and dressed as good as possible. Now the severed member has grown together and can be moved slowly."

BARTLETT PEARS.—I am agent for the Salem cannery and prepared to buy at the Bartlett pears brought to me in a condition to ship. Parties having pears to sell will do well to see me.

IF THE GARDEN SPOT.

The Sunday Oregonian gives an account of the trip of the Omaha officials up the valley, and though it simply mentions Albany as the place where dinner was furnished, a very shabby way, there is a good indication about the matter. Portland people are getting their eyes open, and hereafter there will be more work in the valley, more excursions up it, and it is to be hoped a more friendly relationship between the metropolis and the valley cities. The account of interest to our readers is only a few of whom we see the Sunday Oregonian, is as follows: When Weyburn was reached and the valley began to broaden out and a view of the hills of Cook county with their patches of grain was had, cards were laid aside and every one was glad to get a good look at the garden spot of the great Northwest. As the train rolled through mile after mile of grain fields expressions of wonder and amazement became frequent and kept on increasing the farther they went.

On the way to the San Francisco express having been delayed, the train got behind time and so a very hot spot was made at Salem, and fast time was made from there to where dinner was furnished. The party were then invited to inspect a fine display of grain, fruits, melons, etc., placed on tables on the platform, and after the display had been sufficiently admired it was passed into the car, to the great delight of the visitors.

When all was gone except two huge onions an effort was made to get a tall, fine looking member of the party to take them, but he declined, saying he was only superintendent of plumbing, and did not take things like common councilmen. In the rush to get out of the dining room one of the Portland councilmen forgot his hat and was walking off with his napkin, when he was called to order by the landlady and hastened to set things right.

Councilman Olsen, of Omaha, who prides himself on his good looks was made so much of by two young ladies who met him on the platform that his friends were wild with envy. It turned out that they were from Omaha and had known him there.

While the fruit, etc., was being stowed in the car an Oregon Pacific train picked it up and it was soon whirling across the Willamette on its way to Corvallis, the excursionists dividing their time between admiring the fruit and looking over the maps, circulars and other literature concerning Albany which went along with it.

The excursion was a grand success and the visitors have gone away with impressions of the Willamette valley which will never be effaced. Future excursions visiting this city cannot be given a more delightful trip. The party left for Omaha last night with fruit, melons and berries enough to last them all the way there.

Current Events.

Everybody remarks at the splendid display of fruits and vegetables at Jas F Powell & Co's, where they get what they want in the first place.

The Corrective Properties of the Juices of California's Vegetable Alternatives Almost Sensational.

A lady formerly of 1221 Mission St., but now of 406 Hayes St., S. F., writes to the Edwin W. Joy Co. as follows: "Mrs. H. T. Lively, of Seattle, suffered with me last winter. She had long been a sufferer from dyspepsia and waterbrash. Her stomach was so weak that for months at a time she lived principally upon milk and the white of eggs. Among other things she tried one of the mineral sarsaparillas only to find that it gave her pains in the head and weak sinking spells. Having taken Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla myself with great benefit in stomach troubles, I induced her to discard the potato preparation and try your Vegetable compound. It began relieving her stomach and in a short time helped her astonishingly. It improved her appetite and strength to that extent, that just before she left, she was beginning to return to solid food. She authorized me to write you this statement according to."

MR. Z. T. WRIGHT, Portland, Oregon.

Dear Sir: In reference to your inquiry as to how I liked my Advance Thresher, purchased of you this year, will say the Advance does more and better work than any other machine I ever saw, and I have seen all that are represented in Oregon.

It threshes faster, cleans the grain better, runs lighter and saves the grain better from the straw, than any other machine, and it is so strong and durable, I am ready at any time to go into a trial with any other machine (except the Advance) and thresh for you $100 to $200. They are the best in the market without doubt. If you desire you can refer to me at any of our dealers.

I D. MILLER.

THE CRY OF MILLIONS!

OH, WHY BACK! STOP IT NOW. SOON IT WILL BE TOO LATE.

I have been troubled many years with disease of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies and have sought aid from different physicians without relief. About the 15th of April I was suffering from a very violent attack that almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was left unable to get up alone, or to put on my clothes, when kind assistance was sent to me by Dr. J. A. Tupper, of Albany, Oregon, who immediately commenced using the DR. PATTON'S SPECIALIST.
