

THE DAILY DEMOCRAT.

From our regular correspondent.)
WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1, 1890.

Senator Edmunds has exposed the cloven republican foot by his resolution for a congressional recess, instead of adjournment, from September 10 to November 10. Having by various methods succeeded in getting a date set for the disposal of the tariff bill—the most unjust financial measure of the age—the republicans now propose that congress shall meet again after the congressional elections in order that it may proceed to do what it does not dare to do before those elections. This action of Mr. Edmunds was taken because Mr. Harrison refused to assume the responsibility of calling an extra session for the sole purpose of enacting odious political laws and making unnecessary appropriations.

First and foremost, if the republicans are allowed to carry out their programme and they will not, unless the united legitimate efforts of the democrats shall fail to prevent it, will come the Force bill, upon which the republicans are already banking to carry the presidential election of '92—their leaders expect to lose the next House; but are raising a large fund to try and save themselves from defeat by the aid of the electoral votes of four southern states which they calculate can be carried with all the election machinery in the hands of unscrupulous federal agents.

Next will come the congressional and electoral college apportionment under the new census, which is to be manipulated in the interests of the republican party. If only the question of right and precedent were considered this apportionment would be left for the Fifty-second congress to deal with—so it has been since the foundation of our government—but the republican party has never been in the habit of letting little things like right and precedent stand in its way, and it is too late to expect it to reform now.

Incidentally it is proposed that a large number of bills carrying large appropriations which the shrewd leaders of the party temporarily side-tracked early in the present session are to be railroaded through and in order to carry this programme out successfully a quorum of republican senators have, according to Senator Fry, who ought to be good republican authority, agreed to adopt a gag rule for the senate similar to the one with which Speaker Reed has bound the house hand and foot.

Another nice little scheme in connection with this recess business is, that the pretense is to be made that the measures in which the Farmers Alliance and the Labor organizations are interested, similar to the compound land bill, the amendments to the eight hour law, and to the alien contract law already passed by the House cannot be acted upon unless those extra three weeks are made use of. The object in this pretense is to try and make it appear to the farmers and workmen that the democrats in opposing the Edmunds resolution are opposing the consideration of their interests.

Mr. Harrison has signed the meat inspection bill, thus giving himself greater power in a commercial sense, than is possessed by any European sovereign, with the possible exception of the Czar of Russia.

There is a rumor that the River and Harbor bill, which is now in conference, is to go over until after the elections in order to keep down the total amount of appropriations made by the present congress.

Wall street pressure has made Secretary Windom issue a call for $20,000,000 more 4 1/2 per cent bonds which will mature in September 1891. He offers to pay par and accrued interest to date of maturity.

Senator Morgan has prevented the senate a resolution adopted by a mass-meeting of colored men at Birmingham, Alabama, against the passage of the Force bill. This added to the fact that a meeting of negroes at Philadelphia adopted a resolution declaring the passage of the Force bill to be impolitic shows that the negroes are not hankering after the "protection" which the republicans in congress are so anxious to give them.

To-day is "labor day" and it is being generally observed by the labor organizations of the city. They want congress to make it a national holiday.

The preliminary force to depriving another democrat of his seat—Brewster, of Arkansas—is going on in the House to-day. It is hoped that his constituents will see to it that he comes back to the next House with such a big majority that even a republican election committee will not dare to question his right to represent his people.

Representative Cannon, whose vulgarity precipitated the rumormongering which ended in a slugging match on the floor of the House last week, has therein so endeavored himself to Speaker Reed that he has been asked to go to Maine and make some speeches in his district. It is to be hoped that he will not use the same language he did in the House.

To fumigate a room, heat an iron shovel and drop vinegar on it. Have the doors and windows open.

Paint the tongue of your liver patients with glycerine, says a physician it will remove the sensation of thirst and discomfort felt when the organ is dry and foul.

THOMAS B. REED.

Reed the autocratic ruler of the lower house of congress has been making a vigorous campaign for re-election from the first Maine congressional district. He has had McKinley, Barroughs, Mason and other big guns canvassing for him as though his district was doubtful. His majority two years ago was 2433. The democrats do not seem to have made any contest. Reed is determined that his majority shall be increased so that he may point to it as a mark of approval of his dictatorial course in the house. The election in Vermont has alarmed him and he is now making the supreme effort of his life. The election takes place next Monday Sept. 8th.
