DAILY DEMOCRAT.

REVENUE IN STORE

Mr Kennedy, who deluged Senato Quay with oritorical nitric acid the other day in the house of representatives, may cacape punishment for the present, but the wrath of Pennsylvania is stored away not alone for him, but for others of his republican colleagues from Ohio. In facs there has been a feud between the Penn sylvania and Ohio republicans aimost from the beginning of this administration, and of course it started in a quarrel over the distribution of the spoils. Early in the summer of 1889 a man from Ohlo and a man from Pennsylvania got their eyes rigidly fixed on a particularly desired place in the treasury department. The sleuth-hound tenacity of the Ohioan in pursuit of an office has passed into a proverb. The Pennsylvanians somehow have escaped this reputation, but they deserve it all the same. Each of the men who lusted for the office in the treasury department was backed by about all the influence there was in his state. As may be readily imagined, the approach of these two ponderous bodies towards the same point threatened a disaster that was simply appalling in its possible consequences. So a truce was called, and an agreement entered into by which it was agreed that neither should do anything without informing the other, Things remained in this position for some time, when to the dismay and anger of the Pennsylvanians the Ohio man was given the office by the president. Now the Pennsylvanians charge that the attack of Mr Kennedy on Senator Quay was another evidence of the treachery and jealousy of the Ohloans, and they declare no matter what is done, Pennsylvania will have its revenge on Ohlo, and will take it on Ohlo's most favorite son. This means that not only will Mr Kennedy be demolished if opportunity offers, but that Major McKin-ley will also be made to suffer and ale the political death. Whether McKinley is defeared or not in the coming congressional elections, in all probability he will next year be the republican candidate for governor of Ohio. If he is defeated by Mr Campbell that will be the end of him, and Pennsylvania's thirst for Ohio blood will be slacked; but if McKinley is elected governor he will at once take a feeding place among presidential possibilities for 1892. Then will come Pennsylvania's longedfor-opportunity, and with Senator Quay at the head of the national committee, she will be in a position to take a revenge that will be simply cloying in its sweetness.

Fruit is food. To a much larger extent than many suppose, when fruit is plentiful it lessens consumption of bread, vegetables and meats. Baked sweet apple: are an excellent substitute for potatoes if used occasionally. Fresh fruit also promotes health. It is thus a substitute for medicine. However dear fruit may be, we advise its use as a means of health whereever it is possible to procure it. Dear fruit is cheaper than the doctor's bills that doing without it would make necessary,

As the star of Blaine grows dim that of Reed grows bright. But they reckon ill who leave Blaine out in the political chances of the near future. And now that in the field of national statesmanship the speaker is only a rival but a rival who can claim the stamp of public approval after hotly contested election. Mr Blaine is not at all likely to look with any more indulgence than heretofore on the other man from Maine.

A patented weather prognosticator sold in Prague is a landscape colored with the salts of cobalt. These colors are very sensitive to moisture, and are made still more so by mixture with gelatine. With increasing moisture in the atmosphere, the blue heavens of the picture assume a dirty red hae, and the green grass also strikingly changed in color.

All the items in the McKinley bill which are supposed to benefit the farmers seem to have a string tied to them. The New England farmer was tickled by a bounty of two cents a pound on maple sugar, but now it turns out that only producers of 500 pounds or more are to receive the gift, and precious few farmers produce that much,

There are 15,000 acres of land devoted to the culture of tomatoes in New Jersey, and the value of the crop to the farmers of that state is over $1,000,000, equal to the value of the wheat grown and above the value of oats, rye and buckwheat, There are seventy-three canneries in the state

Reed's victory was not much of a victory when not under the calcium light of intelligen analysis. In 1886 Reed polled 15,628 votes and his democratic opponent received 14,299, In 1888 Reed received 18,288, and Lis demo cratic opponent received 15.855. At the late election he polled 16,097, and his opponent polled 11,339 votes. So that it appears that e polled 2,200 votes less than he did two years ago, while his democratic opponent polled 4,516 votes less than he did two years ago. It was not the popularity or strength of
