

From our regular correspondents. WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29, 1890. Representative Flower aptly calls the tariff bill a cyclone measure, the aim of which is to break up all trade between the United States and foreign countries, and to enable the manufacturers to combine for the purpose of fleecing the people, while the farmers are allowed to foot all the bills without deriving the slightest benefit.

The negro Langston, whom the republicans seated last week in the House, has developed a head of elephantine proportions. He intimated in a more or less incendiary speech, which he made to a lot of negroes, that he was a candidate for the presidential nomination of his party.

There is a delegation of Georgia folks here who want Mr Blaine to talk reciprocity at the opening of the Atlantic exposition, October 15. They have also invited Mr Harrison and the other members of his cabinet to attend.

Another good republican is in trouble. Mr Wheat, postmaster of the House of Representatives, is, by resolution of the House, undergoing an investigation. He is charged with having compelled the contractor for carrying the mail to and from his office to pay him (Wheat) $150 a month out of the money paid him by the government, and also with having a man on his pay rolls at $100 a month who merely draws the money and turns over $95 of it to Wheat's son.

The Raun white-washing committee is again examining witnesses. It wants to know who furnished the New York Tribune with the information upon which some very severe criticisms of pensions office methods was based.

There is a grand rush of lobbyists who are endeavoring to get some of their bills through the House in the confusion which always precedes the closing of a session of congress, and some of them will probably succeed.

A joint resolution authorizing the Secretary of the Navy to spend $1,000,000 in the purchase of nickel to be used in making nickel-plated, steel armor plates for the cruisers now being built was last week crowded through the house and senate under the plea of urgent necessity.

Senator Ingalls says he didn't get $600 for going to Pittsburg the other day and making a republican speech. Perhaps he only got $500.

The compound lard bill is believed to be dead, as it is almost certain that the senate will pass the Padlock pure food bill as a substitute for it.

The stock gamblers lobby, headed by "Deacon" S V White, of New York, a former republican member of the House, have proved too strong for the Butterworth "Option" bill, and it is not likely that it will be heard of again in the House.

A joint resolution providing for adjournment to-morrow has passed the House, but from present indications the senate will not be ready to early.

The oldest law-suit ever known is now in progress of trial in the highest Russian court in St. Petersburg. Originally it was brought 500 years ago against the city of Kameneg-Pedolsk, by the heirs of a nobleman, to recover several thousand acres of his estate which had been confiscated by the municipality.

Last year 22,000,000 pounds of dried apples were exported, besides over a million barrels of green fruit. The value of this export was upwards of $3,500,000, and it must be deducted from our assets this year, when there will be scarce supply of apples throughout the country for home use.
