LOCAL RECORD.

HAMLET LEFT OUT .- The DEMOCRAT has received a copy of the Boots and Shoes Weekly, of New York A letter accom-panies it with the postscript: "Particular panies it with the postscript: "Particular attention is directed to our mention of your city and its trade." We look in vair for the mention. This is all we found: "I do not awake until we are near Salem, having passed Albany, at which point I had intended stopping, but instead, I am now in the capital of Oregon." The traveling correspondent then writes up that city instead. In the Portland department of his coast writeup is a picture of Fred Eggert, formerly of this city, of the firm of Eggert, Young & Co., who is credfrom of Eggert, Young & Co, who is credited with a stock of $50,000 to $70,000. In the Tacona department two old Abbany men are noticed as follows: "Tacoma's biggest shoe house is that of Turiell Bros. Turrell Bros do both a retail and wholesale business. They carry a $75,000 stock. The firm is composed of Geo J and Walker E furrell. They are both staunch believers in the future of Tacoma, and have fully also also be a business. faith that she will become, not only the great retail center, but t e wholesale mart for the valley of the Yakima, the Walla Walla district and all the Sound country. Success to the house of Turreil!

A BUILDING YEAR,-The DEMOCRAT likes the Salem Journal; but not its "perrersions." We admitted that Salem was the State building center of the state and now hear this: "The Albany DEMOCRAL acknowledges that Salem is the 'he 'building center of the state." This is a ju t and correct recognition of Salem's enterpise in the matter of building the past two years. There is, no doubt that there have been There is no doubt that there have been more business blocks, manufacturing buildings and residences built here in that time than in half of the other towns and cities of the valley combined." It is really a matter over which congratulations should be general that the growth of the cities of the valley has been general, and all have been building. We know that former residents coming here are astonished at the changes observed, and no doubt this is the case in other cities The DEMOCRAT has no jealousies, for it knows one part of the valley cannot have a reliable growth without the whole going ahead.

EUGENE,-The first four days after the thrown on the market the proprietors sold over frur hundred lots. Who says Eugene is dead?

Last Friday was the 18th anniversary of the wedding of Dr and Mrs '1 W Harris. In the evening quite a number of their residence on Fifth street and assisted them in celebrating the event. A very pleas-ant evening was passed in the usual parlor amusements.

Sheriff Noland says he is in receipt o Sheriff Noland says he is in receipt of good news. About three years ago he and J P Currin, of Cottage Grove, did some government surveving on the Umatilla reservation. They have just received word that their claims for pay have been allowed and are now in the hands of the second auditor. They don't know how much more red tape it will go through before they receive their pay.—Register.

A LOCAL ENTERTAINMENT.-On Thanksgiving eve., Wednesday night, Nov. 26, at the Opera House the Ladies Aid Society of this city will give an enterrainment that promises to be a very fine affair. Besides some choice vocal and instrumental music the drama "Peak Sisters" will be presented. The committee on the entertainment will meet on Saturday night next at the resimeet on Saturday night next at the resi-dence of Mrs Hopkins, instead of to-night

WALKED IN -This torenoon, an immigrant's wagon was standing in front of T L Wallace & Co's large clothing store, when a young horse running loose with the outfit deliberately walked into the store, no doubt attracted by the large stock of clothing inside. He was gotten out without damage.

Norice.-The contemptible cur who waves could talk they would say, "Go to Powell & Co's for groceries and pro-duce, for their stock is large, their prices low and quality the best." This is the universal verdict of their customers Noveries in Wasii Fabrics .- I have just received direct from Chicago novel-ties in wash dress goods. The new thing for fall and winter wear. I am receiving the largest line of staple and fancy dress goods ever brought to this market. Those meeding their fall and wall, will do well to give me a call.

THE ALBANY MINES.

The First Clean up Makes a Fine Showing.

W. F. Read returned this forenoon from are Santian mines, bringing with him a quantity of gold as the result of the first clean up, and though the exact figures are not yet known, there is a broad smile on the faces of the officers of the Albany Mining & Milling Co. They pronounce the clean up far more valuable than they he clean up far more various considering the act that surface rock was used and the act that surface rock was used and the mill had not gotten completely down to business. Only six tons were cleaned up, mostly as an experiment. A thousand foot tranway is being built from the mines to the mill, and on its completion in a few days the mill will start in for a lon and steady run. It is no tonger an experiment. It is simply business now, and the and steady run. It is no tonger an experiment. It is simply business now, and the experimental clean up is so flattering it is now proposed after running the present mill during the winter to add a large amount of new machinery it. the spring and run the mines on a big scale. This news will be received by the public with pleasure, for it shows that the mines are established fact as a paying institution. Aircady the pay roll is $1000 a month, but this is only a fraction of what it will be within a year. This is Albany's style, and it will not be long before this city is the center of the biggest mining excitement in the Northwest.

CIRCUIT COURT PROCEEDINGS.

The case of McAllister vs the city of Albany was submitted to the jury at 12 m today, and after being out about three hours they returned a verdict for the dendant. At the beginning eight or nine of the jurors were for the defendant, and the others for a small amount for the plaintiff. The verdict will give general satisfaction.

The case of I D Miller against the S P R R Co, a suit for the value of a steer and two calves, killed by the rolling stock of the company, was on trial this afternoon. J K Weatherford and J R Wyatt appeared for the plaintiff, the latter making his models a reach in opening the case. for the plaintiff, the latter mak maiden speech in opening the case

Grand Jury Report.

To the Honorable Circuit Court of Line county, we the grand jury for the county of Linn, and state of Oregon, for the regular October term of the Circuit Court of the state of Oregon, county of Linn, res-pectfully submit the following report of their examination of the public premises and offices, pertaining to the courts of jus-tice in said county; to-wit:

First, we visited the county jail and found the same in fair condition

We also visited the sheriff's clerk's recorder's, treasurers and school superin-tendent's offices and found them in fair condition, and the books and records properly kept and in fair condition.

We, the undersigned, respectfully rec-ommend that the entire court house, of said county, be furnished with electric lights, with a meter.

We further recommend that a new of township maps, in book form, for the recorder's office be purchased, as the old maps are out of date and badly worn and unfit for use and a disgrace to the county We further recommend that the clerk and recorder of said county be authorized to purchase any and all necessary books for their offices.

Respectfully submitted this 30th day of October, A D, 1890.

To-Morkow Night,-The Camille of Mas Morris is that which is reflected from the pages of Dumas. She divests the character, in great part, of its less the character, in great part, of its less grateful quality. She purifies and poetlizes. She enobles, and that without losing sight of the hard reality. After witnessing her performances we can readily understand how it was that she worked so great a change in the popular regard of the drama. Long before Miss Morris essayed the role, Dache laid excited Paris with her rendition, and Matilda Heron had gained her reactest fame in its interpretation. The tion, and statuta tieron had gained her greatest fame in its interpretation. The latter was looked upon as the only Camille. Her laurels were undisputed. Her concep-tion, though wonderously powerful, lacked idealization, and when Miss Morris appear-Notice.—The contemptible cur who has been tearing my posters down is known. W. L. JESTER. EVERYBODY SAYS So.—If the wild than in the dramatic effects of the situation. The colors have been laid upon the canvos sowell & Co's for groceries and prouce, for their stock is large, their prices imbued with a love for the ideal. Yet the imbued with a love for the ideal. Yet the work is abundant in force and strong and definite in its lines. It tells of suppressed suffering, of bitter paags, beld in agonizing check. Miss Morris, during the progress of the play, brings to bear all those resources of her rare intelligence and superb powers. No actress is her peer in the ex-pression of emotion when it is a matter of gradual development. She begins at the beginning and passes from phase to phase with a realistic effect that is assonishing for its truth. So says a critic on the
