DAILY DEMOCRAT.

THE CAUSES.

The republican "mourners go about the streets" in prayerful search of the causes of the great disaster that engulfed them on the 4th of November, but many of them seem unable to yet recognize them though they are seen by all men. Let us ald these friends somewhat in their quest, The republicans had a record once of which they were proud and many of their policies commended themselves to the country, but a long career of party success made them despotic and utterly reckless and regardless of the political rights of the minority, pursuing such a course as indicated that they believed democrats had no rights that they were bound to respect, When the tide turned against them and Tilden was elected president, they forced Hayes to usurp the great office to which he had not been elected. This, in our judgement was the great turning point in the history of the republican party. It was the fatal point, "where gravitation shifting turned the other way." That deed took from patriotic republicans that pride in their party, upon which, prior to the culmination of that outrage, they had loved to dwell. It was the "skeleton in the closet" which they all had been seeking to avoid. Since Hayes retired no republican has been hold or base enough to defend this great fraud, "first trlumphant in American history," Without attempting to point out the perfect identity of the leaders of the republican party with the monopolies and plutocrats, how they have utterly ignored every right and interest of the great body of the people in the interest of the powerful and wealthy classes, let us mention the admission of rotton borough states solely for the purpose of strengthening their waning power, and when Montana voted against them, they bold y took two senators by fraud and violence whom the peo ple had said should belong to their opponents. The election of a president by bribery too open and notorious to be denied, and who as soon as he was seated in power introduced again the "spoils system" in its most offensive aspect in the very face o platform pledge that all execu-tive appointments should be made alone on the ground of fitness and no removals made except for sufficient cause other than partisan. All these acts of commission as well as many of omission, the great body of the republican party might have condoned for their party's sake, but then came Reed, McKinley and Lodge as political leaders. Reed's conduct as speaker is without a parallel in any deliberative body ever convened by an English speaking people. It was nothing short of an actual mad revolutiou to accomplish party ends that were unattainable by any fair or bonorable means. Peaceable it is true, but utterly unknown to the forms of law and contrary to a'll precedent in parliamentary bodies. Then came McKinley with his intensely partisan and outrageous tariff bill, prepared for the sole purpose of building up ill kinds of monopolies and inviting the establishment of all kinds of trusts with power to oppress and rob the consuming class at will, designed year by year to make new millionaires and more paupers, to take from the farmer and consumer most of their earnings and give them to the favored classes-, in a word a bill which has been aptly termed by a mass meeting of republicans as "the sum of all villainies," Add to these, pension legislation more profligate and demoralizing than any ever before known in any country, designed not as a reward, for patriotism, but as a lure for future partisan effort. To cap the climax came the force bill designed to place the machinery for electing members of congress and president and vice president with such unscrupulous republican leaders as Dudley, Quay, Elkins Clarkson & Co. thus keeping that party in power for all time to come To these must be added Harrison who seems to have no motive or purpose but partisan and selfish greed, incapable of any dents to lay aside party bias and to stand for the masses against the classes. In view of this long line of encroachments upon the best interests of the people,it is a matter of no wonder that a peaceable revolution overtook these unscrupulous leaders before the consummation of their desperate The great body of republican voters are as honest as any, and hence will not be led to destruction by their leaders.

The West Same does not seem to know what the real issue in Wiscom n was. It was not hostility to the public schools, but it was hostility to that provision of the Beanett law that practically compelled the teaching of the English language in private schools. -

Quite a number of conscientious republicans have said to the editor of the DEMOCRAY that in the future they will act with the democrats unless their party shall give up its folly of protectionism. All over the country this same feeling and determination is making rapid headway isto the minds of republicans who believe the right is above all party obligation.

Republican leaders say the tariff was the cause of their terrible defeat bur that the republican voters did not understand the Mc-Kinley bilt. Poor ignorant fellows, these republican voters. Wonder if they can read? Are they all ignorant foreigners? But is this not adding insult to injury?

The West Sarre will watch to see how many doors the republican members of the next congress will kick down. There will be house will be governed by rules that will seem the right of the minority.
