Daily Democrat.

SANTIAM FORKS, Ogn., Dec. 23, 1892.
Editors Democrat:

If the many honest republicans will only keep their eyes open, they will notice from time to time, admissions made by republican leaders and journals, that well illustrate the hollow pretenses of the republican party leaders of to day. For instance, the Oregonian in an editorial of recent date, severely abused the farmers, and took occasion to say that the scheme of Senator Stanford for the government to loan money to the farmers on their lands was unjust and class legislation, and further stated that Senator Stanford owes his eighty millions of money to the special class legislation that has enabled him as well as many others to accumulate money by methods corrupt and dishonest.

Now right here is an admission—one which admits a truth long claimed by the democratic party, to wit: that the republican party by its class legislation, enacted by it during the last twenty five years, at the dictation of capital and in the interest of a favored few, is directly responsible for the existence of such millionaires as Senator Stanford, who, the Oregonian says, has been enabled to acquire great wealth by means of corrupt and special legislation. It must be remembered though that when election times roll around the Oregonian with the other republican journals, are very ready to call on their allies—the monopolists, tariff protected industries, trusts, and such capitalists as Senator Stanford—with the suggestion to all such, that they must contribute a part of their wrongly acquired gains to that party which created and stands by them, that is, the grand old party of Lincoln, which has now degenerated so far from its first principles as to claim the right to fry the fat out of the tariff protected capitalists of the country.

If the tolling, honest masses of the republican party who are still voting "for Lincoln and a prosecution of the war" could only find time to brush the cob-webs from their eyes, and Rip Van Winkle like, realize that the party of Lincoln and loyalty had drifted from its earlier mooring into the strong grasp of monopolists and the stockholders of tariff protected combines—if they, the farmers, and laborers of the republican party would but read the effects of the special legislation and the imposition of the high tariff on their business, they would turn in disgust from the party whose political key notes are sounded by the favored few who, controlling the republican party, seek to make the laboring people believe that capital is not yet ready to take care of itself but still needs that fostering care produced by a protective tariff which makes the rich only the richer and the poor but the poorer still.

Another instance is that of our esteemed friends of the Albany "Herald" who in the issue of 21st instant under the head of "foreign immigration" said the restriction of foreign "would also supplement the wholesome operation of the protective tariff in maintaining the high standards of American labor" and in the same article says "for the unskilled laborers who crowd to America and by their willingness to work for a pittance depress the wages of American mechanics." Now the last statement is a truth which the democratic party has maintained for the last twenty five years and longer, and the republican party is just now admitting the truth of it and next thing will be claiming that the doctrine started with that party. It is a known fact that during the whole existence of the republican party—at least since the war—that the creatures of that party by special legislation have acquired wealth from preying on the unprotected classes, and openly for years, [until stopped by the democratic contract labor law.] imported into this country foreign pauper labor, and discharging American workmen put in their places in the large protected industries of this country these same foreign paupers.

That is but one instance of the many special franchises, grants and licenses that have been bestowed by paid legislative hirelings of monopolists upon the favored wealthy of this country under the disguise of republicanism.

The fact is that under the republican system almost every combination of capital has asked and received some favored class legislation, tariff or otherwise. There is too much governmental taxation for the aid of private enterprise. Even a great many of the substitutes and roustabouts in the service of the union during the war believe that the whole country should be taxed to pension them for doing what all should have done, and many failed to do, viz: their duty. It is right to pension every honorably discharged Union soldier who received actual wounds or injuries, or contracted disease while in the line of duty and the volunteer soldier asks for no more, but these chroniclers who went into the war, not through love of country, but because of money and bounties offered them, are the main ones who are loudest in the cry that the government owes them a living, and to all such, as the Oregonian admitted the other, it is time to cry halt. The loyal brave—the patriotic volunteer, regardless of politics and influenced only by a love of country are the ones who saved this Union and not hired substitutes, coffee coolers, pension agents nor the republican party elite, for the loyal republicans could no more have saved the Union without the assistance of the hundreds of thousands of loyal democrats, than a human being could cause the sun to cease shining on this terrestrial sphere, and that old frivolous claim that the people owe a debt of gratitude to the republican party for doing only their duty is not believed in by the patriotic young men who believe it is the duty of every citizen of this republic to fight for this Union because of country and not because of a hope of money, pensions or any reward except that knowing that they have done their duty, a thing the government has the right to expect regardless of any obligation of bounties or pensions. Yours truly,

RANDOLPH.

MISCELLANEOUS.

An Eastern magazine just received, under the head of "Six British Lions," illustrates Queen Elizabeth, Prince of Wales, Marquis of Salisbury, Gladstone, Parnell and Lord Randolph Churchill. Appropriately the heading should read, "Five British Lions and one Lioness."

Christmas eve to-night. Children's night. The night of giving, when men are made happy and women and children receive. Verily it is more blessed to give than to receive. The happiest of all mortals at this time are undoubtedly the men who give and can afford it.

Mrs Charles Davis died at Fossil a few days ago, after giving birth to a child. Mrs Davis was only 13 years of age. As a license cannot be issued to a person under 14 there must have been some false swearing.

Albany's local building association lends every month amounts ranging from $1500 to $200, says the E. O. The Pendleton building association can do the same under proper management. This institution has done a great deal for Pendleton, but the value of it has not been half shown because the interest it deserves has not been given it.
