

Daily Democrat.

St Louis carpenters are demanding an increase of wages. Inasmuch as that is just what was promised to them, in common with other working men, as the result of the McKinley tariff, their just demands ought to be granted. All the same they will not get what they want unless they are strong enough to force compliance from the bosses.

Quay's man Delamater, who tried to break into the Pennsylvania state house and wrecked a bank in the attempt, has been arrested for embezzlement of the public funds. Should he be sent to a penitentiary the warden of it will be a wise man if he locks up his office in a safety deposit vault.

The democrats of the Indiana legislature have unanimously renominated Voorhees for United States senator and in New York they have nominated Gov Hill. Both will be elected. The republicans of Washington by a scratch have renominated Squires.
