CITY OFFICIAL PAPER.

LOCAL RECORD.

EASILY SEEN THROUGH.—Those persons who say, in reference to the formation of a new county of Santiam, "let them go if they want to," would have a different tune to sing if the proposition was from the southern part, and Halsey, Harrisburg, Brownsville, etc, were to be taken off, which explains the whole matter. Even with a side issue run in, a majority of our business men, we believe, are opposed to the move, certainly from a business standpoint, for some of the best patrons of our merchants come to Albany from across the Santiam, who would go to the county seat if a change was made. One-sided interviews, with most of the opposition left out, and nearly all favoring in sort of passive language, a division, are poor criterions of the standing of the public in the matter.

OREGON OPALS.—Not long since we chronicled the discovery of opals near Moscow, and now Dr B L Willoughby, formerly of Linn county, has discovered a deposit of opals near his cattle ranch at Hay creek, Crook county, where he has located under the mining laws of Oregon, and is now mining for the precious stones. They are found in the form of goodos, or nut-like concretions, imbedded in the trachytic coaglomerate. These opals are very brilliant, and those found below the decomposing action of air and water are very durabe and valuable.—Walla Walla Statesman.

A MAD DOG.—The Eugene Register gives an account of a mad dog at that city, a very rare occurrence in Oregon, and it is probable he did not have the genuine rabies. "A lively time was created at the Minnesota hotel last Sunday by a dog with the rabies. The dog had been acting strangely for a day or two, and Sunday exhibited a clear case of hydrophobia, frothing at the mouth and biting viciously everything within reach. The guests made lively work getting out of his way until finally he was killed. He bit through one man's boot but did not bite into the flesh."

MEETING WITH SUCCESS.—The DEMOCRAT is informed that Dr Rova Alexander, a former resident of Albany, is meeting with flattering success in the practice of medicine at Pendleton, which she richly deserves. Her father is associated with her as counsel, while she does the practice. An incident is told about how a man there was given up by several other doctors, and was turned over to her nearer dead than alive. She succeeded in saving his life, almost miraculously, and he is now nearly a well man.

MEETINGS CLOSED.—The special meetings at the Baptist church closed last night, having been held continously since Christmas. After a few days rest the pastor, Rev Geo W Hill, will begin special services at the mission school hall, on Maine street, in east Albany. Much progress has been made during the quarter ending with this month in both the material and spiritual interests of the church. The Sunday school has increased from 100 to 161, the attendance last Sunday; besides, a mission school of about 100 has been organized. The regular congregations have greatly increased, and 54 members have been added; thirty-eight by baptism.

RELIGIOUS.—At the United Presbyterian church this evening Rev W W Logan will preach and conduct the services. He returns to his home in Portland tomorrow. The services will however be continued and the pastor will preach tomorrow evening on the "Advantage of a religious character in the present life." A meeting will be held on Saturday at 3 p. m. for the reception of members by the session.

NEW G. A. R. POSTS.— Several new Grand Army Posts have been organized in Oregon. They are Post No 53, with John H Roberts, commander, at Myrtle Point; McCrook post, No 54, at Lafayette, with J M McKelty, commander; Donaldson post, No 55, at Sheridan, H S Maloney, commander, and No 56 at Bandon. No 57 is just being organized.

DANCING.—To-night at the M E Church Evangelist Connolly will talk on "Dancing," to which all the young people are especially invited to attend. The meetings are interesting. Song service at 7:30 p. m. and preaching at 8 p. m. The public is earnestly requested to be present.

RAILS.—Two carloads of 35 pound steel rails, 90,000 pounds in all, were transferred at Albany today to the Oregon Pacific, consigned to the United States at Yaquina Bay, evidently for use on the jetty work. Laid end to end they would reach about one and a half miles.

TWO BARGAINS.—1 corner resident lot near the heart of the city, $1100. 1 inside lot, full size, near S. P. depot and Lyon St., $900, for cash. Only for a few days.
TOWNSEND & WILSON,

One half dollar reduction on every pair of Ludlow's fine shoes. A good line of them at S E Young's.

INDIAN RELICS.—Quite a crowd of people can be seen every day in front of Mueller & Garrett's show window, where they have on exhibition a fine lot of Indian relics and other curiosities.

SALEM.

The following item from your paper should receive a full explanation: "The first trip around the world was made on the ship Columbia, which left Boston Sept 30, 1787, under command of Capt John Kendrick, accompanied by the sloop Washington, Capt Robert Gray. At Nootka, (now Washington Territory,) Capt Gray took command of the Columbia and sailed for Canton, from which port, with a cargo of tea, via Cape of Good Hope, he reached Boston Aug 10, 1790." The voyage around the world of these two ships was in a measure an accident. When they left Boston they had no definite idea of the seas they were to traverse, save they were going to the Pacific Ocean. During the Revolutionary war British ports were cut off from American ships. As soon as the independence of the United States was acknowledged by Great Britain, the strict enforcement of the old unrepealed navigation laws cut off from their former haunts of commerce, and it became a question from what ports American ships could bring home coffee, sugar, spices and tea. All British colonies were barred against them as much as were those of Spain. So American ships sailed into the Eastern ocean where trade with the natives was free. There were six enterprising merchants of Boston, J Barrell, S Brown, C Bulfinch, J Darby, C Hatch and I M Pintard, who observing the fondness of the Chinese for furs, fitted out in 1787 two ships for trade in the Pacific ocean, the Washington and Columbia, significantly named, under command of John Kendricks with Capt Robert Gray, master of the Washington. They sailed fearlessly round Cape Horn to the northwest coast of America in quest of peltry to exchange for the costly fabrics of China. They were on this coast long before the Hudson Bay company. These navigators sailed through the Straits of Fuca, first at the time when the constitution of the United States went into operation, two years before Vancouver, the English navigator, and Quimper and De Horo. Capt Kendricks had entered every channel, inlet and harbor where there was a chance for traffic. In 1789 Capt Kendricks transferred Capt Gray to the Columbia, and he, Capt Kendricks, took the Washington and later on sailed down the coast. Capt Gray in May, 1792, entered the river which he named after his ship, "Columbia," and took possession of the country in the name of his government. The sailing of the Columbia and Washington through what is now known as the Canal De Harro and Cape Gray, taking the Columbia river in his country's name, were events which established the American title to Oregon against Great Britain. Spain, the oldest claimant of all, asserted her title against the British to the whole extent, and as against Russia to latitude 55 degrees. It was these Boston merchants, through John Kendricks and Robert Gray, that settled the claim to the then Oregon of the United States. The northern boundary was thus accordingly established under this claim by Emperor William. There is a silver medal, bearing upon one side raised ships, Columbia and Washington, and on the other the names of the Boston merchants mentioned above, to be seen in the Secretary of States office. Therefore this voyage around the world is very significant when considered by the pioneer Oregonian. Not one who figured in this enterprise had any conception of its grand results, nor has he lived to witness the grandeur of this achievement.
OCCASIONAL.

A LIVE DAY.—This has been a typically lively afternoon. Williams Bros, Duffy and Shultz Bros, black Shepherd had a fierce fight all along First Street between Elsworth and Broadalbin to-day, resulting in the bull dog rather coming out on top, though the shepherd was very gamy.

MISFITS.

A bill by Senator Fulton provides for the exemption of railroads from taxation if built within two years, the exemption to last several years. The object is to stimulate railroad building.

The secretary of the state has already purchased $500 worth of postage stamps for use during this session of the legislature and will have to buy more.—Journal. No wonder the receipts mount upwards in the Salem P. O.

"Where can I get a drink?" said a stranger at the depot this noon.
"Water?"
"No, S-l-r!" with a look of disgust the DEMOCRAT man never will forget.
"Oh, in there."

"Ah, but coming dauntlessly eager for gold, he interfered," is a remarkable sentence the DEMOCRAT gets from The Writer. The first letter of each word forms part of the alphabet, and the nine words represent nine different parts of speech.

A Tacoma company has nine men working in a ledge of quartz on Blue river, and it is reported that a mill will be put in this spring. Samples of ore are sent to Tacoma every few weeks, all of which have been very flattering. The company has increased its capital stock to $300,000. Snow drove the miners out once this winter, but they are now pushing work in the tunnels. Who knows what Lane county hills may bring forth?—Eugene Register.

Police Judge Tanner yesterday fined a man $100 for carrying a concealed weapon. While this would seem to be a severe penalty for such an apparently small offense, it is quite proper that Judge Tanner should view it in the light that he does.—Telegram. As many men carry concealed weapons it looks rather tough to fine one, where hundreds go free, yet that is law, and Judge Tanners can do nothing else but levy fines.

People lighting matches do not realize what is going on. Here it is: The phosphorus on the match is raised by friction to a temperature of 150 degrees F., at which it ignites. It raises the temperature of the sulphur, if it be a sulphur match to 500 degrees when the sulphur begins to burn; the sulphur raises the heat to 800 degrees, when the wood takes up the work and produces a temperature of 1000 degrees at which the coal ignites.

Oregon boys who go to Eastern schools almost universally stand high. That has been Albany's experience, and here is a gratifying case from Salem: "From the class and conduct reports of the semi-annual examination held at the United States military academy, West Point, N. Y., 1891, it is learned that Cadet William B Ladue, of the fourth class, a son of Mr Wm N Ladue, president of the First National bank, of this city, has distinguished himself and honored Oregon, by attaining the proud position of head of the class, being first in all subjects. The fourth class is composed of eighty-seven members."

A philosopher shoves the quill on the Corvallis Times: "While bills are being introduced by the hundred and acted on by our wise legislative assembly at Salem, some of the members are not neglecting their own individual welfare, for a bill has been introduced asking that the pay of members be increased to seven dollars per day. This must look large to some of our granger representatives. Just think. Seven dollars equals about eleven bushels of wheat. Eleven bushels of wheat per day, for forty days, would make 440 bushels. If this bill passes, the members from the rural districts can go to Salem, and in forty days accomplish the same thing that usually takes a year at home."

WONDERFUL ACHIEVEMENT.—Crawford & Paxton have shown us some fine photos of the tableaux of "The Veteran of 1812," taken on Opera House stage by flash light, also "The Milk Maids Convention," a beautiful group of 20 of Albany's popular young women, also taken by flash light. The wonderful advances made in the photographic art is well illustrated by an inspection of the above photos and many others at the gallery of Crawford & Paxton. Call and see their late work.

PRAISEWORTHY ENTERPRISE.—Our enterprising photographers, Crawford & Paxton, have ordered some new scenic grounds and other accessories from N. Y. of the world famous scenic painter, Lafayette Leavy, who will also paint them an Oregon scene representing some of Oregon's choicest views, for use in their photo rooms. The above will be received very soon when the public will be able to get something ahead of anything ever brought to this state.

CIRCULATING LIBRARY.—Mr Joe Tait, who organized a circulating library a year ago, and placed 100 books at the store of C E Brownell, has started out to increase the number of books by getting new members. It only costs $1.50 to become a member and each member has the right to read all the books in the library. This is a very cheap way to secure reading matter. Remember each member has the right to read any book in the library or any that may be placed there by increase of membership. C E Brownell is librarian.

NO FLIES.—There are no flies on Conn & Hendricson's new clerk, that faces their customers on entering. Every body treated the same, a smile for all, and the best groceries in the city and bottom prices. See their brands of tea, coffee, their canned goods, etc. Smokers get lots of satisfaction out of the famous Peppoose and other cigars.

Miss Townsend, recently of Nebraska, is opening a cash store in the Strahan building, recently occupied by Price & Robson. A merchandise store is also being opened at the corner of First and Ferry streets, in the Senders building.

William McAdams, a boy about twelve years, had the misfortune to have one of his hands cut off by a lathe saw at the Capital mills this afternoon. He was near the saw and endeavored to pitch a stick of wood over the saw when his hand was caught by the teeth, with the above results.—Journal.

STATE LEGISLATURE.

SALEM, Jan 28.—Myers' bill for the appropriation of $3000 for the Sodaville springs failed to pass. Vote, 13 to 15. After amendment the Australian ballot bill passed the senate and was returned to the house for concurrence. Among others bills incorporating Albany, Lebanon and Scio, passed the senate. McCracken's bill for a state board of charities passed the house. A bill by Minto providing for economy in appropriations was indefinitely postponed. Eakins senate bill for a recorder in Lane and Benton counties was read first time and will probably pass.

THE REASON WHY.—Why is it that Klein Bros. can afford to sell boots and shoes so reasonable? Because they are both practical shoe makers and make part of their expenses by working on the shoe bench, any boot or shoe you buy of them, no matter what kind it is man, womans or childs, that rip, run over or the sole rips loose they repair them for you free of charge, and as they do all the work themselves, they don't charge you 25 to 50 cents a pair extra for a warrant to pay some shoemaker to repair them for you. They also make a specialty of repairing rubber boots.

NEW BLACKSMITH SHOP.—G W Willis has just completed his blacksmith shop at the corner of Second and Railroad streets where all kinds of iron and wood work can be had and done in first class order. Bring on your plows, wagons, etc., etc, for repairing.

DEAFNESS TWENTY YEARS.
And How It Was Cured by Electric Treatment as Given by Drs, Darrin.

To the Public: December 18th I came to Dr Darrin for treatment of deafness and ringing noises in my ears of twenty years' standing. I was unable to hear without people speaking very loud to me. After one month's treatment I can hear as well as ever in my life, and feel called upon to tell the public my experience that others may avail themselves of Dr Darrin's skill. I live at 320 Front street, Portland, and work in Johnson's shipyard. The cure by Dr Darrin, of Ex-sheriff A T Shoep's daughter, 320 Front street, of malaria, rheumatism and liver complaint, is way I applied to Dr Darrin.
A. L. RICHARDSON.

How a Prominent Lady of Seattle was Permanently Cured by Drs Darrin 20 Years Ago.

SEATTLE, Jan 22, 1891.
Dr Darrin—Dear Sir: Hearing that you were in Portland and performing marvelous cures I want to add my testimony to the hundreds of grateful patients. For many years I suffered from scrofulous sore on my knee, tried all home remedies and consulted the best physicians in the city of Indianapolis, Ind, where I was then living, without any benefit. About twenty years ago you came to Indianapolis, and I was persuaded to "Try you." I called upon you, received two treatments the sore disappeared and has never returned. My son in law is Mr J F Trowbridge, in business at 805 West street, Seattle. MRS A. C. LANDIS.
