

A BIG MONUMENT.—Here is the way to leave a monument that people will look at and remember the author of it: Union county has few men more able and none who, when once determined, will go further to secure success than A. E. Eaton of Union, says the Chronicle. Mr. Eaton has made a large amount of money in Union, and he feels like leaving a monument to his memory in his home city, and to do this he has determined to found a woolen mill there, and has headed the enterprise with $25,000. The mill will employ eighty persons, and if the people who are able will stand by Mr. Eaton, it will be built.
