Daily Democrat.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, March 16, 1891. Pension bureau, notwithstanding the damaging facts brought out by the congressional so-called investigation into Raum, although he has had his attention called to the matter by a very prominent member of his party, who, I have reason to know, told him that Raum and his wildcat speculations and his proven obligations to the king of the pension sharks was more than he should attempt to carry. Raum has within a week, boasted to a personal friend that he was all right and would not be disturbed

A democratic representative said to me today: "Looking at the matter from a pol-Bleal point of view, I hope that Harri on will not kick Raum out now, because, if toward a settlement of the dispute, until he returned to the position maintained by Mr Bayard under the Cleveland adminis tration. These negotiations are not conducted at the department. Oh, no. There are too many prying newspaper men always on the watch so whenever Mr Blain has any very important business on hand it is transacted at his private residence. The administration feels very much relieved at the propect of a peaceful settlement of this question, having last fall become fully satisfied that the sentiment of the country was opposed to any unnecessary display of "jingoism."

Mr Harrison was anxious to find a good reason for not appointing the new circult court judges created by the inte congress until next winter, doubtless believing that the longer they can be held the greater value in votes at the next republican national convention, so he referred the matter to Attorney General Miller, experting that he would render an opinion against his right to make the appointments during the recess of congress. But the Attornay General, following the excellent example of Solicitor General Jenk in a similar case that occurred under Mr Cleve land, has given his opinion in favor of the president's right to make the appointments at any time. Between this opinion and the clamorings of the republican applicants and their friends, Mr Harrison will find it difficult to postpone the matter very long, although he still professes to be in doubt as to his right to make them until congress is in session.

Treasurer Huston is again at his desk, although he cannot hide his anxiety to have his resignation accepted in order that he may feel at liberty to express his opinion of Mr Harrison and his administration An attempt was made to get him out of the way by giving him a foreign appointment, but he refuces to be caught, and says ernment printing office. It is customary to largely reduce the force shortly after the adjournment of congress, and that reduction is now being made, and the discharged people are nearly all democrats, or women who owe their appointment to democrats.

Prof Charles W. Smilley, speelal agent of the census for the collection of fish and fishery statistics, is under charges. His work is said to be practically worthless, although it has cost a large sum of money

The adage "a woman is at the bottom of everything," is brought to mind by the claim of a female lobbyist, who by the way is also in the employment of the gov-ernment, that she kided the Wanamaker postal_telegraph bill in the house postoffice committee, and that the money she used was furnished by Jay Gould. Perhaps she is only trying to divert suspicion from the eminent republicans who actually lid disburse Gould's money here.

Democratic politicians in the east would do well to exercise moduration in view of a recent political event. The democrats of the great west have a very promising canditate for the presidency in 1892 in the person of United States Senator Palmer. Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin would be no Mr Harrison has given no sign that he intends to remove the present head of the New York. New York,

Has a large and complete line of goods, dolls, doll buggies, boys' wagons, will not kick Raum out now, because, if he is left in his position until next winter the democratic house will show him and his methods up in a manner that will disgust all decent men, whatever may be the political affiliations, and it will help us greatly in the presidential campaign. But whether Raum goes or stays we shall investigate the Pension Office, which I am satisfied is honey-combed with frand, that can easily be discovered, if it is fearlessly and honestly looked for."

The air of mystery which always prevalls around the state department is just now very much intensified, owing to the fact that Mr Blaine and Sir Julian Paunce fote are deep into the negotiations preliminary to the arbitration of the Behring Sea question, which Mr Blaine is pleased to think or to pretend to think that he has compelled Great Britian to accept, although all the rest of the world knows that he never made the slightest progress toward a settlement of the dispute, until ve ocipedes and many other goods which
