

A BAD CASE.—The DEMOCRAT is given particulars by an eye witness of one of the boldest attempts at robbery ever reported, the mere facts of which present a startling picture. A young man left Brownsville Monday afternoon, being intoxicated, with $80 in his pocket. A man, who had been placed there at the instigation of a friend who had been keeping him. Some men on the train had been requested to watch him. As the train left a young man of this city, with an unenviable reputation, boarded it and went to the drunken man's room, and began to watch him. Just before the conductor came in the young man said he would come to the drunken fellow's fare and liberally reached down in his pocket. The pocket book from his pocket, and then the conductor came in paid both of the fares from it, putting the book back; but directly afterwards reached in the man's pocket and took the money out and said he guessed he would care of it for him. The conductor and passengers said they guessed he couldn't. From the junction he went away to Brownsville, not having any money. There the Constable was notified, and took the drunken young man in charge. Even after the passengers left the train the Albany young man rushed back into the train; but the Constable was running matters. Then he tried to throw $20; but of course it was refused. A young man had been calling on a lady there, and some one notified before he called. When he reached the gate she pointed towards it and said, "I am told you tried to throw a man on the train. Now get, and come again," and he left, declaring he would come back on the train he was here late in the evening with his shoes covered with mud. The case shows a very bad condition of affairs.

CONTROLLED BY THE VANDERBILTS.—The Salt Lake Times of March 19th gives a description of the Oregon Pacific route to Boise City, thence, under a proposed scheme following the survey of Salt Lake, Boise City & Hailey R R to Hailey and Salt Lake, connecting with the Rio Grande. The Rio Grande Western actual had a man in the field figuring on the line of the O P; but Manager Dodge asked about it said: "We have not entered into any negotiations for the purchase of the Oregon Pacific or any other line and we are not expecting to make any concessions other than a few local lines in Utah, of which every one knows." "Have you not been considering the advantage of joining the Oregon Pacific?" asked the reporter. "The Oregon Pacific is a good property, and might be a bad investment. We have paid some attention to it, we have to various other roads. Even if we wanted it, I doubt whether we could hold it, as its stock is controlled by Vanderbilts, and if any road gets it, the Pacific & Northwestern would be the most likely one."

CAPT. CHAMBERLAIN.—Last evening at a called meeting of F. Co. Hon. Geo. E. Chamberlain, on nomination by Lieut. George W. Chamberlain, was unanimously elected Captain to succeed Capt. Irvine, recently promoted to Lieut. Col. of the 21st regiment. His choice is a good one. The company is formally invited to an oyster supper to be given by the new captain on Tuesday evening of next week.

A SMALL BLAZE.—Last evening a fire caught in the roof of L. Viereck's barber shop from sparks from the chimney, and for prompt action the building would have been burned. A four or five foot fire was burned, as it was. The roof is covered with moss and catches easily when dry. Until put in a better condition it will always be unsafe.

AN IMPROVED DAY'S HUNT.—L. W. Joyce and David Link went up to Shedd on a hunting expedition with blood in their eyes. In returning the boys at the gun store received the following dispatch: "Plenty of game. In one day's hunt killed fifty. Tell me to come up."

FAREWELL RECEPTION TO A PASTOR.

Last night the members of the Baptist church gave a farewell reception to their former pastor, Rev. L. Trumbull, which was attended by a large number. It has been some months since Mr Trumbull closed his work with the church here, going at once to take up the work of district missionary of the state convention for eastern Oregon, but his family have remained behind until now, when they go to take up their residence at La Grande, so the occasion was taken by the people of his former charge to express their appreciation of his work among them.

The platform of the church was decorated with flowers and foliage plants, and presented a pleasing appearance. Music was led by the male quartet choir of the church.

Rev. Geo. W. Hill, the present pastor, spoke of Mr Trumbull's three years pastorate in Albany, as viewed by his successor, declaring it to be eminently successful, as the field was left in good condition in every way, and the seed had been faithfully sown from which such a bountiful harvest had been reaped during the past few months. Reference was also made to the encouraging work among the Chinese by Mr Trumbull's family.

Deacon John Foshay spoke on behalf of the church and congregation, testifying to the good work done in building up the church and the appreciation of those who had enjoyed his ministry, concluding with the presentation to Mr Trumbull of a purse of $84, offered by the members of the church and congregation as a token of their esteem and appreciation. Mr Trumbull responded fittingly in expression of his recognition of the kind interest shown by this demonstration. After which the ladies of the church served refreshments, and all seemed to enjoy themselves socially.

During Mr Trumbull's three years pastorate the temporal and spiritual interests of the Baptist church were greatly advanced. The membership was largely increased. The parsonage was begun and most of the funds provided for its erection. In leaving the city Mr Trumbull and his family leave many warm friends outside of the church whose confidence and friendship their work and worth have won. The DEMOCRAT people, among many others, will have the kindest remembrances for this worthy family.

Rev. Trumbull requests us, for his part, to return the thanks of himself and family for the generous gift and the splendid treatment received.

THE S. O. CORSET.—Imparts a most graceful shape, securing comfort and elegance. Every corset has the self-opening clasps. These clasps, simple in construction, have double the strength of the ordinary clasps, can be hooked and unhooked in the usual manner, and have the great advantage in the ease with which they can be unhooked, by merely pulling the string, and the corset will open like a flash. These clasps are so constructed that they will always stay as tightly fastened until the string is pulled. From exertion, or any other cause, can thus be instantly relieved without disturbing, allowing beautiful action of the body, to the great comfort of the wearer. G. W. SIMPSON, Sole Agent.

BE IN FASHION.—"A good be out of the world as out of fashion," once said a famous man. If you would be in fashion call on Mr E. A. Schiffer, in L. E. A large and fine assortment of suitings for spring have arrived, embracing the latest patterns, offering an elegant display to select from. "Great Slaughter!"

We shall offer for the next thirty days our entire stock of clothing at less than the actual cost of raw wool.

"To particularize, we mention 22,000 pairs Men's All Wool Trousers at $1.67 per pair. Former price, $12.00.

"17,950 pairs Boys' Short Pants at 35 cents, or three pairs for $1.00. Former price, $3.00 per pair.

"9,000 Black Diagonal Double Breasted Prince Albert Coats and Vests at $3.20. Former price, $17.00.

"And everything in proportion! This will be the most tremendous sell on record."

"How can we afford to do it? Because we are the largest manufacturers of clothing on earth. To give you an idea of our immensity: We consumed in the year 1890 over one quadrillion of Buttons. Over one billion of Brass Buttons. 1891 will take the combined output of three foundries to produce the brass required to run our business."

"If all the silk thread, used in our fifty-two factories in one year, were twisted into a rope one inch in diameter, it would then reach twice around the world, and leave enough over to supply all the other clothing factories in the United States until 1897."

"Buy at headquarters!"

The above is an exaggerated style of advertisement, taken from an eastern paper, of course without any truth in it; but you want to see a good line of clothing at reasonable prices, call on L. E. Blain, the leading clothier, Crawford Block, Albany, Oregon.

Grange Items.

Tangent Grange held a called meeting on March 13th when the first and second degrees was conferred upon a class of four.

Our grange is gaining in numbers at a lively rate. There seems to be a deeper interest taken in its welfare than usual. We expect to hold our regular meeting the 28th, when the third and fourth degrees will be conferred upon five young men. We will have an interesting meeting, expect some visitors from neighboring granges, and expect some important business will be transacted. The grange is a place for us to find social enjoyment, after a month's hard work we meet and tell our experiences, inquire after each others welfare, pass the time in pleasant and profitable employment, when we can go home and renew our daily employment and never miss the time spent at the grange. Another good feature of the grange is, we can visit different parts of the country and find plenty of persons whom we have become acquainted with, and all because we are members of the organization, which belongs to the farmers. There is more sociability in the grange than any organization in existence. Why? Because they are bound together by mutual ties that does not exist in any other order. Then let each try and be a benefit to the other. Always be prompt at the meetings and never let an opportunity pass when we can be of any benefit to the order. Try and get the young members to take an interest in the business before the meeting, organize a singing class, make things cheerful, meet each other with a pleasant smile and a kind word, and there is no doubt of the grange being successful. Where will you find less litigation among the farmers than when there is a thriving grange. They can settle petty differences without recourse to law. This of itself is of great advantage to the members. And in many other ways are the farmers benefited by the grange.

A VOICE FROM THE PAST.

A Lady of Intense and Astonishing Intelligence.

To whom it may concern: I have been every conceivable remedy for Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Sciatica, etc., for the past five years as I was afflicted with these troubles. But nothing ever gave me relief that I obtained from Dr. J. C. Watson's Sarsaparilla. In fact I took it for the first time. At the time I was afflicted with these ailments, I was living in a very remote place and was seriously affected by a bad cold, and was tried a great many kinds of remedies, and blood purifiers to no avail. I knew but of one medicine, Dr. J. C. Watson's Sarsaparilla, thinking it might benefit me and so I purchased a bottle, and within two weeks it was entirely healed and I am now as well as ever.

OVERWHELMING PROOF.

Judge R. E. Strahan, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Oregon, ex-Mayor Hill, Prof. Looney and Alderman Scroggin Testify as to the Efficacy of Dr. Darrin's Treatment.

So much has been said on the subject of electricity and its marvelous results in the cure of diseases of almost any nature that it seems useless to say more.

The following prominent names of people, some of whom are known throughout the state and nation, speak volumes for Dr. Darrin and his new and sure cure by electricity. We understand the doctor gives medicines when required, which, added to the electric treatment, makes his practice doubly sure. Glance at the following names of people who have been cured and are under the doctor's treatment: Judge R. E. Strahan, Albany, Or.

Ex Mayor C. H. Hill's son, Albina, Or, discharging ear, Prof J. P. Looney, Hillsboro, Or, Alderman W. A. Scroggin, 272 Alder street, Portland, deafness.

Mrs F. A. Morris, Newburg, Or, asthma and bronchitis ten years; restored two years ago.

Mrs I. B. Kennedy, 251 Sixth street; rheumatism thirty five years, cured.

E. A. Shaw, Forest Grove, Or, total deafness; so far restored as to be able to hear ordinary conversation.

Mrs E. Mann
