Daily Democrat.

A TROUSAND MILLIONS.

The expenditures of the last congress aggregate over one thousand millions of dollars, Not only has the treasury surplus been scattered, but with increased taxes on most of the necessaries of business and of life, and with a forced loan of over fifty millions from a sacred trust for the redemption of bank notes, the treasury is now certain to present a defirit of from fifty to eighty millions at the close of the coming fiscal year.

When it is considered that the expenditure of the last congress exceed the entire expenditures of the first half century of the government including the cost of of the second war with England, and that the entire expenditures of the nation when Mr Lincoln became president did not exceed sixty millions a year, or one hundred and twenty millions by each congress, the full measure of the bewildering profligacy of the last congress may be appreciated Think of a single congress at the close of a century of free government expending more than the entire public expenditure during the first half of the century, including the exceptional cost of a protracted war with England-

But the last congress was not content with the expenditure of a thousand millions. In addition to that appalling waste of public money, it loaded the nation with another thousand millions of debt that must be paid in shape of future pensions, subsidies, bounties, etc. The true record of the last congress is, therefore, one thousand millions actually appropriated for immediate expenditure and another thousand millions of debt loaded upon future congresses in addition to the legi imate expenses of the government.

The first republican congress under president Lincoln had little over one hundred miliions of revenue exclusive of loans-or to be precise. the revenue was $41,476,299 in 1861 and $51 919.261 in 1862-and the entire expenditure of 1861, the first year of Lincoln's presidency, including interest on public debt, was, in exact figures $66,650,213. The last republican congress, in time of peace, has expended over one thousand millions and added a thousand millions more to the ordinary expenditures of the future. With such a record of jobbing and profligacy, it would seem reasonable to assume that the nation has had the last republican congress of our history.-Philadelphia

SAME OLD MISTAKE.

The new tariff went into operation on April 1st, It was a bright day here. We got up early to look for "disasters dire" and "horrors innumerable," but were disappointed. The morning looked just like yesterday, only not quite so cold. It was colder for McKinley last fall. It was a good day for gardening but we could see no politics in it.—Grant's Pass Courier Here is an effort to defend "mortestion."

Here is an effort to defend "protectionism" as expounded by McKinley. It is not strange that every such effort should be founded on a fallacy or false assumption of some kind. The truth is that the new tariff went into effect the 6th day of last October followed by a remarkably cold wave in November.

THE WORLD'S POPULATION.

Few are aware of the vast number of people that can be placed on a small tract of ground. When we speak of millions of men we are apt to picture to ourselves an almost boundless mass of humanity; yet a million of people, standing closely togeth er, each not occupying more than four square feet, could be placed on a patch but little more than a third of a mile square, A square mile will accom modate 7,965,000. At that rate the whole population of the United States would hardly cover three miles square, and the whole population of the world, could stand on two townships!

Edwards, one of the murderers of the Fredericksen family at Sealand, Wash, Is certainly a villain of the deepest dye. He is said to be an Odd Fellow, and high in standing as a Mason, having served as a delegate to various conventions, though this did not help him at his trial, as there were four Odd Fellows and three Masonamong the jurors who convicted him, and some of the witnesses against him were Masons. This statement, if corrrect, gives the jie to those who assert positively that Masonry protects murderers, -- Ex.

The republican journals are face to face with a divided duty. If they attempt to show that the McKinley tariff has advanced prices, and so "protected" American manufacturers, the consumers are up in arms. If, on the centrary, they show that prices are lower than before the passage of the act, the manufacturers will inslat they have been "taken in and done for," and may here after refuse to furnish the sinews of war,

The offect which living at high altitudes has on the blood of animals has been recently investigated, and the results show that the proportion of oxygen in the blood of men and animals acclimatized there was the same as that of dwelters at lower levels,

Public opinion has a certain definite valu and is not to be ignored; but there is alway the danger of exaggerating it, and the danger of being too conscious of it.

Few people can form a definite idea of what is involved in the expression: "An inch of rain. It may aid such to follow this curious calculation: An acre is equal to 6,272,640 square inches; an inch deep of water on this area will be as many cubic inches of water, which, at 227 to the gallon, is 22,000 gallons. This immense qu ntity of water will weigh 220,000 pounds, or too tons. One-hundredth of an inch slone is equal to one ton of water to the
