DODGING THE TAX.

The effect of the McKinley bill, which has made itself felt in various localities throughout the country, will soon be felt further by the bearing it will have on the various industries using tin in any way. Owing to the charge in the tariff on tin plate, which goes into effect on July 1, the Importers of tin have been making big preparations to take advantage of it and get all the possible benefit from it.

They have been importing enormous quantities of tin and stacking it up in the warehouses.

To give an idea of the increase of this importation, a few figures from the books of the Custom House authorities will make the matter plain. In January, 1889, there were imported to this city 7,274,283 pounds of tin plate. In February the amount was 9,304,219 and in March of the same year 9,456,751 pounds.

In January, 1890, the importation of tin plate was 7,072,163 pounds, in February 9,789,090, and in March 8,345,472 pounds. In December of last year the increase in tin importation began to be noticed and in that month the importation reached 10,440,211 pounds.

In January and February the increase kept up, and that it is still continuing is shown by the figures for March, which are 13,188,121 pounds, the greatest amount of tin ever imported to this country in the same length of time, and about double the regular monthly instalment of that class of merchandise brought to this port.

From information that can be obtained at the Custom House, the importation of tin for April will almost double the figures of March. Two steamers due at this port in a few days have heavy cargoes of tin, one having on board some 36,000 and the other 44,000 boxes of tin plate.

It is supposed that this heavy increase of tin importation will continue until the McKinley bill goes into effect. The tin is being stored by the importers and will be unloaded on the market when the advance in the price will pay at big profit on the investment.

The effect of the high tariff on tin will be very far reaching, as thousands of articles of daily use will be affected by it. One of the first industries to feel the effect of the increase in tin duties will be the canning establishment.—Philadelphia Herald.

A bookkeeper in a Wall-street banking house has made the discovery that ink stains can readily be removed from the fingers with the head of a parlor match. Moisten the ink-stained spot and rub it gently with the head of the match, keeping the skin wet so that it will not be burned. The stain rapidly disappears. The match should not be used where there is a cut. Violet ink stains can often be removed by rubbing them with a rough wooden cloth. A coat sleeve answers very well.

Medical authorities now say that sleeping with the mouth open is a frequent cause of deafness. When this subject of opening the mouth is more thoroughly understood, it will be seen that it is responsible for the larger share of human ills. It might have been thought that an open mouth at night would be less harmful than at any other time, but even then it is not innocuous. Keeping the mouth open to much destroys teeth, and by breathing through the mouth instead of the nostrils diseases of the throat and lungs are sure to follow.

No wonder Senator Stanford wants congress to pass a two per cent. land loan bill. His Central Pacific Railroad owned last year 9,310,843 acres of land. If half of it is worthless and the other half but $3 per acre (the average price for its land sold in 1889 was $3 69) the present worth would amount to $14,000,000, on which the Central Pacific would be able to borrow $7,000,000 at two per cent. In addition, Senator Stanford's Southern Pacific Railroad owns millions of acres more.

Bells were invented by Paulleus, Bishop of Nola, in Campania, in or about the year 400. They were first used in France in 550, in Greece in 864, and in the churches of Europe in 930. In Switzerland they first appeared in 1020. The first tunable set of bells known in England were used in Croyland Abbey, Lincolnshire, in 950.

Eastern journals are calling attention to Major McKinley's inconsistency. At Toledo, on February 12th, he accused Cleveland of "dishonoring one of our precious metals," of "discrediting silver" and endeavoring to stop the coinage of silver dollars. At Boston, six weeks later, he sneered at the demand for "the free unlimited coinage of silver" as "dangerous." At Toledo he was a silver man; at Boston he was a gold-bug.
