In southern Oregon there is a forest 16,000 miles in extent, with an estimated amount of merchantable timber of 400,000,000,000 feet. At $10 per 1000 feet the proceeds would pay our national debt twice over.

The whole number of postoffices in the United States on Dec 13, 1890, was 63,137, of which 60,323 are fourth-class offices. The state having the largest number of postoffices is Pennsylvania, which has 4617.

To make an impermeable glue, soak ordinary glue in water until it softens, and remove it before it has lost its primitive form. After this, dissolve it in linseed oil over a slow fire until it is brought to the consistency of a jelly.

The first water mill ever built was erected on the River Tiber, at Rome, A D 50. Windmills were in original use in the twelfth century. Sawmills are said to have been in use at Augsburg, Germany, about 1322. Tide mills were operated in Venice about 1708.

A suit about a calf in Texas has resulted in the wiping out of all the parties involved except the calf. One of the litigants shot the other, and the sheriff shot the survivor in trying to arrest him. The calf was valued at $6.

Mr McKinley stated in his Worcester speech that it takes $1,000,000 every twenty-four hours to run the government. According to Mr Cannon it takes $1,500,000. But a trifling discrepancy of a half million dollars a day is of as little consequence to the treasury looters of the fifty-first congress as the world in general was to Mr Toole.

WASHINGTON.

(From our regular correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, April 13, 1891.

Mr Harrison would gladly, it is believed, abandon the vote hunting tour upon which he starts to-morrow if he could consistently do so. There are several reasons for this condition of mind on his part. When this tour was first suggested he expected to be able to carry with him a prominent party, including a majority of the cabinet and several senators and representatives, but as the time drew near to start he has had the experience of the biblical character who gave an entertainment—all had excuses to prevent their going. Mr McKinley, for whose special benefit the Canadian reciprocity talk has been postponed, would have made a star attraction for the party, but his own presidential aspiration are so fully developed and he has such an exaggerated idea of his political importance that he would not consent to play second fiddle to Mr Harrison. But, perhaps, what worries Mr Harrison more than all other causes is his overwhelming jealousy of Mr Blaine, who he thinks has already gained more notoriety than he is entitled to through his connection with the administration. He fears that Mr Blaine will do something while he is away to increase that notoriety, and although he has Mr Blaine's promise to stand aside and allow him to be renominated if he can be, he doubts his sincerity and is afraid of him. It is believed that Mr Blaine is fully aware of the state of Mr Harrison's mind, and that he enjoys it.

The evident intention of Mr Blaine to surround the present condition of the Italian question with an impenetrable air of mystery is having a bad effect. He refused to give out any information, even to stating whether he had sent the answer to Rudini's last dispatch. From other sources it is learned that a draft of that answer was read at a cabinet meeting last week and approved by those present, but if it has been sent it went by mail to our minister at Rome, because, if it had been cabled over the Italian papers would not persist in saying that Rudini had notified Mr Blaine of his intention to break off all diplomatic relations with the United States if he did not get a satisfactory answer by Tuesday of this week. This last of course is a bit of buncombe that is feared by nobody.

Nevertheless, Mr Blaine's refusal to make public that despatch of Rudini's has caused many people to believe that it was not of such a conciliatory nature as we had been led to believe it was by the cable synopsis of it that came from Rome, and which, by the way, is all the information we ever got concerning it. Americans are not fond of mysteries either in their public or private affairs, and Mr Blaine would better take them into his confidence.

Mr Harrison's attempt to placate the disgruntled negroes is not a brilliant success. He appointed a negro, H G Parker, of Missouri, to be alternate commissioner at-large for the Columbian exposition, but the negroes are worse than ever, because at the same time, he appointed a white man, R W Furnas, of Nebraska, to be a commissioner at-large. They say that if Mr Harrison wished to recognize the negro he should have appointed him commissioner and the white man alternate as the negroes had no representative on the commission, and the alternate is simply a fifth wheel, unless for some reason the commissioner for whom he is alternate becomes unable to serve.

Republicans wink knowingly when anybody says anything about Secretary Tracy's declared intention of conducting the working forces at the various navy yards without regard to partisan politics. Mr Tracy may be perfectly honest in his intentions but either the republicans do not believe it or they think they can outwit him. They certainly do not anticipate giving up the navy yard patronage.

The London Lancet deprecates the practice of remaining bareheaded at funerals. It commends the propriety of cutting short the burial services in cold and inclement weather, and suggests that the hats should be kept on the heads of those in attendance. These suggestions should certainly be approved of, for a funeral ceremony, as at present carried on, involves much risk of contracting grave inflammation of the respiratory organs.

The presidential usque against "further agitation of the tariff question" did not deter the signers of the call for a free trade mass-meeting at Cooper Union on Thursday evening next, to be addressed by Congressmen Simpson and Johnson. As Carr Reed is out of the country and Major McKinley is doing considerable agitating himself it is not likely that "the troops" will be called out to prevent the meeting.

An olive factory is soon to be built in Sonoma County, Cal, by a company which now has sixty acres of six-year-old olive trees, and is now planting 700 acres more. The plant will cost $250,000.

Ex-Speaker Reed says the recent congress will figure better when its work is better understood. It is to be hoped so. It figured over a billion and that's enough.
