

Small Tracts.

Our Sodaville correspondent talks as follows, on an interesting subject: It is, perhaps, not very generally known that a vast amount of timber, grain and fruit land, of fine quality, abounds south and east of this point that must, in the near future, be permanently settled by home seekers. And while most land near here is claimed, yet there are vast resources which will be reached only where the great westward immigration strikes this section. The settling and improving of this land will add much more to Albany's already flourishing trade, as all the products of this section must find their way to Albany.

There are many men living in this vicinity who own large tracts of land, far too much for one man to probably handle, which should be divided into small tracts that can be well improved and these one farm can furnish good homes for several families and the original owner himself, do much better. But this is already being done throughout the entire valley to some extent, and we predict that, when the small boy of today is the man of the future he will look back in amazement and wonder, ponder and think of the change; the great change that is now taking place among us. The Willamette Valley will be like a checkerboard of cloth with ten inhabitants to one now, each man's farm will be like the village of today, and Salem, Albany and many other valley towns and villages, will be great bustling cities, and will have forgotten the prairie days.

This is all coming. We see it every day; but with passing years it lies in expectancy of the next and then we move from day to day and year to year. The writer is a young man, but in his short years, he looks back to the time when only a short time, when, heavily laden teams wearily dragged the lumbering stage-coach from Portland to Astoria and thence on to the Pacific coast; when Oregon boasted of 30,000 or 40,000 people and thought that great enough.

The Willamette Valley Railroad was an unbroken line of timber, and, in fact, nearly every road in the state. A small settlement was only occasionally seen on the Willamette, and Salem and Albany little stage towns. Let us notice the change that has come. The little stage towns have already grown into prosperous young cities with electric lights, street railways and many modern advantages usually found in our best cities. Portland is growing into a great city, and the railroad and other lines are pushing themselves into every portion of this state. Oregon has 300,000 people within her borders now, and these changes have come in a few years, and yet she is not at all. Each year adds much to our rapidly increasing prosperity and Oregon will soon take her place in the front rank.

FARM MARKING

Florida Scott proposes to make it warm for delinquent tax payers unless they settle at once. The following notice has been published several weeks, but it does not work as effectively as it should. By order of the County Court I am directed to serve the owners of all taxes remaining unpaid on the assessment rolls of this county. If such taxes are not paid before the 1st day of January, 1900, and work be property of delinquents to make collection. I am directed to make collection. M. SCOTT, Sheriff of Lane county.

Now he proposes to enforce the collection of all unpaid taxes, which, though not a pleasant business in the world, must be done. Delinquents should come to time and pay up, thereby avoiding legal proceedings, as provided by the laws of Oregon. This is particularly the last call. Look out for the explosion of the bomb.

"German Syrup"

A Farmer at Edom, Texas, Says:

"We are six in family. We live in a place where we are subject to violent Colds and Lung Troubles. I have used German Syrup for six years successfully for Sore Throat, Cough, Cold, Hoarseness, Pains in the Chest and Lungs, and spitting-up of Blood. I have tried many different kinds of cough Syrups in my time, but let me say to anyone wanting such a medicine—German Syrup is the best. That has been my experience. If you use it once, you will go back to it whenever you need it. It gives total relief and is a quick cure. My advice to everyone suffering with Lung Troubles—Try it. You will soon be convinced. In all the families where your German Syrup is used we have no trouble with the Lungs at all. It is the medicine for this country."
