

TIN PLATE INDUSTRY.

The tin plate industry is a topic of vexed controversy just now. The controversy wages over the question whether there is such an industry, as yet, on American soil.

Editor of The Voice.—Thinking you might be interested in the new industry, namely, the manufacture of American tin plate, about which so much has been written of late, we send you this day by mail copies of the Philadelphia papers, also a sample of the genuine Taylor old style brand of roofing, which was made in Philadelphia by us, and which is the finest quality and heaviest coated plate that can be made.

We have been handling this grade of tin for many years, having it made in Wales according to our formula, and on account of the advance in duty, we felt that we could make it in Philadelphia, which we started to do some weeks ago and propose to continue.

You can readily appreciate our confidence in the article we are turning out, when we advise you that we are offering it under exactly the same guarantee that we gave for the imported article, namely, to give two perfect sheets or the value of the same in cash for every sheet that can be found showing the slightest imperfection.

Every sheet is stamped with the brand, thickness, registered trade mark, and our name. We think to thoroughly guarantee a plate it should bear the full name and address of the guarantor.

Our new industry is, of course, the subject of a number of attacks, evidently made on account of political prejudice, but as it is simply a matter of business with us, our only desire is that we will soon be able to supply the demand which at the present time is very large and rapidly increasing.

N & G Taylor Co

The thing that perplexes us about this letter is why it should be sent here. It is simply a matter of business, we are informed, but The Voice is not in the tin plate business. Then why should this letter, simply as "a matter of business" be sent to us? If it had been sent as a matter of politics, to bolster up the McKinley bill and its 150 per cent tariff on tin plates, we could understand it. But if that is the case, we are compelled to ask a few questions suggested by this circular. How much tinplate can the company in question make, and how many trade orders have they supplied? Are they giving away all the tin plate so far made to news papers, accompanied with "matter of business" letters? Do they find that a profitable business? Do one old man and a boy still constitute the working force of the new industry? If so, when will the force be increased, and will the increase come from Wales or from America? Lastly, why do they not fill that order of Cort's for 6,000 boxes of American tin plate, an order that has been standing for several weeks and finds no takers? We are not scouting at the "new industry,"—we are all. All we want is additional light.

The republican leaders are badly frightened at the prospect of having the Knights of Labor solidly opposed to the republican ticket in Ohio this year. It is said that the Knights of Labor through its executive board, which is making a fight for the removal of Capt Meredith, chief of the bureau of engraving and printing, has given Mr Harrison its ultimatum and it is, that Meredith must be removed or every Knight of Labor in the state of Ohio will vote against the republicans at the coming gubernatorial election. Secretary Foster, who is an adept in the art of bamboozling is relied upon by Mr Harrison to help him out of the scrape in some way, but he will find it very difficult.

Governor Penoyer has received an invitation from the great sachems of Tammany Hall, New York City, to address the braves of that impregnable democratic organization on the Fourth of July. This is a great honor not only to the democracy of this state but to the state itself. By the way Tammany would be greatly honored to be addressed by so distinguished a democratic governor. We trust the governor will find it convenient to accept.

We now have the press on which the Oregon Star was, the pioneer paper of the Pacific Coast, was printed in 1846. It is one of the best hand presses on the Pacific Coast at this time, and is apparently as good as new after nearly forty-five years of almost constant use.—Eugene Journal.

A statement made public at the treasury department June 18th shows that the net cash balance is only $1,225,000. This is the lowest yet reached but it is going lower day by day. The Billion Dollar congress did it. The masses of the people are watching it very closely.

Inquiries instituted by a trade journal in over 400 wheat growing districts resulted in the completion of a report setting forth that the total wheat crop of France this year will amount to little over one-half of the usual crop.

CONFIDENTIAL.—The favorable impression produced on the first appearance of the agreeable liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, a few years ago, has been more than confirmed by the pleasant experience of all who have used it, and the success of the proprietors and manufacturers, The Calumet Syrup Company.

The importers of millinery and hat trimmings appear to have won their suit against the government, on the contention that the duties levied on such articles were higher than were allowed by law. The difference, it is claimed, will be from fifteen to twenty millions of dollars in favor of the importers, which sum will have to be refunded by the government if the supreme court also decides against it. The importers paid the excessive duties levied, and added the same to the price of the goods sold to the wholesalers, who in turn charged the same upon the retailers, and the latter tacked the added duty upon the goods sold to consumers.—Salem Statesman.

Indeed! So, the importer pays the duty, adds it to the price of the goods sold to the wholesaler, who in turn charged the same upon the retailers, and the latter tacks the duty upon the price of the goods sold to consumers. Well then what becomes of McKinley's statement that it is the foreigner and not the domestic consumer, who pays the duty on imported goods? The Statesman is treading upon dangerous ground. McKinley is the great Mogul of protectionism and this statement of our cotemporary will subject it to the charge of being a Cobden Club free-trader, and acting under the powerful influence of British gold.
