

Daily Democrat.

The crook is always on mischief bent.

A man may pursue "the even tenor of his way," even though it's a base way.

This is strange. No sooner had they wound up the watch than it ran down.

Keep your eye on Campell, of Ohio. He is quite likely to be the next governor of Ohio, and if he is he will be decidedly "in it" for the presidential nomination. "The man who beat McKinley" would be a splendid national rallying cry.

Six miles off the Ladrone Islands, in the Pacific ocean, a Russian vessel took soundings a few weeks ago, and found a depth of five miles, the deepest spot yet found in any ocean.

General Felix Agnus has declined to be a candidate for the republican nomination for governor of Maryland. He prefers to lord it on the editorial tripod rather than to be roasted on the political spit.

It is evident that the Eastern firm which has just imported 600,000 pounds of tin-plate to Chicago has not heard that vast mills in various parts of the country are just upon the point of flooding the home market with that product. They ought to read the McKinley newspapers.

The people who expect John Wana-maker to resign from the cabinet do not know the man. Will he give away the dry goods in his great Philadelphia store which he has bought and paid for? Of course not. Neither will he give away his cabinet position, which he just as truly bought and paid for. It cost him a good stiff price and he will hold on to it.

The cyclone is a broad disturbance, having a diameter of from 300 to 500 miles, and some times 1000 miles. It is a vast eddy in the atmosphere, and moves along in that medium very much as the eddies in a stream of water. The air does not have an actual circular motion at any place within the disturbed area, but only a tendency to spiral movement.

For one thing we may thank Major McKinley and those who aided and abetted the iniquity which dishonors his name—they have obliterated all differences among democrats and give boldness to the enemies of protection. It has been a long time since the Ohio democrats declared for a "tariff for revenue only" as they do now.

THE MANIFEST DESTINY OF THE SUB-TREASURY SCHEME.

The Farmers' Alliance succeeded in electing Tillman governor of South Carolina, and he is now an active opponent of the sub-treasury warehouse scheme. The same movement succeeded in electing Northern governor of Georgia, and he is now an equally active opponent of the sub-treasury. L. F. Livingston, president of the Georgia Alliance, is now proposing a substitute for the sub-treasury, one feature of the substitute being that the farmers shall build the warehouses themselves instead of asking the government to do so. This is a long step toward the position of "The Voice," that the sub-treasury warehouse scheme is an excellent co-operative plan for the farmers to carry out themselves, but a very foolish one to ask the government to carry out for them. Livingstone, in the course of his proposition, uses the following suggestive sentence:

"All that we insist upon is thus briefly stated: We demand that the amount of circulating medium be speedily increased to not less than $50 per capita."

This is an entire abandonment of the grounds on which Dr. Macene urges the sub-treasury scheme. In addition, "The Sentinel," of Chicago (Colonel Norton's paper), has come out in opposition to the sub-treasury scheme, declaring that it does so for the good of the Alliance. The present contest in Mississippi has been over the sub-treasury, and it is already apparent that the Alliance has lost there, though fully as strong in that state as in Georgia and South Carolina, where, by selecting candidates who are opposed to the sub-treasury, it gained important victories.

The Alliance, as a political movement at least, is certainly going to smash on this sub-treasury, or the scheme itself will go to smash. The same is true of the People's Party. The Western National Alliance has refused to endorse the scheme, and the National Grange has in an official document denounced it as "unwise and impracticable." It is the blind political folly to persist, under the circumstances, in pushing such a measure to the front as the test of fealty to the movement.

If the People's Party wants to exhibit an act of statesmanlike wisdom, it will "swap off" the sub-treasury scheme for a prohibition plank, and the land-loan scheme for a plank in favor of an issue of treasury notes, based on gold and silver bullion, issued by direct payments for government expenses, in the proportion of $3 in notes to each $1 of bullion, until there is $50 per caput in circulation.—Voice.

WANTED, at once, for canning purposes Royal Ann and Black Republican cherries, peach plums, Bartlett pears, black raspberries and blackberries, for which I will pay the highest market price. G. W. SIMPSON.

A curious case has developed in Chicago where a man whose scalp has been badly cut called a surgeon to dress his wound. The surgeon sewed together the gaping edges of the scalp, but finding that the man had no money to pay him, took out the stitches. The judge before whom the surgeon was arraigned held that he had the right to undo his work. Such ruling must be based on a presumption that the medical profession has no other nor higher object.

For Quay to retire from the chairmanship of the National Republican Committee and Clarkon to take his place reminds us of St John's story about the doctor who was asked by a patient what he should do for his bad breath. The doctor asked for a whiff of it, and was knocked down. As he arose he gasped out: "Great heavens! Eat assafoetida; that may improve it some."

The able treasury officials who once sent back an English clergyman on the ground that he was contract laborer have now assessed a duty of 60 per cent upon crucifixes. And these things occur under an administration that claimed to have been put in office by the special exertions of the divinity.

THE CRY OF MILLIONS

OH, MY BACK! STOP IT NOW, SOON IT WILL BE TOO LATE. I have been troubled many years with disease of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies and have sought aid from different physicians without relief. About the 15th of April I was suffering from a very violent attack that almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was bent over. When I sat down it was almost impossible for me to get up alone, or to put on my clothes, when kind Providence sent Dr. Henley, with his OREGON KIDNEY TEA, to my hotel. I immediately commenced using the tea. It had an almost miraculous effect, and to the astonishment of all the guests at the hotel, in a few days I am happy to state, that I was a new man. I will recommend the tea to all afflicted as I have been.
