

WEATHER REPORT.

OREGON WEATHER BUREAU. CENTRAL OFFICE, PORTLAND, OREGON. CROP-WEATHER BULLETIN No. 21, FOR THE WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, AUG. 1, 1891.

In western Oregon the week has been warm, though there has been an absence of excessively warm days. The maximum temperature ranged from 80 to 90 degrees; the minimum temperature from 53 to 65 degrees.

Fall wheat is nearly all cut and shocked. Threshers will begin operations next week. Reports all indicate that the fall wheat was never better both as to quality and quantity. Spring wheat is being cut in place. Rust in Douglas county has seriously affected spring wheat. Spring oats are being cut in places; some early oats are being delivered, and a report from Corvallis says it weighs 100 pounds to the sack. Some young orchards were injured by the extreme heat of the 23rd. Hop lice have developed rapidly in past ten days and serious results are feared from them. The codlin moth's ravages continue. Southern Oregon fruit is better than that of the valley counties, i.e. more plentiful and more free from insects. In Curry county 5 and 6 tons of clover hay to the acre was secured. Timothy hay averaged 3 tons to the acre.

In eastern Oregon warm weather has continued and no rain is reported to have fallen. The maximum temperature ranged from 85 to 100 degrees; the minimum temperature from 60 to 70.

The weather conditions have been favorable to the wheat harvest which is in full operation. As was expected the wheat has never been better, both as to quality and quantity.

"German Syrup"

Here is an incident from the South—Mississippi, written in April, 1890, just after the Grippe had visited that country. "I am a farmer, one of those who have to rise early and work late. At the beginning of last Winter I was on a trip to the City of Vicksburg, Miss., where I got well drenched in a shower of rain. I went home and was soon after seized with a dry, hacking cough. This grew worse every day, until I had to seek relief. I consulted Dr. Dixon who has since died, and he told me to get a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. Meantime my cough grew worse and worse and then the Grippe came along and I caught that also very severely. My condition then compelled me to do something. I got two bottles of German Syrup. I began using them, and before taking much of the second bottle, I was entirely clear of the Cough that had hung to me so long, the Grippe, and all its bad effects. I felt tip-top and have felt that way ever since." PETER J. BRIALS, Jr., Cayuga, Hines Co., Miss.
