

WASHINGTON.

(From our regular correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, July 27, 1891.

There is no longer room for doubt that Mr Blaine's friends propose making war upon Mr Harrison's candidacy. They have come to the conclusion that there is no other way of silencing the masked batteries of the Harrison forces which have been persistently silencing Blaine at every opportunity. A republican whose relations to the republican machine are intimate and influential said to a republican friend here: "Blaine doesn't want the nomination, and he is perfectly willing that Harrison shall have it; but his friends are not. They have received but little recognition from Harrison, and that little under protest, during his first administration, and they know that they may expect less should he be again elected; therefore they propose taking the matter in their own hands by seeing that Blaine is nominated, even if it is against his wishes."

This movement is the direct outcome of the belief that there has been a systematic effort on the part of Mr Harrison's immediate family and close friends, first to belittle the work which Mr Blaine has done as secretary of state, and later to drive him out of public life by misrepresenting the state of his health, and it is difficult to find an intelligent man in Washington, no matter what his political opinion may be, who does not believe that such an effort has been made, and not a few of them believe that Mr Harrison was fully cognizant of what was done, notwithstanding his profession of the most cordial friendship for Mr Blaine.

Treasury department officials seem to have no difficulty in interpreting the law just as the leaders of the republican party wish it interpreted. A case in point is the decision of the Commissioner of Immigration that skilled tin-plate workers may be brought to the country under contract without violating the law. Such a decision was necessary in order to bolster up the manufacture of tin-plate, which has grown so rapidly, on paper, since the McKinley bill became a law, and it was promptly given, on the ground, to quote the official language of the commissioner, that "the law plainly intended that skilled labor may be imported into the United States to do the work of an industry not yet established, provided skilled workmen in that industry cannot be found among our own people." If that be the proper construction of the alien contract law it is now in order for the Chicago merchant to enquire why he was compelled to send the two Japanese Jintiska men back to Japan. That would certainly have been a new industry.

The continued absence of Commissioner Raum from his post of duty is exciting much unfavorable comment. Up to July 1, he had been away from his office 240 days, and on the 3d of the month he went away and has not yet returned. All this time he is supposed to be devoting to his private business while he draws a salary of $6,000 a year to devote his time to the business of the Pension bureau; but it may be set down as certain that his superior officers believe that he is also doing some work for Mr Harrison among the old soldiers or he would not be allowed to spend so much time away from his office.

A number of republicans of prominence have been here trying to persuade Indian Commissioner Morgan to reverse his recently announced anti-Catholic policy in running the Indian schools; they told him that his action would cost the republican party thousands of Catholic votes, and that it was not justified by the facts, which show that much good has been done in the Indian country by Catholic priests and schools, but he continues obstinate, and has intimated that his course is fully approved of by the administration.

According to a story told here a committee of prominent republicans of Philadelphia went to Cape May Point a few days ago for the purpose of suggesting to Mr Harrison the advisability of his getting rid of Mr Wanamaker, not because they believe that gentleman to be dishonest, but because of his misfortune in having been on such very friendly terms with so many dishonest men. They were told by Mr Harrison that when he needed their advice about his cabinet he would send for them.

The awarding of the contract for cruiser number 13 to the Cramp's of Philadelphia, by Secretary Tracy may raise a big row, as the price which is to be paid, $2,600,000, was not the bid of the Cramps, but of the Bath Iron Works, of Maine. The excuse for giving the work to the Cramps is that they have better facilities than the Maine concern.

A delegation from Mobile, Alabama, headed by Representative Clark, are trying to get Mr Wanamaker to amend his advertisement by including that city in the ports from which the subsidized lines of steamers shall run, but there is little prospect of success. There are not enough republican votes in Alabama.

A petition signed by 15,000 members of the order of Patrons of Industry has been presented to the Dominion house of commons, praying for a removal of the import duty on binding twine, salt and sugar, and setting these articles on the free list. Our Canadian farmer friends are also getting their eyes open.

A recent dispatch from Sprague, Wash. says:

It has been rumored for several weeks that the Farmers' Alliance of this county proposed to present a candidate for governor of the state of Washington at the next general election, and that the pressure which is being brought to bear upon other alliances throughout the state a Lincoln county man would be selected for gubernatorial honors. The man mentioned for such candidate is the Hon J B Irvine, at one time a member of the legislature of Oregon. Mr Irvine is a well-to-do farmer and is a prominent figure in all county affairs. He is above the average orators, and above all is an honest man. But, then, the republican and democratic parties will most probably have something to say as to who shall be governor of this new state.

Mr Irvine is a brother of the Hon R A Irvine of this city and is well known in this county, having resided here for many years.

The election in Kentucky yesterday, resulted in an overwhelming victory for the democrats. They elect their state ticket by majorities ranging from 28,000 to 50,000. They have an overwhelming majority in the legislature. The third party polled about 20,000 votes. In only a few cases did the farmers put out a separate ticket for the legislature against the democrats. Nearly all the 20,000 votes cast by the third party were republicans.

The Road to Wealth

Cannot be successfully traveled without good health. To reach wealth or any coveted position in life requires the full possession and operation of all the faculties kind nature has endowed us with. These conditions cannot exist unless the physical being is in perfect working order, and this is impossible when the liver and spleen are torpid, thus obstructing the circulation, causing indigestion and dyspepsia, with all of their accompanying horrors.

DR. HENLEY'S English Bandelion Tonic exerts a powerful influence over the liver, excites healthy action, resolves its chronic enlargements, and promotes the secretions; cures indigestion and constipation, sharpens the appetite, tones up the entire system, and makes life worth living.
