DAY AUGUST 13, 1891.

ITY OFFICIAL PAPER.

LOCAL RECORD.

AN OFF.—The Oregonian, speaking of the escape at this city, says:

James, of the county jail, was the least surprised in hearing of the escape of Joseph Miller from the jail here.

Miller, it will be remembered, was the principal witness in the Smith here and by the name of the Portland courts are considered turning state's evidence.

Prisoner in the county jail here had a female confederate, who had a lot of tools into his cell for the purpose of aiding him to escape.

However, were discovered and the jail break here was nipped. A woman, who went by the name of Smith here and by the name of Taylor on the Sound, first gave Howard $10 with which to buy tools.

Howard refused and spent the money for whiskey. Lillie then told Miller of this, and he peached on Howard.

Howard was arrested and got two years for being an accomplice in the robbery. Jailer James is satisfied that this woman aided Miller to make his escape from the jail at Albany.

He warned the authorities when they took Miller away from here, but it seems the advice did no good. She disappeared from Portland about the time Miller was taken away, and there is scarcely a question but what she accomplished her purpose by playing the role of a sorrowing sister or sympathizing friend.

Miller is to be heard case, and it is generally believed he engineered all the freight robberies both here and on the Sound.

Jailer James is completely mistaken. The woman was never near the jail to the knowledge of the sheriff or his deputies, nor any other woman. The above is an unjust and big jump at conclusions.

A TRAMP WITH MONEY.—Monday evening deputy U S marshal Watrus arrested supposed vagabond for selling liquor to Indians. The vag had been here since Saturday and slept in the brush on his blankets. Yet on his person when searched at the county jail were found $50 in currency, two certificates of deposit for $100 each on the First National Bank of Moscow, in favor of John Lucy, check book of the same bank and a receipt for a note in John Lucy's name, the whole amounting to $539.

The prisoner of course gave his name as John Lucy and it might be that he is tramping about the country for economical reasons, yet there is a suspicion that he might have stolen the wealth found on his person.—Pendleton E. O.

WM. M. HOAG, of the Oregon Pacific, arrived in Albany this morning from San Francisco, and took a special train for Corvallis. Mr Hoag said he proposed to stand in with the boys and see that they get their pay. The truth is Mr Hoag doesn't get the credit for present embarrassment, the general opinion of the employees being that he has always done his best in the matter; but the New York office gets the benefits of the extended delay. The public as well as Mr Hoag propose to stand in with the boys.

GONE TO LEBANON.—The Weekly Advance, the Farmers Alliance paper recently started in Eugene by Alexander & Adams, was moved by team to the town of Lebanon, Linn county, Wednesday, where we understand its publication will be continued, for a time at least. This is the third paper that has failed in Lane county during the past two months. Namely, the Springfield Gazette, Junction Plot, and lastly the Advance.—Guard.

ANOTHER SUSPENSION.—The Grays Harbor Times, published by Ted Piper, once of Albany has suspended publication, and Mr Piper will take the plant to Seattle. He has been offered positions on the Seattle Post-Intelligencer and Oregonian, and will accept one of them. Mr Piper is a good newspaper man, but Grays Harbor's big boom did not materialize and there was little left there for an editor to build hopes on.

A NEW ENGINEER.—Tuesday's Portland Daily Telegram says: Lieut Knuckbecker, C. E., has arrived in this city from Seattle. He goes to Yaquina Bay for the present to relieve Gwyn A Lyell, assistant engineer, in charge of government works there. Mr Lyell is to go to the Siuslaw and make a start of the works at that point, as indicated by recent telegraphic orders from the engineer department at Washington.

THE FAIR.—Linn county farmers should take exhibits to the state fair. This county has never done much in this line, why should it not be heard from. Some valuable premiums are offered, and there is no reason why they should not be secured for the banner county of the state. Oregon people should make the fair a credit to the state, and every section should do its part.

WALL PAPER, ETC.—I have just received a new line of wall paper and decorations. Have more than doubled my facilities for handling them, and will keep a much larger stock. Wall paper and border to match. Beauties, and much cheaper than ever before. SAMUEL E. YOUNG.

NEW PROCESS.—Mrs A M-Tait is now selling a new process for canning fruits and vegetables without cooking or sealing airtight. Samples of her work may be seen at Brownell's store.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

The photograph man is in the city. J G Crawford and family went to Yaquina Bay this noon.

T F Smith, of Green county, N Y., has been in the city looking for a location.

Mr Cass Humphrey, of the state printing office, came up this noon for a days visit.

Branard Montanye has been confined to his home with typhoid fever for a couple weeks.

Mrs W H Raymond left this noon for Portland, to join her husband, the well-known insurance man.

Mr Durham, ex-superintendent of the Oregon Pacific, was in the city today with his wife and daughter.

G W Harris, the miner, has been in the city a few days. Mr Harris pins his faith on the Santiam mines.

The bicycle Chas Sears rode from Corvallis to Albany, Tuesday, was a Victor. Instead of a Colun bia, as stated yesterday.

Deputy Chas Scott is out after Miller, the escaped jail bird. Clues were obtained yesterday, but not enough to secure him.

Mr Cleveland and daughter, of Portland, father and sister of the young man drowned near Scio, a few weeks ago, have been in the city today.

Roe Hodges and son Lewis and Dave Hamer left this week for California with 150 head of horses. They expect to get $50 to $60 per head for the animals.—Prineville News.

Attorney General Chamberlain has been at Corvallis, looking into the affairs of the Oregon Pacific employees. Judge Shattuck will hear the case, in the absence of Circuit Judge Pipes.

Parkhurst & Loyd, the Pacific Union Insurance men, having completed the re-rating of Albany, went to Oregon City this noon. Most Albany rates will remain as heretofore, a few will be lowered, and some raised.

E S Barrows, the insurance man, arrived home last evening from a trip to Wisconsin, and seemed delighted to get back among his Albany friends. Though at one time he was only two hours behind his daughter, coming from Denver, the fortunes of travel brought him here twenty four hours later.

This morning Robert Burns turned over the office of the Union Pacific railroad company in this city to A J Bizell, of Victoria, who will now serve that company as agent. In a few days Mr Burns will leave for Portland, where he will act as agent for the company.—Walla Walla Statesman. Mr Rawlings, of this city has already succeeded Mr Bizell.

James J Charlton arrived in Albany this morning from New York, where he is now a student in the law office of Alexander & Green, one of the leading firms of the city, it not enjoying the largest practice, employing thirty clerks alone. Mr Charlton will remain about a month, and left on the afternoon train for his father's home in Santiam precinct, where he will spend most of the time.

THE REASON.—The Railroad Commissioners gave as their reasons for reducing freight rates on the S. P., as follows: "We find that the said freight rates, schedules and classifications, made, used and employed by said company on its lines in the state of Oregon, are unjust and unreasonable, and more than a fair compensation for the services rendered or to be rendered in the transportation of freight on its said road; and they then issued the following imperative order: "You will, therefore, at a day not later than September 1, 1891, cancel and annul all rates, orders, tariffs, classifications and rules in force on your lines in conflict with the above findings, and put into force and effect the schedules, tariffs and classifications as revised and modified by this board."

F J Miller, Secretary of the R. R. Commission, is in the city today, and gives the DEMOCRAT a schedule of the proposed freight charges. They do not affect Albany much as our rates are already down, owing to O. P. competition. Following are the rates to East Portland under it: Grain, flour, feed and mill stuff, 9 cents per 100 lbs; green fruits in car loads, 15 cents per 100 lbs, in less than car loads, 18 cents; vegetables, 13 cents, reduced 2 cents; wood, soft, by car load, 5; hard wood, 6; lumber, 7 1/2, former price 10; horses or mules per car, $36; cattle, hogs and sheep, $28. The price to Lebanon is 1 cent more, $4 more on horses and $3 more on cattle. There will probably be a contest over it.

AT BLUE RIVER.—The men who recently took a small stamp mill into the Poorman mine in the Blue river district, have had trouble in getting bolts to put the machine together, those used before the machine was taken apart being carelessly lost. They have got to build a long flume and saw out lumber for the same by hand, so it will probably be two weeks or more before they will be ready to operate. There are ten men working in the Poorman mine and they have tunneled into the hill nearly two hundred feet and some rich ore is brought out. The tunnel is six feet square and requires no timbering except in one or two places.—Register.

The sooner Sodaville gets its motor line the better. It will be for that place. The regular back between Lebanon and that place charges 30 cents apiece for passengers, babies full price.

The school fund for Oregon has been apportioned. It amounts to $153,151.97, giving $1.45 per capita. Linn county comes third in the list, with 6,600 children and $9,570 in money.

Dr McCornack has resigned his position as surgeon for the Southern Pacific R R Co at this place and the company are now looking around for another one. It is a glory job, the only compensation for services rendered being a pass over 75 miles of the road.—Eugene Register.

The lieutenant (pointing to the canyon)—If you don't accept me, tomorrow I shall be down at the bottom of that canyon.

The colonel's daughter—What—dead? The lieutenant—No, fishing.

If you kill a cricket, other crickets will gather around and pick his bones before going another hop. In Harney county, where they are troubled with crickets, they use this fact for all it is worth. They drive a band of sheep across the crickets' line of march a few times and tramp a few millions to death. Then the whole army of crickets gather around the dead pioneers and the sheep do the rest.—Klamath Star.

The council have been trying for three months to elect a nightwatch. They took five or six ballots again last night, with the same result. There are three or four applications for the position and a majority of the council cannot agree upon one man. In the meantime the city is paying a salary for a dissatisfied service.—Corvallis Times.

Recently at New Haven when Barnum's circus was there two hundred Yale students attacked the parade with big torpedoes, almost causing a panic; the bandmen hid under their seats, riders were dismounted, the lions, tigers, etc., roared and growled, only with difficulty being kept off their trainers; the elephants lashed their trunks in fury and it was almost impossible to keep them off the crowd. Finally they started for the students, who were obliged to retreat into stores, and thinking they had carried the business far enough quit.

A genuine romance has culminated at Santa Cruz. For three or four months two Germans have been living there very much like tramps, with only a miserable little shanty in Blackburn gulch for a home. One has inquired often at the postoffice for a letter for Wolfgang Bellestrom. At last the "letter looked for" came Friday, the 7th inst. It was addressed to Count Wolfgang Bellestrom and was from the German consul at San Francisco, announcing the death of Wolfgang's father near Berlin, Germany, and the inheritance of the estates and title by Wolfgang, who is the eldest son.

A New Westminster special says: The Jacrosse match this afternoon in Queen's Park, New Westminster vs Vancouver, was a very bloody exhibition. One man's face was sliced open, another's ear was split and another's lip was split. One man, Allen of New Westminster, was struck in the stomach by the knee of a Vancouver man. Scurry (colored) is not expected to live and was carried off the grounds on a stretcher. All the players are bleeding with bad wounds. Many ladies in the grand stand had to go away. A great deal of bad feeling is shown. Vancouver won four games to one. Big money changed hands.

A pleasant grove meeting and basket dinner were enjoyed by some 100 people above Pilot Rock. Several attended, it is said, for the purpose of being immersed, but the Methodist preacher by whom the meeting was conducted argued that pouring is the only method of baptism for which authority is given in the Bible. Still he would either sprinkle or immerse if his converts desired it, as the Methodist church allowed that privilege; but they backed out, as they did not wish to be immersed by a minister who did not himself believe in immersion.—E. O.

DELINQUENCY TAX NOTICE.—School taxes are now delinquent. The clerk is making out the delinquent list which will be in the hands of the sheriff as soon as completed. Those who have not paid, had better do so before costs of collection are added. Last notice.

PASSED THE HAT.—Two well dressed musicians gave horn duets on the streets last night, good performances. When first seen people wondered what was up, thought a patent sale was coming, or something of a high toned order. "Surely," they said, "they can't be hat men." But they were, doing it in regular order. Why not. The hat is passed for the lecturer and numerous other such things, why not for strolling musicians, even though of the dandish order.

I recognized it at once as the herb that the Mexicans used to give us in the early 50's for bowel troubles. (I came to California in 1852.) and I knew it would help me and it has. For the first time in years I can sleep well and my system is regular and in splendid condition. The old Mexican herbs in this remedy are a certain cure in constipation and bowel troubles." Ask for
