three fourths of the teas consumed are "Green Teas" Unpleasant as the fact may be, the bright, shiny green so familiar to us all is not the natural color, but is due to the facing or glazing of the tea with Prussian blue, Indigo and other mineral colors.

That coloring hides the effects of poor teas is undoubted; but is it healthful, and does it not call loudly for the importation of a brane of pure, uncolored, unman-ipulated tea?

It was this condition of affairs that prompted the placing of Beech's Tea hefore the public. Being the absolutely pure, in-celored leaf it is different in color from any yeu ever used. It draws fragrance that is a revelation to fragrance that is a revelation to teadrinkers, and its purity makes it more economical than the arti-ficial teas, less of it being required for any cost long the second s
