

THE DEMOCRATS OF WASHINGTON.

The democrats in our sister state have a very perfect organization and are preparing for the great political conflict of 1892. The organization is known as the Society of Washington and is composed of a union of all the county, city and precinct organizations existing throughout the several counties of the state.

WHAT OF OHIO?

Col. James E. Neal, chairman, and Capt. Barger, vice-chairman of the Ohio democratic committee, have both been singularly successful as managers of hard-fought campaigns. As to the chances of the present campaign Col. Neal says to a representative of the New York Times:

"You will give me credit for never making claims for the mere sake of making a bluff or for buncombe. At the present time, as we are about to open the contest, there is no man living able to say, with any degree of certainty, what the result will be in November. Neither party has a mortgage on the election, and I regard our chances quite as good as the republicans'.

"The general tendency of the people is in our favor. There prevails a feeling of discontent among the farmers, and this has also spread to the various labor organizations that have been held as in a vise for years to the support of the republican party, having been made to believe that good wages would follow the success of that party.

"The tenor of our information from the northwestern counties, is the most encouraging. From localities where we were not expecting much the news is the most promising. That locality is full of manufacturing industries, and the laborers have been very thoroughly worn out with the cry of the high protectionists during the past ten or fifteen years and are quietly organizing against it.

"The strength that the new party may develop is entirely problematical. Whether the farmers will give their support to the people's party movement or not, cannot be stated at this time. Undoubtedly some may do so, but it is an open question whether they rally to the support of the movement as an organization.

"I am more sanguine of success than at any period of the contest two years ago, when Gov. Campbell swapt the state. We are fully and completely organized, not only in the townships and schools districts, but in nearly all the counties. The democrats did not need a letter of instructions from the state committee before commencing work. We are holding small meetings in every farming community. The contest will be conducted on a high standard and the intelligence of these people appealed to rather than their prejudices.

Worshippers at the shrine of McKinleyism, with the zeal always manifested by blind followers, now tell us that since the passage of the tariff law the price of woolen goods has gone down. These people seem to overlook the fact that never in the history of our country in times of peace have our markets been so loaded down with ingeniously wrought shoddy 'woolen' goods.

They are planning in England to establish an agricultural school for women, in which special attention will be paid to teaching dairy work and the raising and taking care of poultry.

THE CRY OF MILLIONS

OH, MY BACK! STOP IT NOW, SOON IT WILL BE TOO LATE. I have been troubled many years with disease of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies and have sought aid from different physicians without relief. About the 15th of April I was suffering from a very violent attack that almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was never. When I at down it was almost impossible for me to get up alone, or to put on my clothes, while kind Providence sent Dr. HENLEY, with OREGON KIDNEY TEA, to my hotel. I immediately commenced using the tea. It had an almost miraculous effect, and to the astonishment of all the guests at the hotel, in a few days, I am happy to state, that I was a new man. I will recommend the tea to all afflicted as I have been.
