

HINTS TO HOUSEKEEPERS

Buttermilk will take out mildew stains. Tubs will not warp or crack open if the precaution is taken to put a pail of water into each, directly after using.

The water tank or cooler in which the drinking water is kept should be lined with porcelain, and it should be emptied and thoroughly cleansed every morning before the fresh water and ice are put in.

A delicious dainty for hot weather lunches is asparagus salad. After the stalks are boiled they should be plunged at once into iced water, which prevents them from losing their natural color, and also keeps them straight. Make a dressing of oil, salt and pepper, substituting for vinegar a generous amount of lemon juice. This succulent vegetable is never eaten under more delicate and appetizing auspices than these.

For severe hemorrhage from the nose, try holding the arms of the patient up over the head for five minutes at a time. A small piece of ice wrapped in muslin and laid directly over the top of the nose will usually give relief.

If any cooked salmon is left over, use it next day in this way: Divide it into nicely trimmed pieces, saute them quickly on both sides in a little hot butter, then serve them with a cold sauce remoulade. To make this, take the yolks of two hard-boiled eggs; when cold, press them flat with a spoon, and stir them with a teaspoonful of vinegar until smooth; add little by little one teaspoonful olive oil and two tablespoonfuls of French mustard, then one teaspoonful of minced onion, two teaspoonfuls of minced parsley, a pinch of white pepper, salt to taste, and if not sufficiently sour, the juice of a lemon. This sauce will keep for days.

If the eyes are tired and inflamed from loss of sleep, by sitting up late or long travel, apply in the morning soft white linen, dripping with hot water—as hot as you can bear it—laying the cloth upon the lids. You will feel the eyes strong and free from pain or distress in half an hour. For a cut, take powdered resin, pound it very fine, and spread or sift it over the cut; wrap a piece of soft linen around it, and wet it in cold water quite often. This will prevent inflammation and soreness.

Light, crisp wafers of molasses, or made largely of butter and sugar, make an excellent substitute for loaf cake in summer. By many they are liked for breakfast, with the cup of coffee, or at luncheon with cocoa. A good sized batch of sugar cookies may be made from the following recipe: Mix one cup of butter with two cups of sugar, and when they are creamy add two well-beaten eggs, one-half cup of milk, three cups of flour and one teaspoonful of soda. Flavor with vanilla or almond. Roll the dough very thin. These are very good, and rich enough to keep two weeks.

A new invention for the purpose of remedying projecting ears in a child has recently appeared. It is an open cap made in the form of a light skeleton of elastic tapes, which converge over the ears. It is worn at night and presses the ears gently down. Being tied under the chin it is said also to prevent the habit of sleeping with the mouth open, which produces that snoring breathing ineligently termed snoring.

For molding blanc-mange, creams and jellies, the familiar forms of the pineapple, ear of corn, bunch of grapes or peach are the most satisfactory. Cheap tin molds, used with care, will last a long time; those of heavier tin or the imported molds are some what expensive. Earthenware molds are easily kept sweet, and are the best for some purposes, but they hold the heat a long time, and the figure is not distinctly marked in the ware. Always dissolve gelatine in an equal measure of cold water; if put into hot water at first a strong taste is developed. It will dissolve in fifteen minutes, but may stand two hours without injury. Pure gelatine, if properly cooked, has no taste, it has very little nutriment, but yet is useful as a food element. In summer more gelatine is needed, for the same results, than in winter.

In using an egg beater do not hold in one place; move it round in the bowl.

The scarcity of food in some portions of Russia and Germany already amounts to famine. This may restrain the warlike tendencies of those nations, and thus preserve peace. Were it not for crop failures, and the consequent hard times that several European governments will experience, nothing would be more probable than a war, in which Russia and Germany must become involved. It is possible that scarcity of food, moderated by the supplies from this country, will prove a lesser evil than war.

Governor Campbell and McKinley will meet in political battle array on the 5th of October at Ada, Ohio. This discussion will be looked to with much interest.

CAN NOT IMPROVE IT.

The democratic papers cannot forgive Minister Egan's unpardonable offense of being an Irish republican. They cannot forgive any foreigner who elects to be not a democrat. The foreigner who preserves his inalienable right of political choice and chooses to be not a democrat is under their ban. The colored man who will not become a democrat they can never respect as a citizen. Yet they talk of liberty, equality and rights!—Capital Journal.

THE CRY OF MILLIONS

OH, MY BACK! STOP IT NOW, SOON IT WILL BE TOO LATE.

I have been troubled many years with disease of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies and have sought aid from different physicians without relief. About the 15th of April I was suffering from a very violent attack that almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was bent over. When I got up it was almost impossible for me to get up alone, or to put on my clothes, when kind Providence sent Dr. Henley with OREGON KIDNEY TEA, to my hotel. I immediately commenced using the tea. It had an almost miraculous effect, and to the astonishment of all the guests at the hotel, in a few days I am happy to state that I was a new man. I will recommend the tea to all afflicted as I have been.
