

RINGING LETTER.

The following was written by Governor Pennoyer in response to the democratic managers who had in charge the democratic gathering at Spokane the 23rd and 24th inst:

STATE OF OREGON, EXECUTIVE OFFICE, SALEM, Sept. 4, 1891.

To Hon. Henry Drum, President; George Hazzard, Secretary, of the democratic society of Washington—Dear Sirs: In answer to your kind invitation to be present at the second annual meeting of your society, to be held in the city of Spokane on the 23rd and 24th of September, I regret to say that official duties will preclude its acceptance. Allow me, however, to express the sincere hope that such convention may be conducive of great good.

I cannot avoid the conviction that the immediate future is to be a crucial period for the democratic party, as well as for the government itself. The people are ripe for a return to the old methods of government and the democratic party must lead in such a revolution, or fall by the wayside. The republican party which has had control of the federal government for the last thirty years has succeeded in the obliteration of the ancient landmarks of frugal government, enthronement of corporate power by national legislation, in the surrender of the finances of the nation to capitalists enriched by virtue of statutory favors, and in the practical subversion of our constitutional government in essence, if not in form.

Thirty years ago, when the national administration was turned over to the republican party there was no class legislation upon the statute books of congress. Industries were thriving without artificial stimulus, and the money employed therein was so generally diffused and so remunerative that it was loath to be invested in government bonds bearing interest at eight and ten per cent. What is the record now? After thirty years of republican legislation, we find the industries demanding legislative protection in order to eke out existence. Class legislation is written on nearly every page of congressional enactments. Congress has given the great bulk of our public domain now remaining fit for settlement to railroad corporations to be doled out of their enrichment, at the highest figures to the poor settlers seeking homes. It has surrendered the control of the national finances to a class of capitalists who have been made millionaires by legislative enactments at the people's expense, while the great bulk of the money of the country is now hoarded in the banks, the property of the few, and so precarious are its returns when employed in business pursuits that it gladly seeks investment in government securities at 3 and 4 per cent. It has legislated the few rich and the many poor.

Today the power of trusts and corporations controls the legislation of congress, and capitalists dominate the financial policy of the administration. These are a few instances in a large, unbroken line of pernicious class legislation, having for its object the continuance of party domination, through the granting of benefits to capitalists, corporations and favored industries with the view of receiving pecuniary aid in return for legislative favors. And to crown the apex of its infamous legislation, the republican party endeavored to confer upon the president, whom it had already made commander-in-chief of the army in time of peace, the right to use the military forces in the control of elections, in order to bolster up its waning power with the sword. Against the continuance of such a nefarious administration of national affairs, there is ripening an overwhelming revolt. In such a crisis the democratic party cannot and dare not remain neutral. It must, in obedience to its earlier and better record, bid defiance to the money power and declare its unflinching opposition to all class legislation. In the coming struggle, continual silence as to the financial abuses of the country and repeated plastering with class tariff legislation will be fatal. The old slogan of the organization must be revived. The old ensign must be nailed to the mast. The spirit of the ancient democracy is pervading the whole people. Opposition to the present financial policy of the government and to all phases of class legislation is the rallying cry of the great masses, and if the democratic party will, in the coming contest, be faithful to its ancient record, obedient to its instincts, and true to the interests of the whole people, it will triumph; if not, it will fail. Very respectfully, SYLVESTER PENNOYER.

A dispatch from Atlanta Ga., says: This morning, in the Georgia legislature, the much mooted Ocala resolutions, as endorsed by the alliance and demanded by them of the next congress, were introduced for the approval and endorsement of that body. The resolutions were defeated by a vote of 51 to 63. This is somewhat a triumph over the third party movement in this state. Here is still additional evidence that the subsidy scheme is rapidly losing ground. Only a few weeks ago the Georgia legislature was almost a unit for the scheme, now it has not even a majority.

Hart & Phillips, the tailors, make to order fashionable suits in latest styles, in a manner so give satisfaction. Call at their rooms, up stairs, Strahan block, and see goods and get prices.

A large line of elegant gold watches in taste were shown at Will & Stark's.

When Mr. Porter's census of farm mortgages shows that the state is mortgaged for over 50 per cent of its total assessed value, all the republicans have left is the theory that the mortgage is an evidence of progress and prosperity. It certainly is the kind of progress and prosperity they create with their high tariff taxes and Wall street finances.

It is said that a Paris laundryman has discarded all soaps, sodas and bleaching powders. He merely uses plenty of water and boiled potatoes, and can cleanse, without employing any alkali, the worst soiled linens, cottons or woolens.

One reason why the southern farmer sticks to the cotton crop instead of cultivating diversified crops is that he can always secure a loan or advance of at least $10 per acre on the cotton crop. He can obtain no advance on a crop of corn.

Ex Governor Morehouse of Missouri committed suicide at Marysville Mo. the other day by cutting his throat with a common jack knife. Some time ago he became violently overheated and became delirious from nervous prostration.

THE CRY OF MILLIONS. OH, MY BACK! STOP IT NOW! SOON IT WILL BE TOO LATE. I have been troubled many years with disease of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies and have sought aid from different physicians without relief. About the 15th of April I was suffering from a very violent attack that almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was bent over. When I sat down it was almost impossible for me to get up alone, or to put on my clothes, which kind Providence sent Dr. Henley, with L. OREGON KIDNEY TEA, to my relief. I immediately commenced using the tea. It had an almost miraculous effect, and to the astonishment of all the guests at the hotel, in a few days I am happy to state, that I was a new man. I will recommend the tea to all afflicted as I have been. G. A. TOPPER, Proprietor Occidental Hotel, Santa Rosa, Cal.
