Read Local on 4th page.

THE CASE POSTPONED.—The Oregon Pacific case occupied the whole afternoon at Corvallis yesterday. Col Hogg filed his report as receiver, and admitted that he couldn't pay the hands. A representative of the Blair stockholders announced that if the court would remove Col Hogg as receiver and appoint a man whom he would name the men would all be paid once. After argument the case was adjourned until the 23rd inst, giving the receiver the intervening time in which to make the payment, when the road will be ordered sold in the regular form to pay the men.

The Corvallis Times, an anti Hogg paper, gives the following account of the case: Col Hogg was represented by two able attorneys from New York, and J K Weatherford and Geo E Chamberlain looked after the interests of the unpaid laborers. The oratory of the attorneys occupied the attention of the court all afternoon and by mutual consent further hearing was continued until Friday, Oct. 23rd, in order to give the attorneys for the petitioners time and opportunity to examine the report of the Receiver that had just been filed. In view of the fact that the laborers were still unpaid, Judge Pipes ordered that the road be advertised and sold by the sheriff as soon as possible, and although the date has not been fixed, it is understood the sale will occur within six weeks. The proceeds are to be paid into court and the wages due the employees are to be first considered.

WEBSTER'S TRIAL.—The Court's Mail of October 15th says: The trial of A D Webster for the murder of Robert Fales occupied two days of this week at the circuit court. There was very little interest in the trial and few people cared enough about the proceedings to attend. The evidence was very conflicting, and there is no doubt but what some first-class perjury was committed. The case was given to the jury Tuesday afternoon, and the jury, after considering the case all night, brought in a verdict at 8 o'clock on Wednesday morning. The verdict was "guilty of manslaughter." It is said on the first ballot the jury stood for murder in the first degree; five for manslaughter, and three for acquittal. Twelve ballots were taken and the jury did not begin to change until Wednesday morning. It is claimed that some fine work for the prisoner was done in getting up the jury, and public sentiment in the vicinity of the place where the crime was committed inclines to the opinion that the killing was a cold-blooded murder.

LITERARY SOCIETY MEETING.—The public school literary society held one of its most interesting sessions last evening. After an interesting program of recitations interspersed with music, came the discussion in which fourteen members took part. Mr T P Haeckleman, who received his primary education in the Albany public schools, then favored the society with a brief address that abounded in good humor and sound advice. The organization will in the near future give a public session, but as all the members are young speakers the society has by a unanimous vote ordered that, for the present, only members and their parents may be admitted.

LITTLE LORD FAUNTLEROY.—Last chance to-night to see our Native Daughter of our Golden West who plays a long dooked engagement through California, Oregon, Washington, British Columbia and Eastward—so we take pleasure in announcing the above company for it is a rare treat for Albany. They have played in the principal cities in the United States, including 18 weeks at Broadway theater; 10 weeks Boston Museum, Boston; 8 weeks Columbia Theater, Chicago; 6 weeks Madison Theater, San Francisco; 4 weeks Olympic Theater, St Louis; 4 weeks New California Theater, San Francisco, and others too numerous to mention. T Henry French's Little Lord Fauntleroy Company, direct from New York. Reserve seats now on sale at Will & Link's music store.

THE MERCURY MAN ARRESTED.—Yesterday at Corvallis B P Watson, editor of the Portland Sunday Mercury, was held by Justice Carlisle to await the action of grand jury on a charge of libeling the character of J K Scamford, city marshal of Corvallis. Watson gave bail, and a live case is expected at the next circuit court.

LEG BROKEN.—Yesterday Dr Leeper was rolling logs on his farm four miles from Albany, in Benton county, when his left leg was caught under one, breaking both bones just above the ankle. Dr J I Hill, of this city, was sent for and set the broken leg.

A FOOT RACE was run this forenoon at the fair ground between Squires, of this city, and Woods, of Benton county. The former won, in a run of 100 yards, by two feet, to the disappointment of the Corvallis man, who thought he had a walk over.

THE LATEST HITS.—Oh, What a Difference in the Morning, and "Hush, the Dogie Man." If you don't believe it go and ask Will & Link, who have these newest pieces of music for sale.

FOR SALE.—Twenty-four acre tract of land, well cultivated, suitable for prime orchard, $45 per acre. Inquire on premises of Wm St John, 4 miles west of Tazewell.

Elsewhere will be found the card of Dr J I Hill who has recently arrived in the city to practice his profession. He comes well recommended and solicits a share of the public patronage.

Ernest B Sprink, of Portland, came to the city today to consult a physician as to his health, which we regret to say is not good.

The following appear in the Oakland column of the Boebling Review: Dr Jones, of Albany, is visiting his mother, brother and sisters in Oakland this week. Rev Shangle is now a resident of Old Oakland. He will have stated appointments here.

Speaking of the Sloan-Dunnals wedding in Corvallis the Times seeks to get husbands for the young ladies of that city as follows: Congratulations are not only a regular order, but very appropriate. It is a matter of no little congratulation that so nice a young man as Mr Sloan should find it necessary to come to Benton county to find the right kind of a girl for a wife—it is well. There are plenty of splendid girls over here.

ALBANY'S PATRIOTIC SOCIETY.

A long felt want is being supplied in the organization of a society by the young men of Albany. The prime object of this organization is to afford to young men who seek to maintain reputable characters a pleasant place to spend their leisure time, without having to loaf about the streets or saloons. The organization of this club was completed last evening with a membership of fifteen, who have placed a sufficient amount of money to guarantee permanency. A suit of rooms have been leased for one year over the Oregon Bank. The same will be elegantly furnished at once. Officers have been elected and working committees appointed for the time being, and the boys seem determined to make this matter a success. So far this company is made up of young men who have felt the necessity of such an organization. But it is earnestly hoped and desired that older heads and the better classes of business and influential men of Albany will assist in this social enterprise by uniting with same if possible, or at least by lending their influence to our support. For it is evident that success depends not only upon the efforts of charter members, but largely upon the interest manifested by the better classes of Albany's good people. This move is certainly worthy of the support and influence of all good people. Rooms will be open, clean and warm at all times for members. Music, readings, debates, games, gymnastics, etc., etc., will be indulged in. Occasional entertainments will be given, and be it known that it will not be a strictly "anti-female society," for we expect to give the ladies the benefit of some of our best efforts. This institution is to be placed on a strictly moral basis, and discipline, order and gentility will be required. No profanity will be allowed, and game playing on Sundays will be prohibited. All men of good repute, young and old, will be welcomed, and will be admitted for a time on the same conditions as charter members.

The United Presbyterians.

The United Presbyterian Presbytery convened yesterday evening. The opening sermon was preached by Rev A F Kirkpatrick, of Tacoma. Mr Kirkpatrick is a pleasant and forcible speaker. After the sermon a social time was enjoyed.

The Presbytery met this morning for business. The moderator not being present, Rev A F Kirkpatrick was called on to preside over the meeting. The business was chiefly of a routine character. Rev J S Soerer was received into membership on certificate from the Presbytery of Concordia, Kansas. Mr Spear is to labor as a missionary on the Warm Springs Indian Reservation.

This afternoon a conference on Sabbath school work is in progress. The evening session will be devoted to a consideration of Young People's Work. A sermon on the subject will be presented by Rev S Dell Johnston, Seattle.

The Presbytery will remain in session until Thursday evening. On that evening the Synod of the Pacific east will assemble.

THE UNITED PRESBYTERIANS.

Fresh produce and fruits can always be secured at their stands at the lowest prices. You get good goods and prompt attention. In crockery, glassware, lamps, etc., they are also having a big run. A man recently inserted the following advertisement in a newspaper: For candor it surpasses all previous efforts: "Matrimony. Serious—Wanted, a wife to bother my life. Address—".

The San Francisco markets show potatoes overcropped and weak at 25c to 40c per hundred, except Burbanks, Peerless and Peachblows, at 45c to 55c. Oats are $1.35 to $1.45 a hundred; wheat, $1.65 to $1.75; peas, $1.75 to $2; apples, 75c to $1.00 a box, flour, $4.25 to $5 a barrel.

Since Hixon, the man brought here from Laramie City, Wyo., charged with stealing $90 from a companion at Creswell, was given an examination today before Justice Kinsey. After hearing the testimony and arguments of counsel he was discharged from custody. This evidence was purely circumstantial and very weak.—Eugene Guard.

WHEAT, 32 CENTS.

The following booming item appears in an obituary notice in a Yauhill paper: "And there on the beautiful spot of her choice she will calmly sleep in wakeless slumber, undisturbed by howling blasts of rolling thunder."

The census reports show generally that through the East the big cities are growing bigger and the villages are growing smaller. There is a mad rush for large places. A New York village of 1878 in 1880, a live little place then, in 1890 is given 1003, a sample of a great many other places.

A correspondent in the Corvallis Times says: Hon J P Galbraith, of Albany, is prominently mentioned as a strong Democratic candidate for Congress. I have known Mr Galbraith for a long time and can vouch for him being a good lawyer and business man and has proven himself a very efficient, honest officer in various positions that he has been placed in by the people of his county and being closely identified with the G A R interests in this state would make a strong race. I second the suggestion.

It is getting dangerous business to be a member of a city council. We mentioned the case of the Quincey council, who called each other pet names. The Newport, Ky., council are in a worse fix. Yesterday Judge Looney sent Mayor A L Berry and the members of the city council to jail for refusing to obey the order of the court to use lights furnished by the Newport Gas Co, as ordered by the court. The officials of the city are declared in contempt and were sent to jail for six months, or until further order of the court.
