

WASHINGTON.
(From our regular correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19, 1891.
The Harrison crowd has been shaken up from center to circumference by Mr. Blaine's letter explaining his position in relation to the McKinley tariff bill. They appear to regard the letter as Mr. Blaine's pronouncement, issued to inform his special friends and followers that he is still in the political ring. And if republican opinion here is a fair reflection of it elsewhere, it looks very much like a gigantic Blaine boom was about to be launched on the country, and that Bre'r Harrison was about to be crowded out of the hurrah, if such a thing can be done. One thing is very certain, Mr. Blaine's letter, which contains about nine parts endorsement of the Blaine reciprocity idea to one of the McKinley tariff act, is not the work of a sick man, but of a very shrewd wide-awake politician who is more intent upon pushing his own fortunes than upon helping McKinley. The fact is that Mr. Blaine will never forgive Maj. McKinley for snubbing him by ignoring every suggestion he made when the original McKinley bill was being constructed, and while he is too strict a party man to oppose McKinley's election he would not grieve any to see him defeated.

The officials of the state department are apparently never so happy as when deceiving the public. After repeatedly denying that our minister to China, who by the way happens to be a good democrat—Gen. Denry, of Indiana,—had been instructed to join with the other powers in the recent demand upon China for the protection of foreigners resident in that country, they now acknowledge that such instructions were sent to him some time ago. There may be times when these officials would be justified in temporarily keeping knowledge in their possession from the public, but there is never any time when misstatements by officials are justifiable, and least of all are they justifiable in this case, which may involve the country in war.

Civil service Commissioner Roosevelt is again at his desk, and he is apparently trying to prevent the clerks in the government service from being bulldozed into giving up their money to political collectors. He says he intends to have a bill introduced in the next congress to make it a crime to send circulars to office-holders asking them to make political contributions. Mr. Roosevelt may be perfectly honest, but he should not have prolonged his vacation until the departments had been "worked" if he really wished to put a stop to this evil.

Mr. Harrison made an excellent short speech on international arbitration to the Methodist Ecumenical conference Saturday. Secretary Noble and Foster also made speeches.

Representatives Mills and Crisp, the rivals for the speakership, spent several days resting in Washington last week. They both have gone to fill campaign engagements, Mr. Mills to Massachusetts and Mr. Crisp to Ohio. The friends of both of these gentlemen claim their man to be in the lead in the speakership contest, although acknowledging that neither have enough votes to nominate, and there is more bad feeling shown by some of their followers than should exist in a friendly campaign. If this is not eliminated, there is a probability that neither of them will receive the nomination.

There is a rumor that Mr. Harrison is trying to make some sort of a combination to secure the support of Gen. Russell A. Alger, who is now in Washington. It is said, by request of Mr. Harrison. It seems queer to see so much trouble being taken to capture an empty honor.

A special train carried a large crowd of Washington people to the funeral of the late Representative W. H. P. Lee, which took place Saturday afternoon at his late residence, Ravensworth, Virginia.

Rev. James M. Townsend, the Indiana colored clergyman who was in 1889 made Recorder of the General Land Office, has resigned, for the purpose of returning to Indiana. It was at first rumored that the colored preacher-politician was going back home to fight Harrison's renomination, but the fact has now leaked that he goes at the special request of Mr. Harrison, to see if he cannot quell the anti-Harrison feeling which has of late shown itself to be rather strong among the colored voters of that state, as it would seriously interfere with the Harrison program to have it stated upon the floor of the republican national convention that any considerable body of voters in his own state were opposed to his nomination.

It is said that 32,000,000 Russian peasants are starving on account of failure of crops in that country. This is possibly exaggerated, as there are only 85,000,000 people in the empire, and the number in distress is larger than could be expected so soon after harvest. Probably the poverty of the peasantry rather than actual scarcity of food is now the cause of distress. The czar now has more reason to fear attacks on his life. Men desperate by hunger act without reasoning as to the effect of their actions. He is not responsible for crop failure, and he may not be for other evils for which he is held to account. His deposition is no longer of the autocratic kind. His advisers do not tell him the truth and probably much of his arbitrariness is the result of ignorance of the affairs of his empire.

Colony goods have not been as cheap since the war as they are now. Call and see what bargains we have.

The following from the Statesman is about the man who used to pollute the editorial columns of the Oregonian with an immorality not often equalled. He is now on the Seattle Post-Intelligencer: Editor Bigelow continues to slander the memory of the late Henry W. Grady in the columns of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, on which paper he is now employed as editorial writer. Grady was a broad man, with deep sympathies, and with great ability. Bigelow is a man with the sympathies of a hyena.

SICK

Head-Aches.

Sick-headaches are the outward indications of derangements of the stomach and bowels. As Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is the only bowel regulating preparation of Sarsaparilla, it is soon why it is the only appropriate Sarsaparilla in sick-headaches. It is not only appropriate; it is an absolute cure. After a course of it an occasional dose at intervals will forever after prevent return.

Jno. M. Cox, of 735 Turk Street, San Francisco, writes: "I have been troubled with attacks of sick-headache for the last three years from one to three times a week. Some time ago I bought two bottles of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla and have only had one attack since and that was on the second day after I began using it."
