

BEGINNING OF THE SECOND WAR WITH ENGLAND.

During Jefferson's administration the English government was involved in a long war with Napoleon, who had made himself emperor of the French, and had conquered a great part of western Europe.

During this war England was in need of seamen for the navy. The officers of the English Navy were allowed to impress British seamen from merchant vessels, that is, to force them to serve on men-of-war.

But England had also long claimed the right to impress her own subjects when found on ships of other nations. Every man born in Great Britain who sailed before the mast in an American vessel was liable to be seized by an English man-of-war.

More than this, English naval officers were allowed to judge whether a man was a native of England or not, and thousands of natives of America were impressed on British ships. It was very exasperating to Americans to have their ships stopped on the high seas and searched, and their citizens forced to serve in the navy of a foreign power.

But England was all-powerful on the sea, and the United States had to bear with such insults or give up sailing ships.

During this war between England and France, which shook the whole civilized world, our country tried to be neutral. But England wished to interrupt our trade with the countries under control of France while Bonaparte issued orders to check our trade with England.

The embargo was the only very unfortunate act of Jefferson's administration, which up to this time had been most popular. It was like destroying our own commerce to keep others from ruining it.

While our ships rotted in port, English ships got the trade we had lost. New England and New York suffered heavily by the destruction of their commerce, and there were even some hot-headed people in the Eastern States who talked of dissolving the Union.

The embargo was called a "terrapin policy," as though the country had pulled its head and feet into its shell, as a terrapin does when frightened. The embargo lasted about fourteen months. The law was repealed in 1809.

1808, James Madison of Virginia was elected to succeed Jefferson. He was the candidate of the republican, or democratic party, for, notwithstanding the unpopularity of the embargo, the federalist party was now so much in the minority that it carried but a little over one-fourth of the electoral vote.

BINDING TWINE AND THE TARIFF.

It is nine months since the McKinley bill went into effect, so far as it concerns binding twine. The price of binding twine last harvest under the old tariff law was as follows:

Standard..... 14c to 15c per lb. Lute..... 12c to 13c per lb. Manila..... 10c to 11c per lb.

The farmers of Indiana are getting standard twine 4 cents to 5 cents cheaper, lute twine 4 cents a pound cheaper and manilla twine 4 cents a pound cheaper under the McKinley bill, instead of paying double price, as democratic papers and orators declared, last October, they would.

But it was because the tariff was reduced—a step in the direction of free trade—that prices went down.

The Road to Wealth. Cannot be successfully traveled without good health. To reach wealth or any coveted position in life requires the full possession and operation of all the faculties kind nature has endowed us with. These conditions cannot exist unless the physical being is in perfect working order, and this is impossible when the liver and spleen are torpid, thus obstructing the secretions, causing indigestion and dyspepsia, with all of their accompanying horrors.

DR. HENLEY'S English Dandelion Tonic exerts a specific influence over the liver, excites it to healthy action, resolves its chronic engorgements, and promotes the secretions; cures indigestion and constipation, sharpens the appetite, tones up the entire system, and makes life worth living.

Old People.

J. V. S. is the only Sarsaparilla that old or feeble people should take, as the mineral portion which is in every other Sarsaparilla is dangerous if, under certain conditions known to be emanating, J. V. S. on the contrary is purely vegetable and stimulates digestion and creates new blood, the very thing for old, delicate or broken down people. It builds them up and prolongs their lives. A case in point:

Mrs. Belden an estimable and elderly lady of 610 Mason St., S. E. was for months declining so rapidly as to seriously alarm her family. It got so bad that she was finally afflicted with fainting spells. She writes: "While in that dangerous condition I saw some of the testimonials concerning J. V. S. and sent for a bottle. That marked the turning point. I regained my lost flesh and strength and have not felt so well in years." That was two years ago and Mrs. Belden is well and hearty to-day, and still taking J. V. S.

If you are old or feeble and want to be built up. Ask for Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla
