

TARIFF REFORM PRACTICABLE.

Mr McKinley strongly deprecates the further agitation of the tariff question. His wish, of course, is to have his monstrous system from overthrow. His plea is that agitation is as useless so long as a republican senate and a republican president stand obstinately in the way of reform, denying the people relief.

But Mr McKinley is mistaken. It is probably true that the republican senate and president would defeat any general tariff bill embodying democratic conceptions of reform. They could make a party question of that and hold their forces together upon it. But if the democratic house is wisely directed it will give them a very different problem to solve. It will pass and send to the senate separate bills for the relief of the people—a bill to give free raw materials to the New England manufacturers, for example; a bill to put binding-twine on the free list, and so on. Will the republican senate or president venture to defeat such measures as these, incurring in the latter case the righteous wrath of the farmers in the west and in the other inviting inevitable defeat in the four principal New England states?

The republican majority in the senate was very difficult to hold together under the party lash for the passage of the McKinley bill. Party discipline could not hold the western and New England senators to the defeat of such measures as these. Nor could the president veto them in the face of certain disaster at the polls in consequence.

Tariff reform in very considerable measure is practicable and easy of accomplishment by the Fifty-second congress, if it is undertaken with wisdom and discretion. And even if the packing of the senate made it for the present impracticable, it would still be a patriotic duty to continue the agitation.

The existing tariff is a great wrong. It must be fought till the wrong is righted, whether it requires a year or a decade. Like the slavery question, it will never be settled till it is settled right.—World.

The juice of the papaw has long been known to have the remarkable property of softening flesh, and the leaves are often used by natives of tropical America for wrapping around meat to render it tender. Dr Mortimer Granville believes that this property will prove of great value in the treatment of cancer. He has studied the matter for a considerable time, and has convinced himself that the juice, or its active principles, would prove an effective solvent of cancer tissue when used with some other substance, such, for instance, as peridolymethoxycholinol.

Experiments made in America with the cottonwood show that the increase in the girth of the tree is made only during a week or two about midsummer. It is believed to be the rule with most American fast-growing deciduous trees. Experiments on coniferous trees, recently made in Scotland by Mr David Christison, show opposite results. There is a retardation of growth at midsummer, and a rather rapid increase just before and just after that time.

The Kansas City Times says the rebate feature of the tariff was discussed somewhat at Ada. To understand this rebate it is only necessary to know that last year granulated sugar refined in New York was retailed in Scotland at four cents a pound. Its wholesale price in New York was six and a quarter cents. Solve that fact—for it is a fact—and you will comprehend the rebate feature of the tariff.

Gov. Hill's Thanksgiving proclamation came out ahead of the president's this year, which is perhaps not strange, in view of all the circumstances. The democrats have begun their thanksgiving already, and all parties and factions will be in good shape for the turkey, with cranberry sauce, on Nov. 26th.

Four different mountain peaks in Idaho are from 13 to 23 feet lower, by actual measurement, than they were 15 years ago, and it is believed that this settling is going on with many others. The idea is that quicksands have undermined them.

What is known as "goose-flesh" usually results from a low condition of the system, and is really a slight chill. If you have such attacks often it would be wisest for you to consult a physician.

Hypodermic injections of chloride of gold are being used with wonderful results in an Ohio institution for curing drunkenness. The taste for liquor is eradicated within ten or twelve days, with no disagreeable symptoms.

The great treasury vault at Washington covers more than a quarter of an acre, and is 12 feet deep. Recently there was $90,000,000 in silver stored there, an amount that weighed 4000 tons and would load 175 freight cars.

A new explosive called "Terrorite" has been invented. It is a gelatinous compound, the ingredients being a secret. It is said to be safe to handle, very powerful, and can be fired in shells.

Connecticut last year took out more patents in proportion to population than any other state in the union.

The bounty paid by Minnesota last year for wolf scalps amounted to $52,000.

CRAWFORDSVILLE.

There was an attempt at burglary here last Thursday night. The thief tried to make entrance into the general merchandise store of R W Moses by working on three different doors, but the house being very strongly built, he failed to get in, though doing considerable damage to the doors. The thief was seen by several parties but nothing was suspected so he escaped. Mr Moses says there is no necessity for breaking into his store as he sells goods cheap enough for all to be willing to pay his moderate prices for them, but if any one is determined to break in, he prefers for them to call and get the keys so as not to injure his building.

The drug store at Sweet Home was burglarized last Monday night and about fifty dollars taken.

Many new settlers here, and every house in town filled with several new buildings to be erected soon.

Mr A A Hull is busily engaged in planting peach stones for his nursery. It will be a great convenience for this community to be able to get their trees at home.

Fruit trees are now being delivered by the agents, and from the prospects it will soon require a railroad to take the fruit from this section, and why not have a railroad? The farming, mechanical and trading interests, together with the timber, would amply pay for the outlay.

A good physician would find this a fair location, and while he would not at the present time make a fortune, he would do well.

The old Finley mill, I learn, has just changed hands again and machinery will be put in for the roller process of flour.

Reported that we are to have a barber shop soon.

Revs Robe and Calder are holding a protracted meeting at this place, with some interest manifested.

Vincent, of 6 Terrence Court, S. F., writes: "I am 60 years of age and have been troubled with constipation for 25 years. I was recently induced to try Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. I recognized in it at once an herb that the Mexicans used to give us in the early 50's for bowel troubles. (I came to California in 1859.) and I knew it would help me and it has. For the first time in years I can sleep well and my system is regular and in splendid condition. The old Mexican herbs in this remedy are a certain cure in constipation and bowel troubles." Ask for
