THE OREGON PACIFIC.—The sale of the Oregon Pacific was to have taken place today, but was postponed until January 18th, the head parties in New York City having agreed upon the movement. It is probable, from reports received, that the road will not be sold at all, that all debts will be paid, and that future operations will be in accordance with the wishes of both factions, who have, it is certain, well settled, agreed upon a certain program, not yet made public, but which will result in the continuation of the road Eastward. The men today were paid for three and a half months up to October 1st, and the program is to pay monthly, hereafter. There is a general expression of confidence, among employees and public that matters will proceed in a satisfactory manner hereafter.

A FEMALE SALOON KEEPER.—Recently the Statesman made mention of the fact that the ownership of a Salem saloon was vested in a Salem woman. The following communication, verbatim et spatium, was received by the Statesman Monday and attempts to explain itself. The saloon in question, however, is owned by a Salem female—"lady" is not the word: "My editor of the Statesman please let me call your attention to a little item that could not find your paper last week about a certain lady in this town being the sole owner of a saloon, now Mr. editor please let me say that does the one that rote the item wish to slander the lady or does he no. What he is saying there is no lady in Salem ho ones a saloon or any interest in one such talk is a fraude and ought to be corrected by one ho nose, citizen of Salem."

M. E. CHURCH SOUTH.—The Sabbath school of the M. E. church south is making preparations for an elegant Christmas tree entertainment. The school is in exceedingly good working order at this time with increasing numbers and interest. Several musical instruments beside the organ have been added recently. All are invited to come and take part in the Sabbath school and also the Christmas entertainment; and especially those who have not made a choice of a Sabbath school home in Albany, to come and unite with the work here. Church house on Montgomery and 3d street. School opens each Sabbath morning at 10 o'clock.

A BIG BLOW.—One of the heaviest storms ever experienced at the Bay occurred Monday evening as the train went in. The wind blew nearly hard enough to sweep the cars off the track. One of the floating saloons at Yaquina was demolished, and the top washed partly off the Richardson. A tree was blown out of the earth on to the track, and the waves fairly leaped from the Bay.

A BRIDGE OUT.—Yesterday at Brownsville, the Oregonian Railroad bridge over the Calapooya, was swept out. It was being repaired, and for the purpose piling had been driven in just above it. The river rose rapidly, driftwood lodged against the piling and the pressure proved too much for it.

BAZAAR.—The ladies of the Congregational church are busily engaged making preparations for the Bazaar entertainment to be given at the Opera House Friday next. Refreshments will be served and an excellent program of music, recitations, etc., will be rendered. Miss Edith Harris, of Salem, has been engaged to sing.

Don't go to the trouble of running all over the city, but go directly to Conn & Hendriessons and get what you want in the GROCERY line. Their stock is large and well-selected. Fresh produce and fruits can always be secured at their stands at the lowest prices. You get good goods and prompt attention. In crockery, glassware, lamps, etc., they are also having a big run. No better place in the city for bargains in this line. Don't close your eyes against these facts.

MARRIED

KENTON—MILLS.—On Wednesday forenoon, Dec 9, 1901, at the residence of the bride's mother in Albany, by Rev. E. R. Pritchard, Mr. Frank L. Kenton, and Miss Julia May Mills. Both of the contracting parties are well known and tracting parties are well known and friends, who will wish them an abundance of happiness and prosperity. They left on the noon train for Portland and vicinity, where they will remain several days, and then return to the duties of married life in Albany.

BORN

McFADDEN.—To Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McFadden, in Corvallis—two boys.

NOTES

Oregon will soon need two insane asylums, and one should be located east of the mountains.

Joe Simon is mentioned for the Circuit Judgeship. His appointment would be a good way to get rid of him.

A Brownsville man's complete assessment is for three blooded fox hounds and a shot gun, $150. There are two dogs on the roll assessed at $50 each.

Webfoot is a good name these days. Put a pin in the fact that we only have about so much rain in a year. The present wet weather is to make up for some other time.

Hope is eternal in the human breast. Albany papers have commenced again to talk about the great possibilities of the Oregon Pacific railroad, and the great benefits it will bring that town.—Pendleton East Oregonian.

The following appears in the Salem Journal: "I desire to inform the public that the Oregon Land company of your city, as at present constituted, is using my name by way of reference without my permission. W. W. Thayer." What does this mean.

A Cleveland woman is suing for a divorce on the grounds of "cruelty and neglect," but her worse half says she took her pug dog to bed with her and drove him out in the cold. Public sympathy is divided between the defendant and the dog. Men have a hard lot of it in this world.

Over at Silverton the other day they had a sign in one of the mud puddles in the street which read, "No fishing above the grade." The same sign would be appropriate on some of our Salem streets.—Statesman. Such a sign a few rods this side the S. P. depot would not be out of place.

Recently bonds of the city of Roseburg were sold to a big Denver firm through B. Goldsmith, of Portland. The money was received and expended in sewers. It is now learned that the bonds were illegal, creating a peculiar state of affairs, though it will make no difference in the result, as Roseburg is an honorable city, and will not take advantage of technicalities.

It has been the unbroken custom for forty years in Massachusetts for two of the life prisoners to be pardoned on Thanksgiving day. There was an exciting scene in the penitentiary this year when the envelopes were opened and the names read out of two men who had been in the prison between eleven and twelve years. Both had been convicted of murder, under extenuating circumstances. They have been model prisoners and their pardon had been recommended by all the officials connected with their cases. Their fellow prisoners were wild in their demonstrations of joy at the act of gubernatorial clemency, which preceded the customary Thanksgiving feast.
