

Governor Flower was inaugurated governor of New York yesterday.

If Cleveland and Hill cut their own throats in New York, no better ticket could be selected than Flower of New York and Boies of Iowa.

There is no question that this is not a billion dollar congress. The democrats will endeavor to bear the reproach of "niggardliness" until the deficiency in the revenues shall be met and the appropriations are reduced to a reasonable basis.

The republican minority in congress oppose the democratic program of economy, but their opposition will not move Mr. Holman. He is not the kind of man to permit a billion dollar riot of extravagance.

The nomination of Ekins means that Blaine will not write a letter this year. Harrison has "a cinch" on him that is strong enough to keep him in use until it is too late for the anti-Harrison element to unite on any other candidate. Then Blaine will write a letter.

The cutting down of the supply of public documents issued from the congressional printing office will affect the old junk business considerably, but it will hardly detract from the spread of general intelligence among the masses.

There's a depression in tin-plate circles which can be accounted for only on the theory of guilty consciences. For the last uttered in the Ohio campaign there must come a day of reckoning.

The mistaken editors who are beginning to attack the Fifty-second congress as a "cheese-paring" and "picayune" congress are evidently of that bourgeois class which learns nothing. The contempt for sound economy shown by the Fifty-first congress is the reason why the Fifty-second congress is what it is.

In Boston they find that the blanket ballots were marked for identification in the recent municipal election, which tends to show that even the ballot of the strictest sect of the Pharisees is still liable to be distorted and diverted by frail humanity, and that no statutory device can quite do away with the necessity of virtue.

The Echo Press is "off its bangs," when it says Crisp is in favor of repealing the McKinley bill by piece-meal. Crisp would amend the bill by putting such articles as lumber, coal, salt, iron ore, binding twine, cotton ties, etc., on the free list. Crisp would not put sugar on the dutiable list, which would be the case if the McKinley bill were repealed and the old law substituted.

The Telegram truthfully says: At the farewell banquet to Governor Hill at Albany last night, he reiterated in speech much of the substance of his Elmira speech in regard to taxation and finances declaring again in favor of nothing but merely negative legislation—the repeal of the McKinley tariff law and the Sherman silver law. The democrats in congress will very naturally observe carefully and thoughtfully what Mr. Hill has to say, yet it is doubtful if they will follow his advice in this matter. They will want to accomplish something more than a mere negative protest against late republican legislation.

The differences of opinion among democrats as to the wisest policy to be pursued in this congress in regard to tariff legislation are far more creditable to the party than that abject servile harmony which superabounds in the republican party, waiting for Harrison and Blaine to determine between themselves which shall be the candidate of the party for president. A live, energetic, aggressive, political party in so immense a country as the United States must necessarily have differences of opinion as to policy. A party that depends upon two leaders to determine all matters of party policy need have no differences of opinion, indeed, need have no opinions at all.

A REPUBLICAN SENATE.

It may be well for the people that a republican senate will propose and a democratic house dispose. The aristocratic body is controlled by republicans, thanks to the rotten-borough states created for this purpose by a republican congress. It is a body far removed from the people and in touch only with the favored class. Possessing no constitutional power of originating a measure for the increase of taxation, the senate accomplishes by indirect what may not be done directly. An evidence of republican intent is found in the statement that bills for the appropriation of over $16,000,000 were offered on a single day at the very beginning of the session, to which must be added $5,120,842 as the result of three more days of senatorial activity. One feature of senatorial extravagance is the bill for the appropriation of $10,000,000 in a lump for the erection of new government buildings at a cost not to exceed $25,000 for what are termed presidential postoffices where the receipts reach at least $3,000 a year. This is one of the lagrolling schemes by which votes are to be gained for the greater raids on the treasury. If congressmen from "districts" clamorous for a portion of the swag annually voted from the treasury may show their constituents fair chance of securing a new postoffice building at some "corner" he will rise as a statesman in the estimation of simple folks who have known no higher standard.

Against the evil tendency of the senate it will be the duty of a democratic house to contend. It is not sufficient that Speaker Crisp has placed Mr. Holman at the head of the committee on appropriations. Frequently it has happened that members seeking favors have combined to defeat the endeavors of such legislators as the Indiana objector. It has been a thought fathered by the hope of republicans that the overwhelming democratic majority in the house would render that body less amenable to such discipline as may be necessary to maintain the party's traditional opposition to extravagant expenditure. The Times does not accept the proposition. It recognizes a fact well understood by many of the majority that the people at the last congressional elections made definite declaration against the extravagance which had marked republican control of affairs. Only a few months stand between their present action and their appeal to the electorate for a new lease of power. Democrats in close districts may not sensibly expect a re-election if they fail to observe the expressed will of the people.

Democrats from districts relied upon to sustain the party may not expect another majority in the house if they join with republicans in measures tending to increase taxation. Here will be found safety for the people. Democrats in the house will, if they be wise, constitute a committee of the whole on strict economy. In this way they will block the game of their opponents in the senate and perform a service for the country which will be reflected in party advantage.

For the first time in years I can sleep well and my system is regular and in splendid condition. The old Mexican herbs in this remedy are a certain cure in constipation and bowel troubles." Ask for

MRS. GRAHAM'S Cucumber and Elder Flower Cream

It is not a cosmetic in the sense in which that term is popularly used, but is particularly beautiful, is gentle and soft, smooths, clears, softens skin, and by daily use gradually makes the complexion several shades whiter. It is a constant protection from the effects of sun and wind and prevents sunburn and freckles, and black heads will never come while you use it. It cleanses the face far better than soap and water, nourishes and builds up the skin tissue and prevents the formation of wrinkles. It gives the freckles, clearness and smoothness of skin that you had when a little girl. Every lady, young or old, ought to use it, as it gives a more youthful appearance to any lady, and that permanently. It contains no acid, powder or alkali, and is as harmless as dew and as unobtrusive to the skin as dew is to the flower. Price $1.00, at all drug stores and hairdressers, or at Mrs. Graham's establishment, 102 Post Street, San Francisco, where she treats ladies for all blemishes of the face or figure. Ladies at a distance treated by letter. Send stamp for her little book "How to be Beautiful."
