

PEORIA.

Owing to the fine weather farmers in this vicinity are busy plowing and sowing their spring grain.

Quite a fight ensued one day last week between two light weights. The cause as far as can be learned was, who was to get the girl.

Peoria is very proud of their new doctor, Dr. Killenquik, who has his office in the Klinton Block, room 27. He is death on the gripe.

Uncle Tommy Clemens is still on the sick list.

W. R. Garrett has returned from a visit to John Turner's, of Harrisburg.

Mr. Underwood will start for the east with his family the 27th of the month.

James Githens was up and spent Sabbath with his parents.

The Green Back Literary Society gave a very enjoyable entertainment Tuesday night, which was the last night. Quite a large crowd was present.

John Miller met with an accident last Friday, which came near breaking his leg, by his horse falling down on him, spraining his ankle.

Rev. McFarland will hold quarterly meeting at the church next Sabbath, the 28th.

Quite a blaze caused some excitement on the top of Mr. Ziegler's house, but by the quick work of both Engine Co's and Hook & Ladder Co was soon extinguished without much damage.

After selling out all their sheep Githens & Lamar have started to raising goats for a change. They wish to get all the goats they can possibly buy.

Miss Annie Githens will go to Albany Saturday, where she will go to school during the spring term.

Chris Slagle is talking of putting in a steam ferry on account of the current not being swift enough to carry the boat across.

The Peoria ground hog was out and saw his shadow, and went back to hole up for six weeks.

SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Linn County.

W. C. DAVIS and GEORGE W. DAVIS, partners doing business under the firm name and style of Davis Bros., Plaintiffs, vs.
PETER R. BEAR, Defendant.

To Peter R. Bear, the above named defendant:

IN THE NAME OF THE STATE OF Oregon, you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint of the plaintiff filed in the above entitled court, with the clerk of said court, by the first day of the next regular term of the above entitled court, to-wit: on the 14th day of March, 1892, and you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint the plaintiff will take judgment against you for the sum of $500.00 with interest thereon at the rate of ten (10) per cent per annum from the 2nd day of September, 1891, and for the costs and disbursements of this action to be taxed; and also take an order and decree of said court, to sell the following described land to-wit: all your defendant's right, title and interest in the donation land claim of Owen Bear, being notification No. 2210, and claim No. 41 in township 12, south Range 4 West, and claim No. 45 in township 12, south Range 4 West, in Linn county, Oregon, containing 644.50 acres, less than 41 acres heretofore sold to various parties, leaving 603.50 acres; which said land was duly levied upon by writ of attachment duly issued out of the above named court, in the above entitled action on the 8th day of September, 1891 for the purpose of securing any judgment that the plaintiff might recover in the above entitled cause.

This summons is served by publication in the STATE RIGHTS DEMOCRAT by order of the Honorable R. P. Boise, Judge of the above entitled Court, made at Chambers on the 10th day of January, 1892.

J. K. WEATHERFORD,
Attorney for Plaintiff.

"August Flower"

Mr. Lorenzo F. Sleeper is very well known to the citizens of Appleton, Me., and neighborhood. He says: "Eight years ago I was taken sick, and suffered as no one but a dyspeptic can. I then began taking August Flower. At that time I was a great sufferer. Every thing I ate distressed me so that I had to throw it up. Then in a few moments that horrid distress would come on and I would have to eat and suffer again. I took a little of your medicine, and felt much better, and after taking a little more August Flower my dyspepsia disappeared, and since that time I have never had the first sign of it. I can eat anything without the least fear of distress. I wish all that are afflicted with that terrible disease or the troubles caused by it would try August Flower, as I am satisfied there is no medicine equal to it."

FACTS ABOUT THE TEA WE DRINK.

But few people know that there is such a thing as sun-dried tea in existence, and fewer have seen it. But there is, and it is of all teas the sweetest, purest, and most fragrant. You ask us how it is that it is not offered for sale and that you know nothing of it. That is answered easily; but it is necessary to present first a few details. The public only knows two general classes, viz., the green and the black teas.

Green Teas.
Few people know that the bright bluish-green color of the ordinary teas exposed to the windows is not the natural color. Unpleasant as the fact may be, it is nevertheless artificial; Prussian blue, silica, plumbago, and other unwholesome mineral colors being used for this purpose. The effect is twofold. It not only makes the tea a bright, shiny, attractive green, but also permits the use of "off-color" and worthless teas, which, once under the green cloak, are readily worked off as a good quality of tea. The horrible coloring practice even admits of the use of foreign substances, and the English government, which looks closer into the genuineness of its staples than ours, has in some of the alleged "best" of teas found red lead, straw, fragments of nutting, rice, and willow leaves. In fact, it is openly stated by an English authority that hundreds of thousands of pounds of rice, ash, and willow leaves are annually imported as tea, which without the coloring process would be impossible. They report tea as one of the most notoriously adulterated articles of commerce. The temptation to make sweepings and bed tea into a merchantable product with a few cents' worth of green coloring matter is too strong to withstand, and the worthlessness of the trash that often finds its way to this market is labeled "New Crop," "Best Quality," "Green Tea," etc., would simply astound the public if revealed, to say nothing of the unwholesomeness of the Prussian blue, plumbago, gypsum, and the other mineral colors that are employed.

Black Teas.
The basket and pan-dried Japan teas, as well as the China teas that may be included under the general heading of "black teas," get their color from the firing or roasting process, but mineral coloring is also frequently used to give a desired commercial appearance. The coloring, as in the green tea, conceals the identity of the tea, and the use of the very cheapest and most deteriorating coloring matter is not infrequently resorted to, when a very cheap product is used and an extreme color desired.

Beech's Tea (Sun-dried).
Concerning sun-dried teas the people of the Pacific Coast have heard but little and know less, although it is extensively used where it is known and understood. We are told that when tea is so poor it cannot be sold at home or safely shipped to the English markets, it is shipped to America; that we will drink anything. That may possibly be one of the reasons we have not been offered sun-dried teas. They were good enough to send elsewhere.

The sun-dried teas being sun-cured, no coloring matter is used, hence nothing but pure tea leaves can be employed; for unadulterated by manipulation or coloring, all attempts at adulteration or the introduction of foreign leaves or material would be bold and glaring. That it is, therefore, sweeter and far more fragrant than the artificially colored green teas and the manipulated basket or pan-dried teas, you hardly need be told. That it is more healthful than the mineral-colored teas, is also apparent. That it is more expensive, is also true; and that is another reason you have never seen it. There is not so much profit in it as there is in the cheap adulterated and colored teas.

About the Cost of Teas.
According to the custom-house reports, the amount of tea received at San Francisco last year (1891) was 6,540,157 pounds, and the value $56,250, or a fraction over 10c per pound. The consumer, of which the reader was one, paid for that 1c tea all the way from 10c to 15c per pound. In other words, for that $56,250 worth of tea the consumer paid between four and five millions of dollars. There are your enormous profits, and there you will probably find the chief reason why most of you never heard of a sun-dried tea. As the sun-dried teas have no mark, they are compelled to be absolutely pure and of better quality than the artificially colored and manipulated teas. Hence the margins on them are smaller, and many dealers don't care about handling them, and you know nothing about them. But it is the object of this article to tell you where you can get them, and what to ask for, and all about them.

"Beech's Tea."
"Beech's Tea," you asked to be the pure sun-cured leaves, is now offered to the people of the Pacific Coast. It will be a revelation to you. You doubtless never saw any natural leaf. Have your grocer break open a package. It will be found to color to be just between the artificially colored green and the black teas, and the drab tea presents a clear, brilliant canary color, of delightful fragrance. It is offered to the people at 60c per pound, the same price that many artificially colored teas are sold for. But its guaranteed purity makes it more economical to use for a less quantity, say about twenty grains, is required per cup. As there are 7,500 grains to a pound, there will be seen to be between three and four hundred cups to the pound, or at the rate of about one fifth of a cent per cup. Its economy is therefore manifest. It is put up in one-pound packages only, in patent airtight and moisture-proof parchment, with the trade-mark that is found at the bottom of this article plainly printed on two packages. It is sold in this form for two reasons: one is, that the original strength and aroma is preserved; and second, there can be no deception, which would be quite possible if it were sold in bulk, without the name and trade-mark attached.

Caution.
Recollect that the margin of profit is so much smaller on Beech's pure sun-dried teas than on the artificially colored teas that you won't get it if it is by any other name can be put off on you. Ask for

BEECH'S TEA
"Pure As Childhood"

If your grocer does not have it, he will get it for you. Price 6c per pound. The above trade-mark and price is plainly printed on each package.

Perhaps the best way to get it is to go where you know they have it and are willing to sell it. For instance, it can be had without difficulty at
