SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr John Glavin went north this noon. Hon C J Shedd, of Shedd, was in the city today.

Judge Flinn was in Eugene yesterday on business.

License has been issued for the marriage of Mr Walter East and Laurette Burres.

Engineer Duff and Mr Wakefield, son of the bridge superintendent, were in the city and returned to Portland this noon.

Mr L Gotlieb is moving his second hand stock of goods in the old Young store. Mr Redfield will greatly improve his property vacated by Mr Gotlieb.

Mr W R Blain has leased Mr W T Hearst's residence at the corner of Washington and Fourth streets and will keep boarders, most of Mrs Hearst's boarders remaining with him.

Miss Sadie Beckner, who has been studying shorthand and typewriting in this city for the past few months, left this morning for Albany, where she will live with her sister.—Eugene Guard.

A FAREWELL PARTY.

Last evening the old boarders of Mr and Mrs W T Hearst tendered them a farewell party at the residence of Mrs Walter Monteith. Several hours were passed in a delightful manner in games, a nice lunch and a short program.

There lived a good woman, Who got very tired Of keeping of boarders With one girl that she hired.

With cooking and stewing and Washing up dishes, Getting ham and chipped beef, And sometimes a few fishes.

Baked potatoes, beans and milktoast, Which she said Was her favorite—because it used Up the old bread.

And fruits of the finest, More than 400 quarts, She used in one season of all Kinds and all sorts.

But grandest of all, she was Proud of her cake, The boarders would taste it, And jump up and cry "shake."

It would melt in their month, And bring tears to their eyes, If the piece that they got Was not one of good size.

Down the throats of these boarders All this disappeared, With milk, coffee and tea until Some of us feared.

The good woman would rise, And swear by the skies, She would keep no more boarders, And make no more pies.

T was a good class of boarders She had from the first, They stood by her all round, And said, dear Mrs Hearst

Don't leave us as orphans To go out in the cold, But stay with us, and call us The lambs of your fold.

Her tears fell apace, While they hung on her neck, And she thought of her bank book, And many a check.

The dear boys had paid her, To settle their score Before she allowed them To go out of her door.

She was all in a tremble, But she spoke up and said, I feel so broke up I most wish I was dead.

They buried their heads in her Lap as they cried, We feel just as you do, And most wish we had died

When we were young and Knew little of trouble, Now we are old And some of us double.

With a lump in her throat, And her hands on our head, She at last found her voice And kindly she said,

Don't cry for me now, Don't cry for me never, I'm going to Portland To do nothing for ever.

Then all of us spake With loud ringing voice, Mrs Hearst we release you, And the man of your choice.

We give you our greeting, And say our farewell, May blessings go with you That tongue cannot tell.

Wherever you go You shall have our best wishes, Whether doing kind acts, Or washing up dishes.

And at last where loud anthems Shall always be ringing, May we meet you again, And join in the singing.

The Donation Entertainment.

The entertainment at the opera house tomorrow night for the benefit of the orphans' home should be liberally supported, as the home is an institution deserving being built up here.

Call on Matthews & Washburn for your hardware.

HOME AND ABROAD

A year ago today there was six inches of snow on the ground, practically the only snow of the season.

Mathews & Washburn lead in the stove and tinware business in this part of the valley.

Work was begun on the ditch at Lebanon last week; but the rains prevented the continuation of the same at present.

A correspondent in the Oregonian says the democrats could do worse than select Hon Jeff Meyers as an opponent to Bing or Hermann.

The Portland Bridge & Building Co have received the contract for building the dome to the State Capitol at Salem. Price, $42,275.

The case of W L Vance et al appellants against Frank Wood, respondent, appealed from Benton county, was decided by the supreme court yesterday in favor of the defendant. This was the case over the possession of about 20 acres of land across the river.

Have you tried that ideal roast coffee at F E Allen's. If not, why not.

BROWNSVILLE.

February 20th, 1892.

Brownsville is not booming, but is alive to her own interests. A joint stock company is being organized for the purpose of manufacturing leather, and the old tan yard will be moved out of the heart of town to a more desirable place, thus killing two birds at one move.

We are looking to the completion of arrangements whereby we will secure a shoe factory in our town. A Mr Karr has been here for this express purpose, and if he means business the shoe factory will go.

Bill Tyner and a Kentuckian, a late arrival here, had an all John L. by the South Brownsville rules, and his Hon Joe Sawyer adjudged a $5 and $7.50 fine and costs would make all satisfactory once more.

The name of C E Starnard, of this place, will be presented to the democratic convention, soon to meet in your city, as a fit and proper person to be clerk of Linn county.

Sheriff Scott, we are told, was a little surprised to see the Brownsvillians come down with so many $20 pieces after our former correspondence, but we were doubtless mistaken in our former observations.

How does this please you for a legislative ticket: M A Miller, O P Coshov, Jr., W P Elmore.

Miss Maggie White is said to be on the improve of late, while little Willie Rounds is not expected to live.

"NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS." Why are we the most successful firm in the dry goods trade?

Because we have the largest and best selected stock to choose from. We are now receiving new and seasonable goods in winter goods, Cloaks at less than cost.

We are sole agent for Butterick patterns. A full line of ladies and children's shoes. Give us a call. W. F. READ.

STANEY.—On Feb. —, 1892, to the wife of A Staney—a son.

Give Ear to Our Remarks.

We have already received a large and fine line of clothing for men, youths and boys, latest styles and in season, which we wish you to see. This includes some handsome suits made specially to order from Albany Woolen Mill goods, already attracting attention.

We are closing out Winter goods at cost to make room for new goods, which will continually arrive.

The L. E. Blain Clothing Co. THE LEADING CLOTHIERS. Advertisement for clothing with decorative elements.

AN OLD SAYING is, "spend not all you have; believe not all you hear; tell not all you know; and do not all you can."

Do not look for blood in a turnip or stoves in a confectionary store; but go to Matthews & Washburn's stove, tinware and hardware store and examine their stock of goods, if this is the line you want.

WORTH THINKING ABOUT.—But words are things, and a small drop of ink, falling like dew upon a thought, produces that which makes thousands, perhaps millions, think.

The Democrat is under obligation to some one in Washington for a large number of clippings about the marriage of Mattie Mitchell and the Baron De Fouchoucauld, or whatever you call him.
