

THE SOLID SOUTH

The quadrennial slanders upon the south are beginning to appear in the bourbon republican papers of the north...

The southern people can scarcely be blamed for voting for democratic candidates for president. They had a taste of republican rule after the war that they do well to forget.

The Lodge force bill of the last congress was designed to overrule and override popular government at the south, and to again turn it over to ignorance and avarice...

Yet to their everlasting credit be it remembered, there were a few republicans in congress who refused to consent to this sacking of the south for partisan purposes...

Yes, the south will cast 150 votes for the democratic candidate, and it has good and sufficient reasons for doing so.

A coffee salesman writes thus in commenting on the President's proclamation levying a tax of 3 cents a pound on $7,000,000 pounds of coffee:

"This country consumes more Maccabean coffee than any other on the globe. This tax, however, will raise the price to such a figure that the merchants will have to abandon, to a large extent, the use of it and adopt some other grade, likely Santos. This, of course, will have the effect of increasing the demand for this grade and mutually raising the price. You cannot touch one of coffee without having in the end every other grade respond in sympathy. But the republican party has always been in favor of putting a tax on goods where it affected the consumer the most. That is the reason that I am for Grover Cleveland first, last and always."

This will be the effect of the tax, of course. A tax of 3 cents on $7,000,000 pounds will raise the price of all coffee in the proportion of the tax on each pound taxed to the total number of pounds used. But the point here is not so much the effect of the tax as the method of levying it. Only an absolute monarch or a dictator can levy taxes by proclamation, as this tax has been levied by Harrison.

If Mr Harrison, having failed to arrange a set-to with Chile, should not succeed in "getting on a little go" with John Bull, why shouldn't he send a "dell" to John Chinaman? There are plenty of unsettled questions that could be made living issues. John is only a heathen and needs converting. A good missionary issue next November will win more votes than a salad of mare clausum seals and modus vivendi.

Democrats in congress should remember that the greatest of all the issues is whether the republican party shall carry the next presidential election, enact a Force bill and continue itself in power indefinitely. No mistake should be made which shall bring about a consummation which would be so detrimental to the prosperity of the whole people.

At the democratic county convention held at Baker city a few days ago a vote for presidential preferences was taken which resulted as follows: Cleveland 58, Hill 12, Palmer 4, Bland 3, Springer 2, Boies 2, Flower 2, Gorman 1, Carlisle 1. This is a true index to public sentiment throughout the state. In Lane county the proportion of Cleveland men is much larger than the above.

It appears that the inquiry into the effect of tariffs, past and present, upon wages and cost of living, which has been under prosecution by a sub-committee of the Finance committee of the senate for some time past, is in a fair way toward completion. A special investigation of the operations of the McKinley law is among the objects of the inquiry. The scope of this portion of the inquiry has been indicated in these columns heretofore. The committee has been collecting statistics of the prices of commodities entering into the consumption of the people of seventy industrial centers and county towns for each month from June 1, 1889, to September 1, 1891. The commodities selected number 211 and were selected with the view of representing fairly all articles which enter either directly or indirectly into the expense of living, including in addition to articles of food and clothing, which enter directly into the cost of living, selected articles of hardware, building materials, etc., which through the cost of building effect the cost of rent. What will be shown by the results of the inquiry is not known. Requests for permission to use the information gathered by the sub-committee in the tariff debates have been made by congressmen, but have been denied because the committee is unwilling to have the material go out to the public in fragments. The results of the inquiry promise to be of great value, particularly in view of the fact testified to by Commissioner Wright, of the Department of Labor, who has cooperated with the committee, that the chief aim of the committee has been to secure absolutely impartial results.

The Commercial Advertiser's Washington City special says: A statement was made to your correspondent today, upon the best authority, that Harrison did not want a renomination and he is very doubtful about letting his name go before the convention at Minneapolis. It was not asserted that Harrison positively would not accept, but it was said that he was disinclined to run again and would not accept the nomination unless it came to him without the least opposition and the situation seemed to make his reelection reasonably sure.

It is understood that Harrison does not object to the nomination of either Reed or Allison.

Nearly all the Ashland delegates are for Hermann. H B Miller carried his town primaries with 67 votes against him.

The Klamath county republican primaries held Saturday went for Hermann for congress and Fred Cogswell for circuit judge.

Old People.

J. V. S. is the only Sarsaparilla that old or feeble people should take, as the mineral potash which is in every other Sarsaparilla does not know of, is under certain conditions known to be emulating. J. V. S. on the contrary is purely vegetable and stimulates digestion and creates new blood, the very thing for old, delicate or broken down people. It builds them up and prolongs their lives. A case in point.

Mrs. Belden an estimable and elderly lady of 510 Mason St., S. F. was for months declining so rapidly as to seriously alarm her family. It got so bad that she was finally afflicted with fainting spells. She writes: "While in that dangerous condition I saw some of the testimonials concerning J. V. S. and sent for a bottle. That marked the turning point. I regained my lost flesh and strength and have not felt so well in years." That was two years ago and Mrs. Belden is well and hearty to-day, and still taking J. V. S.

If you are old or feeble and want to be built up. Ask for
