

OLD STYLE.—The following from Portland Welcome about a couple, of Cloverdale, now temporarily living in Portland, sounds very old, and is a sample of their past behavior. Only last week Mrs. Van Alstine had her husband sent for cruel treatment and threatening her, saying she would never have anything to do with him. On Thanksgiving she put in an appearance at the house with a swell dinner for the day, a few days ago, loading him up with cranberry sauce and other things. Van Alstine had pretty good give thanks as he picked the turkey. The Thanksgiving turkey while the fortunate full birds contented with the regulation nine cent

PROPERTY.—A few days ago the members of Harrisburg did a thing. They raised a subscription with which they were purchased for the Christian minister, a suit, overcoat, hat, boots, shirt, necktie, handkerchiefs and a pair of shoes. The gift was accompanied by a letter from the subscribers, in which they were told: "We, the undersigned of Harrisburg, who are not members of any church, having formed a committee of your character as a minister of the gospel and a citizen, would like to present you with a small token of esteem in which you are held in high esteem. The signatures of prominent men of Harrisburg, Oregon, are appended. The originalators were to keep the matter from all churches and if any of them became aware of what was going on they were to subscribe."

LECTURE.—Prof. John Swickard, the erudite and versatile pioneer and linguist, will begin one of his series of lectures on the "Physical Life," at 7 o'clock, on next Friday, Dec. 2nd, and will then visit the adjacent country, inclusive of Halstead, with Albany in his optics for a day. Admission, one quarter of a dollar. The Prof. deserves a handsome reward into the productions of Humboldt, etc., and with his knowledge of Anglo-Saxon and Latin, he will not fail to entertain and instruct in securing seats at the lecture. The Prof. deserves a handsome reward into the productions of Humboldt, etc., and with his knowledge of Anglo-Saxon and Latin, he will not fail to entertain and instruct in securing seats at the lecture.

FOR A STATUE.—We clip the following from the S F Bulletin of a late Miss Nora Houser, who has been a model for the Montana silver and of her an esteemed Butte, temporary saint. Miss Houser is a Montana girl, and one of the figures of feminine loveliness in the whole state. She is not only of face and figure, but has a carriage that is most pleasing to the eye, and Montana will her against the world. Miss Houser has been for some time at Jacksonville, and the Times hereof it speaks when it endorses the Montana journal above.

TAILOR.—The Eugene Journal says: A tailor by the name of C. who has been occupying a west of the Lane County Bank block, is now in the county jail, hearing before Justice Kinney, on a charge of malicious injury to property. It seems that he was charged with having taken $31 for room rent and to pay it. Attachment papers were served on a suit of clothes worth $10. The deputy sheriff left the room and stepped on a moment. On returning he found the tailor had just thrown sulfur on the suit of clothes there. He was then arrested on a charge.

AMATEURS COMING.—The Harrisburg Courier says: The entertainments last Tuesday and Wednesday evenings were good. Good audiences were present both nights, and about $100 were taken in, which will be used to fit up the stage. The drama, Comrade, is an excellent play and was almost perfectly rendered. We understand the club will endeavor to make arrangements to present this drama in Albany, Eugene Junction, Halstead and other neighboring towns.

A GOOD CHANCE.—Mr. W. H. Warner offers to sell his fine vegetable and fruit farm, across the river, either as a whole or in small tracts of five or more acres. This is fine land, and the opportunity is an excellent one for any one wanting such property.

THE NEGROES IN SOME PLACES IN THE SOUTH thought the world was coming to an end on account of the comet; but here we are, the comet sped past us one million miles away and the world goes on.

Mrs. Anna Sutherland Kalamazoo, Mich., had swellings in the neck, or Goitre year, causing 40 Years great suffering. When she sought relief could not walk two blocks without fainting. She took Hood's Sarsaparilla and is now free from it all. She has urged many others to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and they have also been cured. It will do you good.

The Echo-Leader, of Cottage Grove, refers to a recent wedding there as a romantic and weird little incident, and another one as a startling and eventful climax.

T. J. Bedford, agent at Siletz, was in Albany today on his way to Portland. He reports everything quiet at the agency. The Indians have been allotted their land, and are ready to transfer their rights in the residue.

Corvallis will be well provided in a social way this winter. Several clubs have already been organized, and a musical, that meets once in two weeks at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Wilson, Mrs. Snell has organized a Waverly club and Mrs. Washburn a literary club. Besides these whist clubs and a chess club have been organized. —Leader.

Last Saturday evening Miss Sarah Cleverger gave a crazy party at the residence of her father, Mr. D. R. Cleverger. There was a good attendance of young people dressed in the craziest possible manner, and of course a crazy time was had, which proved also to be a very enjoyable occasion. Several hours were passed in a happy manner.

Among the aspirants for the office of collector of customs for this port is T. J. Black, of Halstead. Mr. Black is known as a consistent democrat, a man of standing and character and is being recommended for the position by the best men in the party. If appointed he will prove a faithful, efficient and competent official who will bring honor to himself and credit to his friends. —Mercury.

The Astoria Budget wants some live work done and says: The head of J. T. Apperson, the register of the Oregon City land office, will be hauled off about as soon as Grover Cleveland gets the chair warmed, if the democrats do their duty.

During a severe rain storm a few mornings ago, the DEMOCRAT is informed on authority that cannot be questioned, that the occupants of the baggage car on the Lebanon train were obliged to put up umbrellas in order to keep out the rain that leaked promiscuously through the car.

An Albany young man recently went down town from his boarding place, and has not been seen since. He left a board bill, and one or two articles in pawn besides other small debts. Where has he gone?

An exchange says: The average yield of wheat an acre in the United States for the decade ending with 1890 was 12 bushels. The average value an acre was a little less than $9. It cost that much to produce the wheat; but the man who has the habit of producing 30 to 35 bushels an acre pocketed a fair profit.

Charles Hewitt, a young lad in Goose Hollow, forfeited $5 in the police court today on a charge of malicious mischief. A few nights ago he with other boys placed a dummy against the door of the residence of Mr. Lehman, at Seventeenth and Market streets. When Mrs. Lehman went to the door and the dummy fell upon her she was thrown into hysterics, and it was some time before she recovered. —Portland Welcome.

The Niagara correspondent of the Mill City Gazette says: At recently contested Rider dog suit in Salem, there threatened at one time a collision between two witnesses a lady and an irate gentleman. Hard words passed between them until the woman cried while the man swore. They were questioning each other's truthful statement while upon the stand. While dogs do bark and bite, ought you the ladies fight.

The Oregonian's clock has arrived, and the dials are now being put in position. They are nearly 15 feet across, this being the largest clock in the United States, with one exception. The figures on the dial are about 20 inches in length, and the dots which mark the minutes are about five inches square. A person who imagined that the dials would be large circles of glass with the numerals painted on it, was much surprised to find that the numerals and circles surrounding them are cast in metal, these parts of each dial weighing several hundred pounds.

There is evidently a determination on the part of a great many residents in the southern part of the county to obtain a division of the county to obtain a division of the county at the next session of the legislature. We understand they want to have the northern boundary line in the neighborhood of Creswell, and include that place or not, as the people seem to want it. They will run west to a point a short distance above the mouth of Wolf creek, then south into Douglas county far enough to include Elkton, and east to the eastern boundary line of the counties. —Eugene Register.

The Photo Truth

Good enough for Hood's Sarsaparilla—there is no need of embellishment or sensationalism. Simply what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells me the story of its merits. Hood's Pills are easy, yet efficient.
