

A MONOMANIAC

If Governor Penoyer is correctly reported in yesterday's Statesman, his dislike of President Cleveland has developed into a mania, and he is a fair subject for the kindly offices of his appointees at the O. S. I. A. According to the morning paper the adjutant general requested of the governor permission to use two brass cannon belonging to the state for the purpose of firing a salute at Portland on inauguration day, and the governor responded as follows:

"No permission will be given to use state cannon for firing a salute over the inauguration of a Wall street plutocrat as president of the United States."

We believe this is the first time that a governor of a state has insulted a president elect in an official utterance. Governor Penoyer's hatred of Cleveland has been characterized by the utmost intemperance and he has not hesitated to use language in his denunciation unworthy of the lowest gutter snip. The governor has disgraced his high office and utterly forfeited any title he may have had to the respect of democrats. No one has at any time disputed his right to oppose Mr. Cleveland's views; but when he forsakes legitimate opposition and resorts to his stereotyped arguments he only covers himself with its contents and the object of his abuse is unharmed. The strong hold which the governor at one time had upon the democracy of this state is demonstrated by the leniency with which they have treated his abuse of Mr. Cleveland. They fought for him loyally in two campaigns and rejoiced at his success. The least that he should have done was to refrain from injuring the party that made him governor. But self conceit and personal ambition appear to have been far stronger with him than gratitude or party loyalty, and so he forsook his party because it did not see fit to nominate the candidate of his choice or tread the path he had marked out. Then he predicted for it the most ignominious defeat. The great city of New York (where Wall street is located) would, according to the governor, repudiate the choice of the democracy and Cleveland would not carry a single northern state. Now, when the result is known, and from east to west, north to south, the people have conferred upon Mr. Cleveland the most overwhelming tribute of confidence and esteem ever given to any man in the country's history, the governor of Oregon, solitary and alone, raises his feeble voice and pipes "plutocrat." The great democratic wigwag is still lost and big Injun Penoyer is waiting patiently for its return. The trouble is that it has developed into a wen. It needs lancing.—Marion County Democrat.

NEW SUPREME JUDGE.

President Harrison, yesterday, appointed Howell Edmunds Jackson of Tennessee Justice of the supreme court of the United States, vice L. Q. C. Lamar, died. Judge Jackson was born in Paris, Tennessee, April 8, 1832. In 1849 removed with his parents to Jackson where he received a classic education graduating at West Tennessee college in 1848. He afterwards studied law for two years at the university of Virginia. He then studied law under his kinsman Judge A. W. Totten, then engaged in the practice of the law. Served on the supreme bench of that state twice by appointment. Served in the state legislature twice. Was elected to the United States senate as a democrat in 1880. Was appointed U. S. circuit judge by Cleveland in 1887, and is now serving in that office. He is a democrat of the state rights school.

A MANLY FIGHT.

Yesterday, Senator Weatherford's home-stand bill No. 30 came up in the senate on its third reading. Senator Willis of Maine made a vigorous, bitter fight against its passage but Mr. Weatherford refuted in the most complete manner every argument made against it. Senators Cogswell, Reley, and Veatch all made splendid speeches in support of the bill. It passed with only three dissenting votes. It exempts from execution homesteads of the value of $15,000.

Senator Myers has introduced a bill providing that in all cases where a married man dies intestate having real or personal property or both, his wife shall become the absolute owner of the property in like manner and having the same rights and privileges accorded to the husband under the existing law. In case of separate property at the time of marriage, the wife, on the death of her husband, shall have the same rights and privileges as to his property as the husband has on the death of the wife under the present law.

NOTICE OF FINAL SETTLEMENT.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE UNDERSIGNED, administrator of the estate of Mrs. M. C. Howard, deceased, has filed his final account in the office of the county clerk of Linn county, Oregon, and that the county court of said Linn county, has fixed the 6th day of February, 1903, at the hour of 1 o'clock in the afternoon of said day, as the time for the hearing of said account, and as the place for hearing objections (if any) to said final account and the settlement of said estate.

Dated December 23th, 1902.

W. H. BUEY, Attorney.

NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE UNDERSIGNED have been appointed executors of the last will and testament and estate of Jesse Liver, deceased, late of Linn county, Oregon. All persons having claims against said estate are hereby required to present the same with proper vouchers to the undersigned executors at Sweet Home, Linn county, Oregon, within six months from this date.

Dated January 12th, 1903.

In 36 years South Australia has had 45 administrators.

There are said to be 200,000 men employed upon the 23,000 papers published in America.

The output of the Leadville (Col.) mines from 1879 to 1892 inclusive amounted to $180,000,000.

The aggregate bank clearings of 61 cities in 1892 was $62,684,380,739, an increase of 9.1 per cent over 1891.

There is at present no less than 100,000,000 of counterfeit silver money in circulation in France, Belgium, Switzerland, Italy, Spain and Portugal.

Wilkinson, the young democratic member of the lower house from Lane has introduced a bill fixing the fare on railroads at three cents per mile.

It is generally conceded by members of the legislature of all opinions that the mortgage tax law will be repealed. And also the clause allowing deductions for indebtedness will meet the same fate.

At the time Shakespeare wrote his plays there were not in all the world as many English speaking people as there are now in New York and New Jersey. Today more than 10,000,000 people speak English.

In the belfry at the Unitarian church at Plymouth, Mass., which was burned to the ground a few nights ago, a bell cast by Paul Revere in 1801, and which rang the curfew for many years, was destroyed.

We would like to take this occasion to suggest to the Marion County Democrat that, logically, Governor Penoyer cannot now be called to answer, as a democrat, for his course in the cannon matter. Last June he voluntarily placed himself outside the pale of the democratic party, and however base his ingratitude may be regarded by those who feel that men should not be heartless in politics, nevertheless he is, by his own voluntary act, not subject to criticism as a democrat. But as a violation of official propriety he may be properly criticized by people of all classes and all parties.

For the Good of Others

Rev. Mr. Williams heartily endorses Hood's Sarsaparilla.

We are pleased to present this from Rev. A. A. Williams, of the Sillsbee street Christian Church, Lynn, Mass.:—

"I see no reason why a clergyman, more than a layman, who knows whereof he speaks, should hesitate to approve an Article of Merit and worth, from which he or his family have been signally benefited, and whose commendation may serve to extend those benefits to others by increasing their confidence. My wife has for many years been a sufferer from severe for which she found little help. She has tried many things that promised well but performed little. Last fall a friend gave her a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It seems surprising what simply one bottle could and did do for her. The attacks of headache decreased in number, and were less violent in their intensity, while her general health has been improved. Her appetite has also been better. From our experience with

Nervous Headache

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I have no hesitation in endorsing its merits."

BLACKWELL'S BULL DURHAM SMOKING TOBACCO.

I'm an old smoker, and have at one time or another tried all the different Smoking Tobaccos, but for a good smoke Bull Durham beats 'em all.

A leading characteristic of Bull Durham has always been the mild which it takes on old and fastidious smokers. What has especially secured its uniformity has always remained the same, to-day as twenty-five years ago, the most perfect tobacco in the world.

Made only by Blackwell's Durham Tobacco Co., N. C.
