

Daily Democrat.

Democrats and republicans alike will sympathize with Governor McKinley in his financial misfortunes.

Judge Jackson was confirmed as Supreme Judge without the formality of a division of yeas and nays vote.

W N Roach, a democrat, was elected United States senator from North Dakota, yesterday. This will give the democrats just half the senate, which, with the casting vote of Vice president Stevenson makes a majority. The democrats will very likely elect a senator from Montana.

The DEMOCRAT believes it voices the sentiments of nine-tenths of the taxpayers of Linn county when it gives expression to the opinion that Senators Weatherford and Myers and representatives Blevins, Miller and Elmore were faithful servants of the people and that the latter made no mistake in their election.

A two billion dollar congress was utterly condemned by the votes of the people of the country. We believe that a more than two million dollar legislature will meet the same deserved fate at the hands of the voters of Oregon in June 1894. The legislature was largely republican in both branches and that party will be held responsible for this inexcusable extravagance.

The republican party leaders in this state are shaking their heads with an ominous turn as they discuss the load the party will have to carry in the campaign of 1894. The extravagances of the state legislature are without parallel in this state, and in contemplating their extent we involuntarily turn our eyes to the Reel congress for a precedent.

It is frequently said that some men have greatness thrust upon them. The reverse is true, sometimes, as happened to president Fulton during the closing hours of the senate. Following in the footsteps of the notorious Reed, he counted twelve senators as voting "no" who had not voted at all. This was done to carry through a bill emasculating from the Australian ballot law some of its best features. Here Fulton had littleness cast upon him as he was unequal to the task of doing right. His conduct will rise up to fetter him greatly in the future.

The governor has but one course to pursue in regard to the Durham bill which strips the Australian ballot law of nearly all its merit, and which was railroaded through the senate by the adoption of Czar Reed tactics, and that is to veto it. It would have been impossible to pass it had not Fulton, the president of the senate, adopted the Reed tactics of ruling that a member should be recorded as voting "no" when such member saw fit to not vote at all. Veto it, governor. It is a good place for a little veto.

Waldo M Potter, register of the United States Land Office at Fargo North Dakota, who carried the sobriquet of 'Father of the Republican Party in North Dakota,' comes out in a scathing letter, in which he renounces all allegiance to the republican party and asserts that the democracy of Grover Cleveland is preferable.

For 12 years, he says, he has watched the action of the republican bosses in this state and has found them to be a set of tyrants who have dragged down the party from a majority of two-thirds of the voters to ignominious defeat.

Governor Penney speaking of the appointment of Gresham for secretary of state by Cleveland says:

"It would accord with the eternal fitness of things if Mr Cleveland, who bolted and disregarded the wishes of the regular democratic organization of New York regarding a candidate for the presidency, should confer a cabinet appointment on Mr Gresham, who bolted the nomination of his party. Such an appointment would be a premium on bolting, conferred by a bolter."

Now, this statement about Cleveland's bolting is far fetched. He was a candidate for president and, notwithstanding his own state voted against him, he was fairly nominated and overwhelmingly elected. His own state by a majority of nearly 50,000 showed his popularity there. His Excellency attempts to heap upon Mr Cleveland the odium of being a bolter. 'Misery loves company,' and we suppose the governor wants some one to go along with him and share the odium of being a bolter as the fact is notorious that the governor bolted both state and national tickets last year. The governor seems to be making his case worse.

The only tin plate mill in operation now is the McKinley plant that grinds the tax out of the American consumer.

Mr Clarkson seems to have forgotten the fact that President Harrison at one time appointed a first assistant postmaster general who didn't reflect any remarkable honor upon his administration.

Senator Paddock was one of the men who recognized the danger of McKinleyism when the tariff bill was pending in the Fifty-first congress. His defeat for the senate will undoubtedly confirm his opinion on that point.

The captain of the Eugene cadets will send two cannon to Portland for the use of the Thurman legion on the day of the Cleveland inauguration Good enough. Hurrah for Eugene!—and the captain of the cadets.

P L Fountain of Klamath county, but formerly of Linn county, is a candidate for the Klamath Indian Agency. He has the indorsement of the democratic county central committee of Klamath county. Barney Martin of Corvallis is also a candidate.

Czarism will not go down the throats of American people, and there is no use in trying to force it. When a man gets too big for his breeches, and tries to set himself up as a little tin god, he is going to get pulverized when the next election day comes around. President Fulton may just as well come off his perch.—Telegram.

Yes, verily, true as divine inspiration.

Raised from the Dead

Long and Terrible Illness from Blood Poisoning

Completely Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mrs. Mary E. O'Fallon, a very intelligent lady of Piqua, Ohio, was poisoned while assisting physicians at an autopsy 5 years ago, and soon terrible sores broke out on her head, arms, tongue and throat. Her hair all came out. She weighed but 75 lbs., and saw no prospect of help. At last she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and at once improved; could soon get out of bed and walk. She says: "I became perfectly cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla and am now a well woman. I weigh 125 lbs., eat well and do the work for a large family. My case seems a wonderful recovery and physicians look at me in astonishment, as almost like one raised from the dead."

HOOD'S PILLS should be in every family medicine chest. Once used, always preferred.
