

CHANGED CONDITIONS.

The republican organs that pretend to have discerned a weakening of Mr. Cleveland's purpose to secure a reform of the tariff probably do not deceive themselves.

To the sneering inquiry whether Mr. Cleveland now thinks that "it is a condition that confronts us, not a theory," the reply is, Yes, but, thanks to republican profligacy and misrule, the condition is different and more perilous.

When Mr. Cleveland spoke in 1857 the condition was this: A surplus of $60,000,000 in the treasury and an annual revenue of $100,000,000 in excess of the needs of the government; a strong gold reserve; a silver coinage which the business of the country absorbed without serious consequences, and a war tariff after twenty-five years of peace.

Today, after four more years of republican rule, the condition is this: An exhausted treasury; a revenue insufficient to meet the expenses of the government; the free gold reduced to $3,000,000, three fourths of which has been loaned by the banks; a compulsory silver purchase and paper inflation which have driven gold out of the country and impaired public confidence, and a worse than war tariff that has been twice condemned by the country.

Obviously the first duty is to meet the dangerous condition created by an empty treasury and a demoralized currency. All other reforms must wait upon these. If there shall be any delay in reforming the tariff it will be due not to Mr. Cleveland but to the men who have thus far refused to get the hindering Sherman act out of the way.

"COME TO THE ENEMY"

Under the above caption the Salem Journal publishes the following dispatch: A special from Grand Forks, N. D., says George Walsh speaker of the house of representatives has renounced the republican party and gone over to the democrats.

Now the DEMOCRAT rises to move that the "caption" be amended by striking out the two last words, "the enemy," and inserting the words, "his friends." All in favor of the amendment say "aye." Carried unanimously.

There is a good deal of mawkish sentimentality over McKinley's financial losses. There is no occasion to start subscription papers. Governor McKinley is an able bodied man who is able to earn his own living. Financial reverses are an every day occurrence, and Governor McKinley, being a human being, is liable to all the misfortunes that flesh is heir to.

A Paris florist has designed a floral clock. A circular plot of ground 30 feet in diameter forms the dial of this strange timepiece and flowers are so arranged upon it in plots as to make the figures and minute marks stand out upon it as clearly as upon an ordinary clock face.

The three "holders" are the collectors at Nantucket, Mass., Newark, N. J., and Vicksburg, Miss. The terms of collectors of customs are for four years from the date of commission, and it is possible that the commissions of these three have not expired.

The seener the democratic party moves against the McKinley tariff on the lines of its platform the better it will be for the country and the party," says the Atlanta Constitution. The democratic congress should take the aggressive early in the spring, and should not desert till it carries the enemy's position, "If it takes all summer."

A Colorado paper says that the irrigating ditches are the cause of the destruction of many trout and other fish which attempt to go up them when full, and get stranded as the water drains away. If this is so they could be easily protected by a wire fence where they leave the main stream or return to it.

BLACKMAN'S INSURANCE BILL.

The amendment to the insurance laws introduced by Senator Blackman of Hesperia, and which passed and became a law is as follows:

"The amount of insurance written in a policy of insurance on all buildings insured, after the passage of this act, shall be taken and deemed the true value of the property at the time of the loss, and the amount of the loss sustained, and shall be the measure of damage, unless the insurance was procured by the fraud of the insured, or the loss was caused by the criminal act of the assured. It shall be lawful for any insurance company, liable to pay losses occasioned by fire, to rebuild any structure wholly or partially destroyed of the same style and materials and equal with the one so destroyed, but they shall make their election so to do within 30 days after notice of loss. In case there is a partial destruction of the property insured, no greater amount shall be collected than the damage sustained."

The election of Democratic Senators has become so general throughout the States that even Republican Legislatures are doing the same thing merely to keep in the fashion. There were fifty-two Republicans in the North Dakota Legislature to twenty seven Democrats and eleven Populists, but it elected a Democratic Senator. Mr. Harrison may soon want to join the procession himself.

"After my baby was born I got into very serious condition, having pleurisy, chills and fever, gradually developing into milk leg. We live 20 miles from a physician and did not know what to do. Finally after a great deal of suffering I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and when I was using the third bottle I could see

It Was Doing Me Good. I continued with another bottle, and recovered so rapidly that now I am in good health. I cordially recommend it as a good medicine."

SLATE WRITING is one of the mysteries of the day. While most people believe there is some kind of a trick to it, it nevertheless puzzles. A peculiar incident happened at a meeting of the Yonahill Spiritualist Society. When the lecturer, Mrs. Brown, was about to proceed with the slate writing test, she called as one of five of a committee to watch her, a gentleman who was brim full of suspicion and cunning. When Mrs. Brown exhibited her light silicate slate to show that it had not been prepared, the gentleman referred to startled her by asking if she would use a slate he had brought with him. The medium faltered a moment and said that the new slate was too heavy for her to hold ten minutes under the table, and she preferred the silicate. At any rate she would use the latter first and if the spirits wanted the other they could say so. So the test was made with the usual result accompanied with a request for the other slate. This was used on the second test and to the surprise of the incredulous committee a message was received which was recognized by a person present. This was a clincher.
