The Pekin Gazette is the oldest journal in the world. It dates from the eighth century.

An Armstrong gun in the British navy hurls a solid shot a distance of 12 miles, the highest point in the arc described by the shot being 17,000 feet above the earth's surface.

The Oregonian defends its Washington correspondent, saying he did not say Mr Bush did not see the president. He did say Mr Bush only had a chance to shake hands with Mr Cleveland with the rest of the sweating, seething crowd of curiosity seekers, and he lied.

existing silver laws would bring us to the condition that we now face. Since the inauguration of democratic politics, no one thing has occurred to increase the malevolent effect of these laws.

By "the high seas" referred to in article 1 of the Constitution of the United States is meant the open sea; that is, the waters outside of the civil jurisdiction of any country whatever, which, according to the laws of nations, is limited to one marine league, or three geographical miles, from the shore.

The experiments of Col. Snellon of the Russian Army with falcons as carriers of despatches have proved successful, and the Russian Army hereafter will employ them in preference to the ordinary "homing" birds.

Ex-President Harrison keeps up his well established record of small bore statesmanship. In his note to the Republican League Clubs Wednesday last he said he "thought he might add without transgressing the proprieties that there is nothing in the present business situation to suggest any great gain to the country as the result of the inauguration of democratic politics."

The Indianapolis News commenting on this characteristic utterance thus very truthfully rebukes its extinguished fellow citizen: "This statement, it seems to us, does greatly transgress the proprieties, and reacts in a way not to be desired; for it forces attention to the fact that the present business situation has nothing whatever to do with democratic politics, and vice versa; that this situation is the direct result of laws passed and carried forward for years by the republicans, in the face of as plain forewarning as ever an event had. For years every man of affairs has persisted in pointing out that it was only a question of time when the Pampas grass covers an area of 1,500,000 square miles in South America. It was first grown for market in California in 1872, and in 1890 a 28-acre ranch yielded 260,000 plumes.

Paris will amuse the world at the exhibition of 1900 with the greatest of all telescopes, which will cost at least $500,000, and it is expected to bring the moon near enough to see objects no larger than the towers of the Brooklyn bridge.

It has been noted that the effect of visiting the Mammoth Cave is to rest and stimulate the olfactory nerves to such a degree that, on returning to the surface, trees, animals and human beings have strong individual odors, not previously noticed.

A man breathes 14 pints of air per minute. Sedentary people can get all the advantages to health of a long walk or other exercise by simply increasing the rate of breathing during one or two hours a day, thus adding to the amount of oxygen that enters the lungs.

From researches on the effect of heat and pressure as applied to a cooling orb, Mr Clarence King, the well known American geologist, concludes that the age of the world does not exceed some 24,000,000 years. Alluding to this calculation, Dr Andrew Wilson says that the period of years is "so entirely unthinkable a number that nobody may feel intellectually perturbed if a few millions more be added or a few millions be subtracted from the amount."

Man prides himself on his stupendous reasoning powers, but is doubtful whether other creatures have not the same faculty in a much greater degree when in connection with their peculiar needs. There is little doubt but often the same bird comes to the same locality it frequented the year before, though it has migrated hundreds of miles during the season. It requires judgment to distinguish between what the bird has or has not seen, so as not to take the wrong path, and judgment is the residuum of reason.

A learned German scientist makes the astonishing announcement that among women moustaches are commoner in the present day than they used to be in the past. In Constantinople one out of every two women have unmistakable evidences of down on their upper lips. A similar proportion of moustached women is to be noticed among ladies in Madrid. And in Philadelphia a physician in cold blood has observed that fully three per cent. of the women are moustached. What do these facts indicate? A certain Mr. Mott thinks they indicate the improvement of the human race, for, according to his theory, the race is destined eventually to be completely covered with hair.

Can be counted on to cure Catarrh—Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It's nothing new. For 25 years it has been doing that very thing. It gives prompt and complete relief—but you want more than that. And you get it, with this Remedy—there's a cure that is perfect and permanent.

The worst chronic cases, no matter of how long standing, yield to its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties. "Cold in the Head" needs but a few applications. Catarrh Headache, and all the troubles that come from Catarrh, are at once relieved and cured.

You can count on something else, too—$500 in cash. You can count on it, but it's more than doubtful whether you earn it.

The proprietors of Dr. Sage's Remedy, in good faith, offer that amount for an incurable case of Catarrh. Don't think that you have one, though.

They'll pay you, if they can't cure you. That's certain. But they can cure you. That's just about as certain, too. Can you ask more?

LADIES' TEA Is a pleasant drink, which will be borne by the stomach without nausea or vomiting. It acts thoroughly on the liver, kidneys and reproductive organs. A gentle physio, efficient diuretic, and most useful in cases of painful menstruation. It aids digestion and reduces corpulence; clears the complexion, rendering it fair, and restoring the natural tone of the skin; for it removes the bile which by accumulation, produces the sallow, muddy complexion peculiar to the congested state of the body by all druggists.
