Look out for Astoria when it gets its railroad.
$1,000 was stolen from Leon W Washburn's private car in Seattle.

The Three Sisters is being remodeled at Corvallis, so its capacity will be increased 25 per cent.
Quarterly meetings, Lebanon circuit, July 15th and 16th. At Spicer and Brownville, July 22nd and 23rd.

The notice of the marriage of Mr Guy Moulton yesterday was incorrect, Mr Moulton has not been married to any one.
E H McAllister is erecting a handsome dwelling on Pearl street, just south of Mrs Chase's residence.—Eugene Guard.

Night before last a thief stole several articles of underclothing from a line in the yard of B F Pordam. Probably one of some campers near Albany.
County Treasurer Brown of Marion county has been notified that the town of Minto, on the Santiam, will bond for $500 for a new school house.

Lack of patronage, due, no doubt, to cool weather and scarce shekels, has caused the O. P. officials to declare all excursion arrangements off until further notice.—Corvallis Times.

An Albany Tom Sawyer filled a cigarette with some powder, and gave it to another boy to smoke. It exploded burning the boys face in a serious manner. The bad boy seems to be educating himself for the reform school.
An exchange says: "People who live in the country should remember that clusters of clover hung in a room and left to dry and shed their fragrance through the air, will drive away more flies than molasses or fly paper can ever collect."

WA Wells has just concluded negotiations with Ladd & Bush and J R Bryson, assignees of Hamilton, Job & Co. of Corvallis, owners of the Cauthorn warehouse, by which he becomes lessee of the property, which will be operated this season by him.

About thirty members of the board of trade of San Francisco will arrive in Salem July 31st via the Oregon Pacific. Preparations are now being made by the Salem board of trade to give them a royal welcome. They will leave on the overland for Eugene the same day.—Statesman.

At Brownsville hops are making a most unprecedented growth, and give promise of an abundant yield. The acreage under cultivation in that section is much in excess of any former year, and growers are making large additions to their fields.

In the case of the claim of Wm M Hoag for $4,247, and Wallis Nash for $2,500, salary, as officers of the O P for eleven months ending March 31, 1893, in the Circuit Court at Corvallis, the order was modified, declaring plaintiffs to be employees of the company, and directing W S Hufford, referee, to take testimony with reference to amount of compensation to which they were entitled.

One of the attendants at the Salem fruit growers' meeting is Samuel Daw, who owns a farm near Peoria. He came down the river in a skiff from near Harrisburg, and reached Albany a distance of nearly 30 miles, by noon. He got to Independence in time to take supper with old friends, and made Salem this morning.—Salem Journal.

A soldier, whose name could not be learned, arrived at Fort Walla Walla Tuesday forenoon on a bicycle having come from Fort Sherman, Idaho, a distance of 270 miles, on a wagon of $500 that the journey could be made in four days. He left Fort Sherman Saturday morning, and consequently had several hours to spare. He made ninety miles the first day's ride. The machine ridden was an old style "safety," with an ordinary tire.—Walla Walla Statesman.

Geo Jones presented this office with a strawberry that grew in his yard on Main street. It is the biggest fruit of its kind ever grown in this locality, being over an inch in diameter.—Prineville News. This reads funny enough to people in the habit of seeing the berries three inches in diameter.

The grain warehouses at Blodgett's, Wrenns, Philomath and Munkers, on the line of the Oregon Pacific, will be operated this season by the Oregon Pacific Company, E W Hadley, receiver. The warehouses are the property of the Oregon Development Company, of which A L Maxwell, of Portland, is receiver. They were recently leased by W A Wells, who has signed a sub-lease, turning them over to the O P.

The Prineville News says: Some mischief has been setting fire to fences on McKay creek. A portion of a partnership fence belonging to Guy Vanderpool and Mr Hale was burned on Wednesday of last week, and about half a mile of fence was again destroyed by fire Sunday night. About eighty-five acres of grain was thrown outside of an enclosure by these fires, and if it had been a little later in the season, the grain itself would have been consumed. It is pretty definitely known who set the fires, and it is not unlikely that arrests will be made soon.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Prof D V S Reid, of Eugene, was in the city over night.
Prof W A Robb, of Portland, was in the city today. The Prof is now principal of one of the North Brownville schools.

Mr A Hackleman left yesterday for his big Crook county ranch with 200 Williamette valley cattle. Three or four men went along to do the driving.

Licenses have been issued for the marriage of John Tweedie and Effie Spellinger, Peter Arr and Mary Freese, W J Stitt and Allie L Hesseman, David E Hare and Nellie L Galt's.

Prof G F Russell and family are in Seattle, on their way home from the Merchants' excursion to San Francisco, having returned by way of a steamer running to the Sound.

The Corvallis Times says: In the county clerk's office Monday, marriage licenses were issued to G A Smith and Mary E Brown, and Guy H Morton and Miss Jennie R Griffin.

R E Mulcahy, General Superintendent of the Oregon Pacific, left Saturday night for a week's trip east.—Corvallis Times. The O. P. men are rustlers, but they can't make an Eastern trip in a week.

Mr Hiltbren was so far recovered from her severe illness as to be able to leave Monday for a month's visit with relatives at Albany and Independence. She was accompanied by her daughter Carl.—Times.

George Millikan, of Springfield, is in Prineville on business. He says that numerous wagons are crossing the mountains by the McLevade route, though there are several miles of snow to wade.—Prineville News.

Hon O N Denny, of Portland, is in the city. About thirty years ago he was county judge of Wasco, was afterwards police judge of Portland, and then was appointed U S consul at one of the ports in China. He has also held high official positions under the emperor of China and in Korea.—The Dalles T M

The Pendleton E O. says: George Humphrey, an old and permanent resident of the Willamette valley, and now deputy United States marshal at Portland, arrived in the city this morning to visit his stricken brother. The captain, last night, again suffered from delirium, but this morning was much calmer. While his sickness is much aggravated by his restlessness, the patient's physicians still regard his symptoms as favorable.

The Presbyterian church of this city has given the pastor, Rev E J Thompson, a vacation until September. The church will be closed until then. It is well known that Dr Thompson's health is not good and physicians advise complete rest for a time. The year has been a pleasant and prosperous one for this church. Large accessions to the membership have been made, and the several departments of Christian work have been well sustained. The 40th anniversary of the organization occurs next September and at no time in its history has the membership and congregations been so large as at present.—Corvallis Times.

The ladies auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. gave a social at the rooms last evening that was a success in every respect. The rooms were filled with young people. Among the features of the evening were some contests, such as driving the most nails in a stick of wood in a given time. This was won by Miss Grace Piper with ease. Mr W E Ortel sewed the most buttons on in a given time. Feathers were pinned on an owl and needles threaded on a jug to the amusement of the company. Interspersed was a program, consisting of a song by a male quartet, a song by Tom Thumb and wife, Miss Redfield and Miss Goff, a song, "A Charming Young Fellow," by a ladies quartet, Misses Galbraith, Irvine, Swart and Mrs Nutting, and a medley by a mixed quartet of Secretary McCullagh, George Acheson, Mrs C B Watson and Mrs Nutting. The lunch was a shingle one. Partners were selected by the duplication of sentences on the shingles, for instance, "A man made, and the several departments of Christian work have been well sustained. The 40th anniversary of the organization occurs next September and at no time in its history has the membership and congregations been so large as at present.—Corvallis Times.

NEW YORK LETTER.

New York, July 7th, 1893.
Right patriotically did the citizens of New York celebrate the "glorious fourth." Farmer Dunn favored us with a clear day and a temperate one at that. The small boy with his explosives and the various firework displays made things as noisy as usual, but considering the vast extent of this kind of patriotism it is gratifying to learn that not one accident occurred during the day. This is unprecedented in the history of Independence day observations. The beautiful weather caused many people to leave the city and spend the day in the neighboring seaside and mountain resorts. All the excursions both steamboats and railroad trains were crowded with people eager to get out of the city for a day of recreation and enjoyment. There were many ball games, picnics, parades, outings, etc, and the people enjoyed the day, as well as observed its importance.

On Friday last ex-President Benjamin Harrison walked into the Fifth Avenue hotel quietly and almost unobserved. He was alone and he pushed the swinging doors of the Broadway entrance and proceeded up the corridor to the office. His manner was so simple that a stranger who was not familiar with his features could not have told that any special visitor had arrived. When interviewed the ex-president said that he was going to Cape May, New Jersey to spend the summer and then in September he will proceed to the Leland Stanford Jr University, where he gives a course of lectures on Constitutional and International Law. He would not discuss politics but said that he favored the repeal of the Sherman Silver Law. Regarding the World's Fair General Harrison said: "The fair at Chicago is grand and glorious. It is a whole world itself. It will repay any one to visit it, even if he only has time to walk around outdoors. As an architectural exhibit the fair is gigantic and inspiring." Saturday afternoon just before the close of business on the stock Exchange one of the members on the floor discovered General Harrison in the gallery accompanied by his son Russell and in a second the members started to cheer and the ex-president was compelled to raise his hat in response to the enthusiasm on the floor below. After visiting ex-Secretary Tracey, General Harrison left for Cape May.

Two hundred members of the Liederkranz society boarded a special train of six vestibule cars at the Grand Central Depot on Monday for Cincinnati where they will be welcome at the Sangerfest. On July 15th they will give a grand concert in the Music Hall on the Exposition grounds at Chicago. With such soloists as Misses Emma Heekle and Lillian Blauvelt, sopranos, Conrad Benrens, bass, F B Buson, pianist, and Richard Arnold violinist no doubt remains of the impression that New York's great singing society will make among the musicians at the World's fair.

"Snapper" Garrison has returned to the east after having ridden the winner of the American Derby at Chicago recently. The winner, Bonadles, won $50,000 for his owner, Mr Cushing, and Garrison received $1000 for his services. This is considered a very small fee for the service Garrison rendered in winning the purse. When Diablo won the Brooklyn Handicap which is worth only $18,000 to the winner, Taral, the popular jockey received $5000 as his share from his employers. It is certainly very unjust for Mr Cushing to pay Garrison only $1000 after the efforts he made which resulted in Mr Cushing's winning the $50,000 Garrison's speedy return to the eastern turf makes one believe that he preferred riding in the colors of an eastern owner, instead of the uncertainty of the wild west.

Mayor Gilroy has made a popular selection in David F Porter, whom he has appointed Rapid Transit commissioner in place of Samuel Spencer, resigned. The problem of rapid transit is becoming an important one and its speedy settlement is demanded by the people residing in the upper part of the city and the suburban town. Mr Porter is a real estate man, and is familiar with the needs of Harlem, and his appointment is looked upon with favor and is universally commended.

If the reading public find us
Advertising all the time.

A female tramp was put off the sound bound overland train at this place Sunday night. She had been beating her way this far. She went into the waiting room at the depot and pulled off her shoes and ran around barefooted for awhile, and to all appearance is not in her right mind. She says she came from Chicago. Her manner indicated it.—Eugene Register.

The following from the Independent, of Salem, is suggestive of Albany's situation also: W Putnam, who lives just over the bridge in Polk county, called on the judge of that county yesterday in regard to the condition of the big bridge. The judge informed him that Polk county had nothing to do with the bridge and that the city of Salem agreed at the time the bridge was built to keep it in repair. He said that the $20,000 given by his county toward building the bridge was donated just as a private individual would donate money toward building a church. Mr Putnam says that he believes that the taxpayers, especially in the lower part of the county, would be willing to do their share toward fixing the bridge. He says that there are lots of planks that are worn down until they are not over half an inch thick, and that a horse is apt to go through at any time.

DOWN GO THE RATES.—The Union Pacific now load with reduced rates to eastern points, and their through car arrangements, magnificently equipped Pullman and Tourist sleepers, free reclining chair car and fast time, make it the best line to travel. Two trains leave from Portland daily at 8:45 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. The rates are now within reach of all, and everybody should take advantage of them to visit the World's fair and their friends in the east. Send for rates and schedules of trains, and do not purchase tickets until after consulting Curran & Monteith, Albany, Or.
