PENSIONERS GALLERY.

A dispatch from Weir, Kansas, says: "Congressman Tarsney started the whole United States talking some time ago by unearthing a man who had applied for and secured a pension for baldness, but for thrift Tarsney's baldheaded pensioner does not belong to the same class as a miner once employed by the Kansas and Texas Coal Company, near this town.

James W Smith is about 55 years old, 5 feet 7 inches high, weighs 140 pounds, and is reported to have been a good soldier. When the war closed and every old soldier, no matter how sound in body, was impudently to apply for a pension, this member of the Smith family was not forgotten. James Smith was a private. He had two good eyes, his arms and legs were intact, but a lung trouble, resulting in total disability, was easy to prove and a pension attorney took Mr Smith's case and a Kansas congressman assisted in rushing it through for him. Now if there is any kind of manual labor that requires a good constitution and healthy lungs it is mining, and in all this region hereabout Pensioner Smith is pointed out as the most successful miner. He can work more hours a day and more days a month than any other man.

An examination of the books of the Kansas and Texas Coal Company for the six months preceding March shows that during that time Smith fell under $100 a month only once, and his average was $117.50 per month. During these six months this totally disabled man worked 109 days, or practically every day the mine was operated, and earned $703.74.

During this time Smith's living expenses as shown by the books at the company's store, were $192.13, so that for six months he had, besides keeping the wolf from the door, more than $500 to his credit, not including the $12 per month pension for total disability.

Ex-Speaker Thomas B Reed does not take kindly to donning the legislative surplice and being hitched to the congressional harvester in midsummer. Mr Reed is needlessly alarmed, as he will have no more laborious work than switching flies from the democratic wheel-horses. In his anger at being compelled to leave the cool breezes of Portland in August the erstwhile Cur says that the extra session will be a good preparation, not for solving the silver question, but for the future life. Is it possible that Mr Reed has so lost confidence in the power of saving grace as to look calmly forward to something even hotter than Washington in the dog day?

The army bill introduced in the new Reichstag by Chancellor von Caprivi yesterday is substantially the old Hine compromise. It provides for an increase in the army of 50,000 men at once, and of 75,000 within three years, and ultimately for a trained army of 4,400,000 men, which is fully ten times as many as the young war lord could handle effectively. The cost of the present increase will be about $16,000,000. When the chancellor announced that the bill contained the emperor's ultimatum the pretensions of imperialism in Germany were very plainly revealed.

In the mountains of Kentucky, where the feud has its home, theft is regarded as a worse crime than homicide. It is not surprising, therefore, to find the Hazel Green Herald advising the community to "hunt down and hang for the good of the country" a housebreaker who stole articles worth $20 from Porter Lucy's cabin. Sneak thieves, says the Herald, "are one of the marks of civilization that we can well afford to dispense with, and if the one who committed this deed could be put out of the way it might have a salutary effect in deterring others from following in his footsteps."

Two English gentlemen of the cloth traveling in the Orient were recently made the victims of a curious trick of the telegraph. While in Persia, near the Armenian frontier, they sent a message to the British consul at the town they were approaching announcing that "two English clergymen" would reach him on Wednesday. On arriving at the town they found that the consul was absent and that no preparation had been made to receive them. It appeared that the message was received in error: "Two worthless wretches will reach you on Wednesday."

A gentleman with a handsome equipage followed by a fine English mastiff, drove up in front of a Cincinnati hotel the other day, says the Times Star of that city, and jumping from his buggy snapped the hitch strap into the ring of his horse's bit, and then placed the other end of the strap in the mouth of his mastiff, which by this time had gnawed himself on the curbstone. There the mastiff sat like a statue of stone holding the strap securely, while his master went in to "see a man." On the gentleman's exit the dog yielded up the strap and the gentleman drove off, closely followed by the faithful four-legged lackey.

THE CAUSE

Our Republican friends will find the Democratic majority in Congress sufficiently courageous to attack the entire line of infamous class legislation when it convenes which has been enacted for special interests by the Republicans. This beyond doubt includes the tariff as one of the first outrages to be assailed. The protectionist's hope that the present stagnation in business will deter action on this question, will not be realized. The country is suffering from McKinleyism touch more than it is from an over graduation and circulation of silver, and the party will have to go down to the very roots of the evil and remove it. It is special interests which have received the fostering care of a Congress of their own selection that are trembling and it is these interests which hope to profit by the cry of hard times and business stagnation. They know they cannot longer depend upon the special favors of the Government, unless by deception they can secure timid Democrats while the people are demanding that class legislation shall be destroyed forever. When a Democratic Congress, with a Democratic president, shall take the reins of government in hand, it is expected that they will redeem the pledges made to the people last fall, and first of all remove the direct cause of the most important one—the tariff—from the neck of the toiling masses. The protectionist, who has made his fortune from the tollers and producers, will no longer be allowed to count his exorbitant profits and the Government guarantee him his income. Things will have to be equalized and the first duty of Congress will be to remove the cause and redeem the pledges the party has made. There can be no child's play in this matter, and the Democrat who fails in his duty this time, will not be returned to his seat by a constituency which he deceives. Remove the cause and all will be well.—Portland Dispatch.

Hood's Cures Sharp Pains

Short Breath, Heart Trouble, Rheumatism.

Mrs. L. M. Paine Eagle Creek, Oregon.

"I have lived here in Oregon for the past twenty years, and most of the time have been a very great sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism. I have also had what the doctor called heart disease, with shortness of breath and sharp pains in the left side. I decided to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had finished three bottles I was in better health than I had been for years. I do not have any pain now, sleep well, and to-day no woman of my age

Enjoys Better Health than I. At home on the ranch I not only attend to my family household, but last summer I cared for and milked four cows. I do not feel that I can say half enough in praise of Hood's Sarsaparilla Mrs. L. M. PAINE, Eagle Creek, Oregon. Hood's Pills are prompt and efficient, yet easy in action. Sold by all druggists, 25c.

Can be counted on to cure Catarrh—Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It's nothing new. For 25 years it has been doing that very thing. It gives prompt and complete relief—but you want more than that. And you get it, with this Remedy—there's a cure that is perfect and permanent. The worst chronic cases, no matter of how long standing, yield to its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties. "Cold in the Head" needs but a few applications. Catarrhal Headache, and all the troubles that come from Catarrh, are at once relieved and cured. You can count on something else, too—$500 in cash. You can count on it, but it's more than doubtful whether you earn it.

The proprietors of Dr. Sage's Remedy, in good faith, offer that amount for an incurable case of Catarrh. Don't think that you have one, though. They'll pay you, if they can't cure you. That's certain. But they can cure you. That's just about as certain, too. Can you ask more?
