GOOD EVENING.

HADLEY IS DOING.—Receiver of the Oregon Pacific railroad, sent to him a section of piling on Yaquina bay which has been for two years. It has been a glass case and will be sent to Mr. Hermann at Washington to be exhibited in the room of the museum on rivers and harbors. The piling is thoroughly honey-combed, plainly demonstrating the work of the teredo and the need of precautions against the pest which has already been done. To a person who has never seen anything of the kind the specimen is very attractive. Mr. Hermann says that he is also preparing a book which will contain samples of the most beautiful native woods of the coast and the productions of the state, grains, wool, etc., which are by way of Yaquina bay, showing the importance of the harbor and hoping will materially assist in having appropriate money enough to necessary improvements. Large maps showing the bar at different tides and of other important points will also be sent.

DEL NORTE.—Del Norte, owned by T. Packer, of this city, came to the Portland yesterday, winning the race, losing the first heat and the next three straight with a time of 2:18, 2:18 1/2 and 2:20. Albany men were present and their money on Del Norte. This four year old will race Saturday at Newport. Our boys, Kittitas, Rancho and will have to do live win. The Democrat is informed that Del Norte has made a mile in 2:13, a quarter at a 2 minute rate, so that that wins will have to fly.

OREGON PACIFIC.—Oregon Pacific have about completed an agreement by which they hope to rest the immense hop output and Linn counties. A very large acreage across the center of the Santa Fe route from San Jacinto, and the O.P. proposes to lay down in San Diego at a corollary low figure, making the rate from New York and Boston one dollar per ton by any other line. The hops from Polk county alone aggregate nearly 120 carloads, and its carloads will be picked near Oregon.

MR. A. T. GILBERT.—Mr. A. T. Gilbert has secured a pear tree on Mr. Allen's Polk county the other day that is one of the largest of the kind known. It is of the variety called "The Tree" and is 50 feet and 2 1/2 inches in circumference. It is a limb that is 4 feet 7 inches in circumference. It is estimated that it will hold 100 bushels of fruit.

THIRTEEN PASSENGERS.—Thirteen passengers were on the local yesterday on the world's fair at Chicago. The list of the tourists are, Mrs. D. A. Paine, Miss R. B. Bingham, Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman and daughter Edith, Mr. and Mrs. James Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Alton, Mr. and Mrs. Al Lane and child, and Mrs. Kenney.

THE DEMOCRAT COMPOSERS.—The Democrat composers, the foreman down to the devil, make their profoundest bow to E. Allen, the popular groceryman, and his (green) watermelon. Such acts of kindness are greatly appreciated especially by the printers.

THE THRESHING ACCIDENT.—The king of the threshing accident to sick, of Benton county, whose leg was recently amputated, the Corvallis says: This is the second terrible accident that has befallen members of the family. About a year ago a young man was heating water in a coal oil boiler. An explosion occurred and the boy severely scalded that he has not yet recovered.

CALL AT STORE OF C. E. BROWNELL.—If you know to have perfect health you should have pure blood, and the best way to have pure blood is to take Hood's Kidney Pills, the best blood purifier and blood builder.

NEVER BOTHER.—If you are very much bothered with business during the month of August, you will keep cool and get into the habit of asking for Hood's Kidney Pills.

WHEN HE IS HOT.—If you are hot enough for him, when you can cry plainly that he is practically a hot head, but instead, advise him to call on Hood's Kidney Pills and get the best baked goods to be secured, as well as warm groceries generally.

WHEN HE IS HOT.—If you are doing you will surely retain his friendship.

ON AND AFTER SEPTEMBER 27.—Albany Dressed Beef Co. will sell the best only. We solicit a continuance of the patronage we have received in the past, as we shall give the best of service.

WILLIAM'S SHAVING AND HAIR CUTTING PARLOR.—William's shaving and hair cutting parlor.

HOME AND ABROAD

The deposits in the Kansas City banks increased $2,000,000 in the last six weeks. An acre of oats of Anthony Maxwell, of Haisey, made 100 bushels. His entire crop averaged 70 bushels.

The state firmness tournament meets at The Dalles on next week. Albany will probably not even send delegates.

Jesse Spencer, of Corvallis, has charged 25 cents a shave up to a few days ago, when he dropped to 15 cents. Several years behind time.

While in the city recently Rev. H. P. Webb gave an Albany friend some crosses sets directly from Jerusalem. They will be planted and their future will be watched with interest.

Several Albany boys did not put in an appearance last night until about 10:30 o'clock. A dog show near First and Elsworth streets was the attraction.

An excursion train will leave Albany for Yaquina Bay next Sunday at 7 o'clock. The Willamette Valley will sail for San Francisco, and the tug will go out over the bar. Round trip $1.50.

The doll carnival will be opened one week from tomorrow. The committees having it in charge are making a special effort to give the finest exhibition that has visited Albany this season. A hard time will be charged. You can't afford to miss it. In the Y. M. C. A. Hall Sept. 5th.

Ed Stanton, a young man, and an old resident of Yaquina Bay, was hauling lumber on the Siletz reservation when his team ran away, going into a low shed. He was caught and his back broken, so that he only lived a short time.

John Gray was yesterday awarded the contract for building a dining hall and two cottages at the state insane asylum. Mr. Gray's bid was $24,327.30. It will be remembered that H. C. Lieb's bid was $21,434, but claiming to have made a mistake in his estimate. Mr. Lieb was allowed to withdraw his bid.—Salem Journal.

The necessary papers for a divorce suit have been filed with the county clerk wherein Mrs. Allie Brewer is plaintiff and Joseph H. Brewer is defendant. This couple was married in Sioux City, Iowa, in November, 1885, and came to Silverton in this county in 1890. The plaintiff alleges that her husband committed adultery at Newport in July last. The case will be attended to by Judge Burnett at the next term of circuit court.—Statesman.

Messrs. Livingston & Douglas have reported the finest yield of oats on record this year. On two and one-fourth acres of ground, by actual measurement, they have harvested 213 bushels, or 7,670 pounds of the finest kind of grain. A measured bushel, instead of weighing the regulation weight of 36 pounds, weighs 41 pounds. The yield per acre, according to the above, is found to be 95 bushels. The seed from which these oats are grown was purchased in California, and none of the product will be sold, as they will be carefully cleaned and used next year for seed.—Eugene Register.

Mr. Wilson, of Wilson & Coase, the contractors on the new Agricultural College buildings at Corvallis, was in the city this week. They have had twenty-five men employed and will complete the work ahead of time. The carpenters have completed their work on the two-story building to be utilized as the horticulture laboratory and photograph gallery, and it is now receiving its last coat of paint. The finishing coat of plastering in the structure will be done next week. The conservatory is now awaiting the glass, which will be put in at once, when it will be completed. The main work is now being done on the large addition to the mechanical hall and rapidly progressing. The new barn was finished some time ago. The new buildings are all substantial structures.

A BLOODY AFFRAY.

A general fight, which terminated in the shooting of M. W. Smith, took place on the island, three miles south of Corvallis, about 8 o'clock last evening. The others implicated in the affair are John Stahlbuch, Sr., Herman Stahlbuch, John Stahlbuch, Jr., Germans, and Mrs. Smith, wife of the man who was shot. The direct cause of the quarrel is difficult to learn, but it is generally known that the two families have been anything but friendly towards each other and a feud of long standing has existed.

As near as we can learn Smith was in the act of driving a couple of cows belonging to the Stahlbuch from his pasture, when he was met by the elder of the Germans and a fight took place in a road on Smith's land. The two sons of Stahlbuch hearing their father's cries, were soon at the scene, Herman with a shotgun (this being disputed.) It is said that Smith took hold of the gun near the muzzle, and pushed it aside just as it was discharged, the load barely missing him. In a scuffle which followed, the gun became unbreached, Smith having the barrels in his hands, with which he struck the two Stahlbuch on their heads, knocking them down. By this time the other Stahlbuch arrived and was also struck on the head with some instrument, and in a dazed condition drew his pistol and began shooting at Smith, three of the shots taking effect. Parties who were in hearing distance say that six shots were fired in all. Three bullets took effect. He was also considerably beaten up about the back. As to the result of Smith's injuries the doctors are as yet unable to form an opinion, as none of the bullets have been located. The three Stahlbuch are terribly cut about the head, the older one and Herman being unable to be about, while John, the one who did the shooting, was in town this morning for medical assistance for his father and brother. He also exhibited an ugly wound. No one witnessed the fight except those implicated. A warrant was sworn for Herman and John Stahlbuch, each, and they were arrested on a charge of an assault with a dangerous weapon. As the former was not able to come to town and there was no one else to take care of his disabled father, he was allowed to remain at home. John was arraigned before County Judge Huford and bound over in the sum of $300 to appear for preliminary trial set for next Saturday at 1 o'clock. The bond was given.—Corvallis News.

NOTES

A Eugene paper says that tramp photographers, tinkers and shirt order takers should be left alone. Don't patronize them.

The following from the Eugene Guard indicates a continued confidence in the value of Oregon property: E. M. Carpenter, administrator of the John Chestnut estate, has sold the farm formerly owned by deceased, being 157 acres of the W. M. Stevens donation land claim lying about four miles easterly from Eugene, to J. H. Gossler, lately from the east. The amount paid for the place was $6,280, or $40 per acre.

AN ADDRESS.—Miss O. Michi Natsuda, who addressed the ladies at the W. C. T. U. Hall on Tuesday afternoon, will speak in the same place on Friday eve, Sept. 1st. She will be assisted in giving a representation of a Japanese formal call by two young ladies in Japanese costume. A collection will be taken to assist Miss Natsuda in defraying the incidental expenses of her school life in Byrn Maw.

NEW YORK LETTER.

New York, August 25th, 1893. When Henry Villard resigned from the board of directors of the Northern Pacific Railroad Co., several months ago, the many operators, and especially those interested in N.P., were cast in a gloom and could not solve the mystery which led to that seemingly strange move on the part of the well-known manipulator of watered stocks and bonds. Since then, however, the great Northern Pacific system has passed into the hands of a receiver, and of course Mr. Villard did not go down on the stump. Why? Because before the rupture was made public, Mr. Hillgarde, called Villard to take the German outfit, sold his stock to the hopeful investors of Berlin. Brayton Ives, an active and popular investor on the street, has written a letter criticizing Villard for his mismanagement of the entire road. Mr. Ives also calls attention to the vast over-issue of stock during Mr. Villard's regime. Mr. Villard's friends are urging him to sue for libel, but as yet the matter is under consideration, where it will probably be kept by the shrewd operator of Northern Pacific.

Eighteen thousand people, attending the three games played between the home team and the Cleveland club, is nothing if not a criterion of the unprecedented interest given to the national game. When the season started in May there were more critics than could find space, and of course Captain Ward was unceremoniously criticized, owing to the unfortunate condition of the New York Giants. Regardless, however, of all abuse and misdirected personal libel, the hustling captain-manager has succeeded in remedying the defects in the team, which were confined to the batteries. The team has entered games without a pitcher or catcher in condition to play any kind of ball. The fruit of John M. Ward's efforts is now being harvested. Playing as Ward has, second base, second to no other player in the profession, he has at the same time collected the best set of batteries held under contract by any league club. The result of this piece of good management lies in the fact that the New Yorks have climbed from tenth position to fifth in the league race. The season, however, is too far advanced for Ward's warriors to overtake the Boston, who have gained a commanding lead. The directors of the club realize the fact, under the management of John M. Ward, and if no accident interferes, the present team representing New York will be almost invincible next season. The boys are making a very plucky, uphill fight for second place, and if they continue to play as they have during the last month, they will succeed in their gallant attempt. During the last month the "giants" have won every game played at home and have lost only two out of the last twenty-five games played. This pace, if continued, would land Ward's hustlers second only to Boston and if the beaners stumbled, (which is not at all likely) the chances for the coveted pennant would loom up in sight of the ardent enthusiasts who gather at the polo grounds.

For the first time in many years, have the unemployed of the city become so numerous as to cause a disturbance in their clamor for work and bread. Last Saturday a large crowd of idle men, women and children gathered in and around the International Labor Exchange on Grand street. The assemblage, composed mostly of Russian Jews and Poles, became highly excited when someone shouted "let us demand bread at public meeting." The crowd became a wild and furious band of half-witted, excited people, when someone suggested "Walhalla hall." Almost under the impulse of one man, the mob ran through Hester street and stopped in front of Walhalla hall. The proprietor refused to let them in, when, suddenly, the doors were broken open and the half-starved populace filed into the hall. Several speakers were about to address the audience, when the police arrived. A riot ensued as the police put in an appearance and a great stampede for the doors was made by the wild and almost blood-thirsty rioters. After the reserves from several station houses had been summoned to the scene, the mob was driven up to Grand street, and with the aid of vigorous clubbing by Captain Dewey's men, order was restored. The ring leaders were arrested and held for trial to answer to a charge of creating a public disturbance. It is feared that further trouble will materialize. Of course the anarchists are jubilant and hope to stir up the poor and wretched men to use violence. It is estimated that over 100,000 men are out of employment in New York alone. If some relief is not given to the present condition of affairs, a really critical state of affairs will be the result. The efficient and successful police force of the metropolis will have ample opportunity to add another laurel to its many previous achievements, in keeping the public peace.

WORTH THINKING ABOUT.—If everybody would stand in with white labor times generally would be improved. It is surprising that there is a single person in Albany who will have their washing done by Celestians, when they can get it done at the Albany steam laundry by Richards & Phillips, a great deal better, without any disagreeable smell, at low prices. Think about this matter and stand by white institutions. Send your laundry to this establishment, and have it well attended to.

WANTED.—A position to do general housework by an experienced and competent girl. Leave word at the DEMOCRAT office.

LOST.—Last Monday between Fourth and First streets, in this city, a pocket book with a trunk key in it. Finder will accommodate a young lady by leaving it at this office.

FOR SALE.—A good horse. Inquire of L. Viereck.
