Good for the Irish. It has been discovered that Irishmen are never anarchists. One reason given is that they are all policemen and politicians.

After occupying twenty-three pages of the Congressional Record, much of it in nonpartisan type, with a silver speech on Monday, the 11th Senator Stewart said, "Mr President, there are several branches of this subject that I shall treat hereafter but I will close the speech."

Several towns are thinking Eugene boastful on account of an item published first in the Oregonian, that more people had gone from here to the World's fair than from any other city in the state besides Portland. The truth is, the city which sends the least number should be best entitled to boast, for keeping its money and people at home during the times when all wealth that is carried away is felt by the community from which it is drawn.—Eugene Register.

The following comprehensive request from a Nebraska gentleman, says The Dallas Chronicle, was received by the land office today: "United States Land Office—Will you kindly send me a list of lands (government) timber, mineral and agricultural, also price per acre, and oblige." As there are about 800 townships, comprising 10,000 square miles, and nearly 7,000,000 acres of land in this district, and as each township map would cost about $4, the magnitude of the request is plainly apparent, and as the letter did not enclose a check for $1,000, the spirit of the letter could not be complied with, which Mr Lewis very much regrets. This is also a sample of some requests sent to newspapers.

On a Conservative Basis.

OWING to the present monetary stringency and during the existing condition of the financial market, I find it compulsory to run my business on a very conservative basis. Sugar, as you are aware, is handled on a very small margin of profit; so small in fact that scarcely pay for the handling of it, and the terms upon which it is bought are very strict (cash only.) While money was plentiful and collections good, I was able to allow sugar bills to run 60 days; but conditions at present are such that I will sell sugar for cash only. I assure you I was very reluctant to make a rule of this kind, but the conditions of the market are such as to make it imperative. Trusting you will look at this in the proper light and also understand that this rule applies generally. FERRY CONN.

MYERS.—At Scio, Sept 19, 1893, Mrs Nora Cornell Myers, aged 25 years. At the death of Mrs Myers her legion of friends receive a sad blow. For many months her health has been failing, and though her death was no surprise, it seems that it was premature. She was once a resident of Salem, where a large number of acquaintances esteemed and loved her for her many virtues. At her death a husband and infant child mourn the loss of a faithful wife and good mother. She was a cousin of Hon Til Ford and Wm Kaiser, of this city, and a sister-in-law to Senator Jeff Myers.—Salem Independent.

SMITH.—Near Halsey on Monday, September 18, 1893, of consumption, Esther Smith, wife of James A. Smith, aged 42 years. Mrs Smith was an exemplary Christian woman, being a member of the U. P. church at that place. She leaves a husband and six children and a host of friends to mourn her loss. She was the mother of Mrs Russell, wife of School Superintendent Russell, of this city.

NEW YORK LETTER.

New York, September 15th, 1893.

Once more the gallant yachtsmen hold sway in the beautiful harbor which leads to America's great metropolis. Several years have elapsed since the English sportsmen have mustered courage enough to send over a boat to try for the cup held by America. Since the Valkyrie left England, to try for the cup, which the Americans will defend, local yachtsmen have been preparing for the trial races. Last Saturday the first race was run over the triangular course, in the lower bay. The contestants were the Colonia, Jubilee and Pilgrim, of the Boston Yacht Club, and the Vigilant, of the New York Yacht Club. The Vigilant won Saturday as well as on Monday. The gallant craft clearly outsteered her Boston antagonists, and was chosen as the defender of the trophy won by the Mayflower, Volunteer and Puritan. This is the first time that the defender of the honor of American yachtsmen has been from New York. All the previous yachts have come from Boston, and it is natural that the members and friends of the New York Yacht club are jubilant. The two races called into commission all the excursion boats on the river, all of which presented a gay appearance as they passed out the narrow, crowded with passengers and gay with bunting. The first race was run in a calm sea and light wind and the Vigilant defeated her rivals, the Jubilee being second. On Monday the day was bright, but the sea rough and the wind strong. These two races being run under different conditions, as to weather and wind, and the gallant white winged Vigilant winning both, demonstrated that she was superior to her nearest rival. The selection of the Vigilant to defend the cup against the British aspirant, the Valkyrie, was commended, and the committee having the race in charge believes that the Valkyrie will return to "Old England" defeated by the Yankee middy. The inter-national race will be run during the last week of this month over the same as those of Monday and Saturday.

Living in retirement, and almost forgotten by the outside world, did grim death find Hamilton Fish, the former statesman and public celebrity. At his home on the Hudson, near Garrison's, last Friday expired Hamilton Fish, Secretary of State during President Grant's two administrations. During the period of Mr Fish's public career he was a prominent personage in politics. He was Governor of New York, Senator from New York, and finally Secretary of State. His services in the state department were fruitful and his management of the negotiation which brought about the Geneva Arbitration was keen and shrewd, and it was due to his labors, together with William M. Evart's pleadings, which resulted in the commission awarding the United States $15,000,000 for damages done to American vessels, by British warships during the Civil war. Although having retired from public life so many years since, the death of Hamilton Fish, who lived to the ripe old age of 85, is the loss of one of America's statesmen and a loyal and able citizen of the Empire state of New York. Historians will class them thus, Jefferson, Hamilton, Clay, Webster, Sumner, Bayard, Blaine and Fish.

The retirement of that true sportsman and popular owner of race horses, Pierre Lorillard, is much to be regretted by the followers of the turf. Mr Lorillard always was a true sportsman, and at a time like this, in the career of eastern turf, the retirement of Mr Lorillard is a loss to honest racing. The horses owned by Mr Lorillard, which comprised the Rancoeca's stable, were sold at Tattersalls & Co's last Saturday night. The prices realized for some good colts were surprisingly low. But when the great Lamplighter was sold, under the hammer, to Mr G Walbaum for $20,000, every turfman and race goer was literally amazed to see so promising a horse, young in years, stout of heart, with good mind and a speed that has won many a gallant struggle for the honor and treasury of Rancoeca's, sold at such a low price. Mr Walbaum, the public idol's new owner, entered him at Sheephead Bay on Monday, two days after he bought him, and the gallant Lamplighter won from a field including such horses as Banquet, Sir Walter, Tenifer, Candelabra and Illume. The feature of the race was the fact that the grandson of Spendthrift carried 127 pounds, exceeding ten pounds to M F Dwyer's speedy colt Banquet. It was evident, during the race, that it required all the strength Taral could command to keep Lamplighter from running away from his field. It was a remarkable performance, and a great cheer arose from the crowd as the great colt merely galloped under the wire a winner with plenty to spare, and Taral holding him in at that. Perhaps the change from "Willie" Sims to the determined "Fred" Taral in the saddle proved beneficial to the great colt. Nevertheless he has demonstrated that, if not run to death from day after day, and with a fair weight, he can run away from them all.
