SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Lawyer Wright went to Salem today on legal business.

Mr Coulton, the insurance man, came up from Portland last night, to spend a day or two in Albany.

Hon C K Wilkinson, of the U S custom house of Portland, passed through Albany this noon, after a trip home to Eugene on account of illness.

J M Summers, a former resident of Corvallis, but now a practicing attorney of Lebanon, was in the city today on business. He is a graduate from the Keely institute which has made a great improvement on him.—Corvallis News.

F H Bryant, assistant superintendent of the state reform school returned on yesterday morning's train, having in charge Frank Johnson and Kamone Sutton, two boys, inmates of the school, who escaped on Wednesday, the 13th, while working in the timber. Sutton was arrested by the city marshal of Ranier and Johnson was arrested at Gresham.—Statesman.

Washington Crabtree and son P P Crabtree started for Polk Co Ky Tuesday, where grandpa Crabtree has another living. It has been fifty-seven years since he left that country, and seen his brother; he is now in his 85th year. He said that he did expect that his brother would recognize him, and we presume not. We wish him a good time and pleasant journey.—Stayton Times.

The Baptist Chinese Mission on Friday evening gave a farewell meeting in honor of the pastor and wife who are to go this fall as missionaries to China. The members of the school show great appreciation of the interest shown in their welfare by the pastor, and especially Mrs Hill, who was a teacher in the school for some time. A considerable number of the church and other friends enjoyed the singing and other exercises of the school, as also the refreshments which the Chinese know so well how to serve. The occasion was a most significant and pleasant one and reflected great credit on the school and Mrs H C Chamberlain, the faithful superintendent.

Mr Ora Copeland, the seal fisher of Toledo, was in the city yesterday, and was giving his friends some interesting narrations of his recent trip along Japan. At one time he was out in the fog as far as 80 miles from his vessel, and about gave up as being lost, when he was taken up by a strange vessel and again started for his own ship in the morning. Young Copeland was one of the crack shots of the party getting extra pay for his superior skill. The business is not only dangerous, but tiresome, the constant watching of the water in a boat ever rocking being very wearying to the eyes and body. Over $1600 in three months, though, explains how one can forget the dangers and enter into the spirit of the enterprise regardless of consequences.

DECIDEDLY PRIMITIVE.—The Eugene Journal tells the following. A primitive outfit passed our office Tuesday afternoon, consisting of a low wheeled wagon without a cover, containing a few boxes and some rolls of bedding laid on boards, with a young woman and four small children perched up among the bedding. It was drawn by a yoke of oxen and a young man walked in front and led the near ox with a rope fastened to a ring in the nose. The woman got into the mud to hold the ox in the street while the man purchased some feed, and the children then got out and were all barefooted and bare legged up to their knees. They started off walking, the woman carrying the gun and the man leading the ox.

MISTAKEN FOR A COON.—Last Thursday while hunting near Nashville, Thos Savage climbed a tree after a coon. James Post, who was with him was after the same coon, and seeing the leaves move, thought the animal was in the tree and fired, hitting his friend in the back near the kidneys, ranging upwards to the right shoulder. Savage was taken home, and with good treatment will probably live. This was a careless and unnecessary as the usual bear accidents.

Astoria has one chance left. The Astorian grasps at the following straw: "The Gobel road proposition seems after all to offer the only near chance of the fulfillment of Astoria's railroad desires."

Salem is Oregon's hop center, fruit center and educational center. She intends to maintain these distinctions.—Statesman. The best part of the apple is next to the core, and the best part of meat next to the bone. That is Albany.

Most of the train robbers nowadays are back in the so called civilized states, while the states with big reputations in this respect are not being heard from so frequently. It is an interesting fact in this connection that the Willamette valley has never had a train robbery. This is really one of the most civilized locations in the world, the garden spot of respectable people.

On a Conservative Basis.

OWING to the present monetary stringency and during the existing condition of the financial market, I find it compulsory to run my business on a very conservative basis. Sugar, as you are aware, is handled on a very small margin of profit; so small in fact to scarcely pay for the handling of it, and the terms upon which it is bought are very strict (cash only.) While money was plentiful and collections good, I was able to allow sugar bills to run 60 days; but conditions at present are such that I will sell sugar for cash only. I assure you I was very reluctant to make a rule of this kind, but the conditions of the market are such as to make it imperative. Trusting you will look at this in the proper light and also understand that this rule applies generally. PERRY CONN.
