AN INCOME TAX.

The Washington correspondent of the New York World speaking of the various plans to raise a revenue to support the government, says:

The only other important source of increased revenue that will be considered by the committee will be that of an income tax. So great a number of congressmen have expressed themselves in favor of the imposition of such a tax that it is generally believed that the proposition will carry by a large majority. Several modified forms of income tax have been suggested. One of them, which emanates from Congressman Johnson, of Ohio, provides that a tax be levied on the profits of corporations, which are known through public reports and on rents, which may be ascertained from third parties. This idea is based on the theory that an income tax universal in its application is a voluntary tax paid by honest people and evaded by the dishonest.

It will be seen by this general statement of the probable cost of tariff and tax legislation that whatever changes may be made in the rates of duty for the benefit of the people the loss of revenue, whatever it may be, can easily be made up by taxes which are not double, as tariff taxes are, through the increased prices charged on domestic manufactures, and which have this advantage, that those who pay them know pretty well what they are contributing to the support of the government.

Whatever the committee decides to do there will be no contention after contention in behalf of special interests. The coal owners of West Virginia and Ohio will struggle against the abolition of the duty which has made fuel so dear that the New England iron foundries have gone out of business. So it will be with all protected industries, but the bill is very likely to be made on the lines here suggested. Assuming the amount to be made good by increased or new taxation to be $70,000,000, the following receipts from the taxes named are available: sugar tax at one cent, $37,000,000; saving of sugar bounty, $10,000,000; saving on pension list, $10,000,000; tax on beer, $32,000,000; total, $89,000,000.

The Canadian Government will allow the United States to inspect emigrants at Quebec, who propose to come to this country through Canada. It will not make any agreement with our Government in this respect; but the threat that if we could not inspect immigrants coming through Canada, that none should be allowed to land here, brought the Canadian prime minister to terms at once. The agents of the United States can make the required inspection, while the Canadian ministry shuts its eyes and affects to know nothing about what is being done. It is much as Mr Lincoln once remarked about arresting Vallandigham in war time. He wished that instead of being arrested he had been allowed to escape "unbeknownst" to our authorities.

According to a statement made by the secretary of the treasury the amount of money in circulation in the United States October 1st was $1,701,939,918. Estimating the population at 67,306,000 the circulation per capita is $25.39, a net increase during September of $21,377,247. The circulation per capita August 1st was $24.34. Gold coin increased during September $14,329,741.

The great cave in the Black Hills region is said to be fifty-two miles long, and contains nearly one thousand five hundred rooms, some two hundred feet high having been opened. There are streams, waterfalls and thirty-seven lakes, one of which is an acre in extent. The cave is six thousand feet above sea level, and four hundred feet below the earth's surface.

The Dispatch wants free silver, but it wants no obstruction to the majority will of Congress. It is the Democratic theory of this Government that majorities, honestly expressed, shall rule, and to this we are always ready to submit obedience—Portland Dispatch.

The whisky trust wants to be more heavily taxed. The whisky trust, like Joey Bagstock, is sly—devilish sly. Last winter when it seemed necessary to devise means for raising larger government revenues, an increase of the whisky tax was proposed. So far from opposing, the trust favored this suggestion. But it set all its distilleries at work to turn out as much whisky as possible and get it into bond before the new tax could go into effect. It now holds 8,000,000 gallons, and, last year's efforts having failed, trust agents are actively at work trying to induce congress this year to raise the tax. They will ask for an increase of $1.50 per gallon, but will be content with 50 cents per gallon. For, don't you see, the new tax would not be levied on the 8,000,000 gallons now in store, but only on future product. As price never interferes in any marked way with the consumption of whiskey, the future product can easily stand the new tax, while its imposition would add just so much to the selling price of stock on hand. An addition of 50 cents a gallon in the tax would put precisely $4,600,000 into the treasury of the trust. The trust would like to make it $5,000,000 by a dollar's increase, or $12,000,000 by an increase of $1.50.

Our protectionist friends say, put a high enough tariff on a thing, and instead of an increase of price of the corresponding thing made in this country resulting, as people ignorantly think, the price begins to go down for some mysterious reason; at the same time, the wages of the men engaged in its manufacture begin mysteriously to go up. And with lower prices for the product and higher wages for labor, the prosperity of the masters grows greater! It really does seem too good to be true, and we suspect it is!
