

THE NEW YORK RETURNS

Complete returns have not yet been received from all the counties of New York, but those at hand demonstrate clearly that the democratic ticket was defeated on Tuesday by the "stay at home" democrats. The returns indicate that the total vote cast on Tuesday will not exceed 930,000. The heaviest vote was for a judge of the court of appeals. Bartlett (rep) has probably polled 510,000 and Maynard 420,000, in round numbers of the total vote of 930,000. In 1892 the total vote for president was 1,366,515. Cleveland polled 654,868 of this number and Harrison 699,350. It will be seen, therefore, that while Bartlett, the republican candidate for the court of appeals judgeship, ran only 99,350 votes behind Harrison (estimating his vote at 510,000), Maynard fell short 234,868 of the votes cast for Cleveland. These figures tell the story of Tuesday's election in a nutshell. The democratic voters of the state could not bring themselves to vote for Maynard and they would not vote the republican ticket. They stayed at home, and in defeating Maynard they defeated the whole state ticket.

The falling off in the democratic vote was principally in the interior counties above the Harlem river. In New York city the average vote was about the same as that cast last fall. The total vote for president in 1892 in New York was 254,984. Cleveland polled 175,267, Harrison 98,967 and the prohibition, populist and social candidates combined, 10,750 votes. Cleveland's plurality over all was 65,556. On Tuesday the Tammany ticket was elected by average majorities of 65,000. Maynard ran behind the local ticket between 40,000 and 45,000 votes, however.

In Kings county the issue was fought out on popular lines and the contest did not partake of a partisan character. In the counties below the Harlem river—New York, Kings, Queens, Suffolk and Richmond—about 80,000 democrats stayed at home, so that in the counties above the Harlem river the republicans made their gains and the democrats lost through the nonvoting of the party workers.

The election in New York city has spurred the anti-snappers on to great activity and it is probable that an anti Tammany organization will be launched forth at once. The inability of Tammany to deliver its full quota of votes for Maynard has given the anti machine men great hope, and they say they will have an independent ticket in the field next year, both for Mayor and Governor and probably for congressmen.

NEW YORK'S REVELATIONS

The true and honest democrats of New York have no reason to be discouraged by the result of Tuesday's election. New York has experienced such waves of popular indignation before this. They are the people's protest against corrupt boss rule. They do not signify a change of political principle. New York went democratic in 1892 in the congressional campaign and on the tariff issue by a plurality of nearly 50,000. Last year on the same issue it gave to Mr Cleveland a plurality of 45,518.

New York is democratic on principle. It is against a machine that insults the intelligence and conscience of the people of the state. In 1880 and 1881 the state was republican, but Mr Arthur's administration was believed to have forced Secretary Folger's nomination for governor in 1882, and the state went democratic by 192,542. In 1883, however, the democratic head of the ticket, Maynard, was, as now, defeated on personal grounds. In 1884 Mr Cleveland received a plurality of little more than 1,047.

The state was becoming democratic on the tariff question, but very slowly, and the big majority of 1882 did not indicate the real political convictions of its people.

In 1888 the republicans carried the state for president and lost it for Governor, but the democratic party recovered it fully in 1889. Next year, if the democratic managers put their evil ways and their bad men behind them, nominate a good ticket and deserve well of their own party they will elect the governor and the majority of the congressional delegation.

This defeat means nothing to democracy. It means whole volumes to the bosses of both parties.

NO CHANGE IN SENTIMENT

When congress meets next month the democrats in that body should proceed at once to the fulfillment of the pledges made to the people in the democratic platform one year ago. Cleveland and the democratic members of congress were elected on that platform. The platform declared for tariff reform, for an honest dollar and for the expelling of fraudulent pensioners. While other declarations were embodied there were and are the principal ones. The people were opposed to tariff robbery then and they are opposed to it just as much today; they were opposed to a spurious currency then and they are opposed to it today; they were opposed to fraudulent pensions then and they are opposed to fraudulent pensions now. There has been no change in sentiment on these issues. The tidal wave of Tuesday was not a protest against the fulfillment of these pledges. Nor is it likely that it will be treated as an appeal for suspension of judgment by the men who are clothed with authority to act. The landslide of Tuesday is but a drop in the bucket compared with the avalanche of 1890, when a republican majority in congress was passionately wiped out of existence and a much larger democratic majority created. The democrats have only to discharge their obligations to drive the roots of the party deeper into the confidence of the people. The people have asked for relief from republican legislation. That relief has not as yet been given them. Let this be done and out of the gloom of today will rise a democratic victory that will wipe away every semblance of republicanism.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore, requires constitutional treatment. Hood's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J.
