

FOR TARIFF REFORM.

The result of the elections does not signify that the people have turned against wise tariff reform such as Mr. Cleveland, Mr. Carlisle and Mr. Wilson may be trusted to sanction.

The tariff question was made prominent in but two or three state elections, and in Ohio more than anywhere else. There the republicans appear to have succeeded in their trick of ascribing to impending tariff reform the hard times which followed as a logical consequence the discovery that the national treasury could not maintain and protect a safe gold reserve while purchasing 4,500,000 ounces of useless pig silver every month.

It would be a grave blunder in statesmanship to postpone or minimize tariff reform because McKinley, a collector of the silver purchasing act, has temporarily fooled the people of Ohio concerning the real cause of any existing hardship.

The way to cure this delusion is to make tariff reform a fact as soon as possible. In a political sense reform is more urgent now than before the elections. The people who have been deceived by crafty misrepresentations of the monopolists of tariff bounties can best be undeceived by actual experience of the advantages of living without a tax on nearly every article they have to purchase.

Democrats believe that constitutional taxation for revenue only, as a substitute for the republican protection of favored classes in levying tribute for their own profit upon all the people, will promote the common welfare. If they do not believe it they have asked for power to make such a change on false pretenses. If they do believe it, having been given the power expressly that they might make the change, they must make it or forever discredit it. If they are right the change cannot be effected too soon. Its operation will make conditions of prosperity and blessing against which the McKinley tribe of statesmen will rail in vain.

Ex-Speaker Reed says the democrats "dare not" reduce the tariff. They dare not fail to do it.

All the conditions are favorable for a change. The financial crisis has forced liquidation of inflated and speculative ventures of all kinds. We are as near the solid foundations of business as we often get. It is an ideal time for the readjustment of all old business and the beginning of business in adaptation to new conditions.

The repeal of the McKinley tariff, like the repeal of the Sherman silver purchasing law, is something to be done promptly. Business demands to know and has a right to know what it is to expect.

The full democratic membership of the ways and means committee has been called to meet today. The members of the committee had been favoring a provision for an income tax fee confident that the result of a series of conferences to begin tomorrow will prove that the majority of the committee favors such a plan. The iron ore and coal schedules will be discussed and the question of placing these articles on the free list will probably be settled in the affirmative. The tobacco, beer, and whiskey schedules are also expected to be considered, and there now appears to be little doubt that there will be a material increase in the tax on whiskey and other distillery outputs. The proportion of an increase of 45 cents a gallon on whiskey is now being informally discussed, and some mention the increase as high as sixty cents per gallon.

Great Joehillikins! What a racket the republicans are making because they carried an election or two in an "off year." However, as it has been some time since they carried anything they ought to be excused for their jubilation.—Eugene Guand.

During July there was exported from the United States 5,670,407 ounces silver bullion, and during August 3,118,447 ounces.

Smoking carriages for women have been placed on Russian railways from complaints that the non-smoking carriages were all tainted with cigarette smoke.

Since 1867 there have been exported from Cape Colony, South Africa, 50,000,000 carats of diamonds valued at about $350,000,000.

Both Morning and Evening Oregonians are much concerned about what the president will recommend to congress on the tariff question. The Evening edition says: "We have an idea the president will advocate free raw material, but will insist that the highest protection shall be given to the manufacturing monopolies." Now this idea being borrowed bodily by the Evening Oregonian from the Morning Oregonian the former should in all common honesty have given the latter credit. Men and brethren (brothers,) let us have fair dealing.

The editor of the Evening Oregonian (Telegram) is much concerned because he thinks Cleveland wants to restore Queen Liliuokalani, the nigger queen, to her throne of Hawaii. And yet this same editor wants to annex the nigger queen and her dominions to the United States. Metaphorically speaking he wants to embrace her. Verily there is no accounting for tastes among men.

Decent and intelligent democrats of New York and Chicago repudiated their party.—Salem Journal.

Sorry the decent and intelligent republicans of Iowa had not the moral sense to repudiate their party for putting up such a man as Jackson for governor who was far more objectionable than Maynard.

Sunday Welcome: Don't worry about the "extermination" of the democratic party. It has been exterminated a great many times before this disfigurement. Its principles of right and justice are all enduring. They cannot, will not, die.
